By R. E. NEALON

Mail Tribune Table Rock Correspondent

Mrs. Herschel Harper was here Monday and asked us to tack up a poster with the following message on it: "Get the facts, Smoking & Cancer, Sat., Sept. 29, 7 p.m. Care of Your Heart, Sun. Sept. 30, 7 p.m. Medford Armory, No Admission charge." This is a lecture with statistics and pictures showing the damage done to heart and lungs by tobacco smoke.

A few minutes after Mrs. Harper left, we picked up the M.T. and on the front page read these headlines: "Motel Explosion Burns Portland Man and Wife." The couple was sleeping in a motel and had left the gas burners on. The man getting up about 6 a.m. started to light a cigarette. The spark ignited the gas fumes which exploded, wrecking the interior and starting a fire, both occupants were taken to a hospital in serious condition suffering with first degree burns. The next morning a radio newscast told that a San Francisco man was in critical condition caused by an explosion in his apartment when he lit a cigarette.

While we are on cigarettes, we might mention that Mr. Clifford and wife and son Clinton were brief visitors here recently. Clifford recently got into a hassle with John Linn over smoking in restaurants, said he was not going to patronize a certain restaurant if they didn't put a stop to smoking at the tables. He was told that they couldn't let the minority tell the majority what to do. We agree with Clifford, it is the minority that pollute the air, and not the majority. Count them and see. If cigarette smoking continues to increase, we wonder if sometime in the future we won't be having "cigarette" anonymous clubs.

Narrow Escape

Frank Glen, a former Table Rock resident, was a brief visitor here Sunday. He told us that his son, Dennis, of the U.S. Air Force barely missed being on the tanker cargo airplane that recently crashed, killing all on board after a take-off from a station in South Dakota. Young Glen had a seat on the plane, but had to give it up to another officer that outranked him.

Visitors here from the State of Kansas are Bill Bishop and son Mark, who are visiting relatives and friends here, and in the valley. They expect to go on a deer hunt in eastern Oregon before returning to their home in Kansas. Other visitors from Kansas are Mr. and Mrs. Marion Rea on their return from the fair at Seattle. They are visiting with Mr. Rea's aunt at the Ed Taylor home.

Oscar Hedge of Seattle, is a visitor here with relatives and friends. Wednesday evening, pear picking at the Hull orchards was brought to a close. Modoc will be picking for some time yet, owing to the later maturing varieties grown there.

On a recent radio program we listened to a counselor talking and answering questions about matrimonial troubles. He was asked if fights in the home were not the cause of most separations. He replied: "Not necessarily, in fact a well-managed fight will strengthen the marriage ties." After reading the list of divorces in the court proceedings we wonder if these folks have neglected having fights or are not managing them right. We look at the long list of traffic violations and wonder why there can continue to be so many, then when we travel on the highway, and see so many drivers cutting corners, dodging in and out, speeding around curves, all driving like they were going to a fire, we wonder why there aren't more.

Charmed By Oregon

During this past spring and summer we have had visitors from many states, as far south as Georgia and as far east as New York, and of course many from California. All we have talked to are charmed with our state.

Two men drove into the yard recently and announced they were from California. We said, "Happy to meet you, welcome to God's country." They replied: "Brother, you have said a mouthful. Your blue sky (there wasn't any smoke that day), your scenery, crystal clear rivers and fertile soil make it seem like the garden of Eden. We love it. Would you sell us your farm or at least half of it?" These people have all been nice, pleasant people to talk to. As space is running out, we can only mention a few: One, Bob Cook, of an old pioneer family at Gold Hill, who is older than I, is a great help in writing old time happenings. Thought for the day — Pretty is, as pretty does.

Lone Pine Enrollment Increases by 41 Pupils

Lone Pine — Lone Pine enrollment has increased from 235 students last year to 276 this year. All grades have two rooms each, except the sixth. Mrs. Jeanette Thompson, who has taught the past five years at Shady Cove, has been hired to teach the extra fourth grade. Mrs. Dorothy Velush teaches the other room.

Due to the heavy enrollment, there are 41 fourth grade students, so this divides the section to 21 in one room, 20 in the other.

Officer Bob Allen from the Medford City police held an assembly at the school last Friday with grades 1-3. The meeting was held on discussion of bicycle safety, walking to and from school, safety on buses and being aware of the danger of talking to strangers and how to report such incidents.

Captain Clyde Fichtner held an afternoon assembly for the intermediate grades discussing the same issues with them.

Martin Holmes, from the department of motor vehicles in Salem, accompanied by Capt. Fichtner, will be at the school on Oct. 1 for an assembly with the intermediate grades. The purpose of the meeting will be to swear in safety patrol members for the 1962-63 year.
