World-Wide Communion Sunday will be observed at services Oct. 7 throughout Jackson county. Distinctive about the event is the special recognition of world-wide fellowship.

Inquiry Classes To Start Monday

Adults interested in investigating the teachings and practices of the Roman Catholic faith are invited to attend the latest series of inquiry classes scheduled to begin Monday, Oct. 8.

The Rev. John A. Ilg, assistant pastor at Sacred Heart church, will conduct the weekly sessions for a period of about 25 weeks. Classes are held in St. Mary's grade school, 11th and Ivy sts., and begin at 8 p.m.

According to Father Ilg, no one who registers for the course is obliged to attend all the classes or to make a commitment of any kind to the church. It is his hope that through this series of meetings, particularly during this ecumenical year, a better knowledge and understanding of the Catholic religion will be made possible for many living in the local area.

"A Catechism for Inquirers" by the Rev. Joseph I. Malloy, CSP, will be used as a guide and copies of the book may be obtained in class.

Father Ilg also pointed out that practicing members of the Catholic church are welcome to attend the meetings with their non-member friends and relatives.

Baptists Announce Coming Activities

"The Prayer Life of Our Lord" will be the subject of the morning message at the First Baptist church Sunday by the pastor, the Rev. Bernard E. Andrews.

The church has been observing a Prayer Emphasis month. Mrs. Don Platt will be soloist for the service. Myrna Wagner, Linda Scott and Virginia Gandt will sing a trio number.

First Baptist church meets in the auditorium of the Wilson school at Grand and Corona aves. The new church is under construction on Crater Lake ave. near Stevens st.

The hour for the Sunday evening activities is being changed this week. The family hour will meet at 6 p.m. There will be study groups for the young people and an adult training course in "Old Testament Survey."

At the 7 p.m. service the pastor will speak on "At the Feet of Jesus." Music for this service will include a violin solo by Mrs. Richard Morris and a vocal solo by Paul Andrews.
