Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A LECTURER who underestimates his audience is not worth listening to. I shall never forget a letter I received after I had spoken to a ladies' club—years ago—in Grand Rapids, Michigan. "Thank you for obviously putting your heart into your appearance here," it read, and continued, "I wonder if you knew that the dignified matron in the front row who asked you about the menace of comic books was once the shining star of the Folies Bergere in Paris (with course)? The lady next to her, with the ermine scarf, is an archaeologist who has worked and suffered in the most remote corners of the world. And behind them sat two maiden ladies who have contributed over five million dollars anonymously to charities, and a lady who almost broke the bank at Monte Carlo some years ago. Could an audience at Carnegie Hall top an array like that?"

Bill Weldon drove his secretary Corinne to a tennis match one blazing afternoon in Columbus. "I hope our seats aren't too far front," said Corinne. "It's too cold there." The puzzled Mr. Weldon asked, "Why do you think it's colder down front, Corinne?" She explained, "I'm sure I don't know, but it certainly was at the ice carnival in January!"

Two BLM Employees Presented Awards

Two additional employees from the Medford district of the bureau of land management were presented incentive awards recently for their superior performance of work during the past rating period, according to Donald J. Schofield, district manager.

Mrs. Berte P. Thurston and William E. McLaughlin, both of Medford, received outstanding performance ratings and were presented with certificates of superior performance.

A cash award of $300 was presented to McLaughlin, while a cash grant had been awarded to Mrs. Thurston two weeks ago.

A total of six employees have been given special recognition in the Medford district within recent weeks.

The awards are a result of recommendations by the district manager and the supervisors of the employees to the bureau of land management incentive awards committee in Portland.

The incentive award program is designed to promote greater interest, efficiency, and economy in government work.

Retirement Age People May Be Losing Benefits

Individuals in this area who are of retirement age and who have not yet made application for social security payments may be losing benefits, according to Edward B. Jacobson, district manager of the Medford social security office.

The loss of benefit payments is often a result of misunderstanding of the social security retirement test. Part of this test provides that, regardless of the total yearly earnings of a beneficiary, he can still receive his social security check for any calendar month in which he neither earns more than $100 as an employee nor works substantially in self-employment.

A good example of those who may be losing benefits is the school teacher, Jacobson said. Although the teacher might be paid wages of more than $100 each month of the year, he normally earns these wages only during the school months and could therefore receive benefits for the other months.

Since payments can be made for only 12 months preceding the month in which an application is filed, it is important that all persons of retirement age check with social security to be certain they are not losing any benefits to which they may be entitled, Jacobson said.

The office in Medford is at 1005 East Main st., in the Mall building, and is open from 8:30 to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Surface Rights of Claims Under Study

Portland — (UP) — A case on the surface rights of 90 mining claims on 1,800 acres along the Little North Fork of the Santiam River was being studied today.

The Department of Interior hearing ended Thursday after two days. Hearing officer Graydon Holt is expected to take two to six months to reach a decision.

A move by the U. S. Forest Service to take over the surface rights of mining claims holders.
