KU Frosh Take Tussle

Klamath Falls — Klamath Union high downed Crater 25 to 13 Saturday afternoon in a freshman grid tussle here.

The Comets of Crater made a fine comeback in the second half when they scored both their markers but the Pels' four touchdown first half lead was too much to overcome.

Klamath touchdowns twice in each of the first two quarters and Crater trailed once each in the third and fourth.

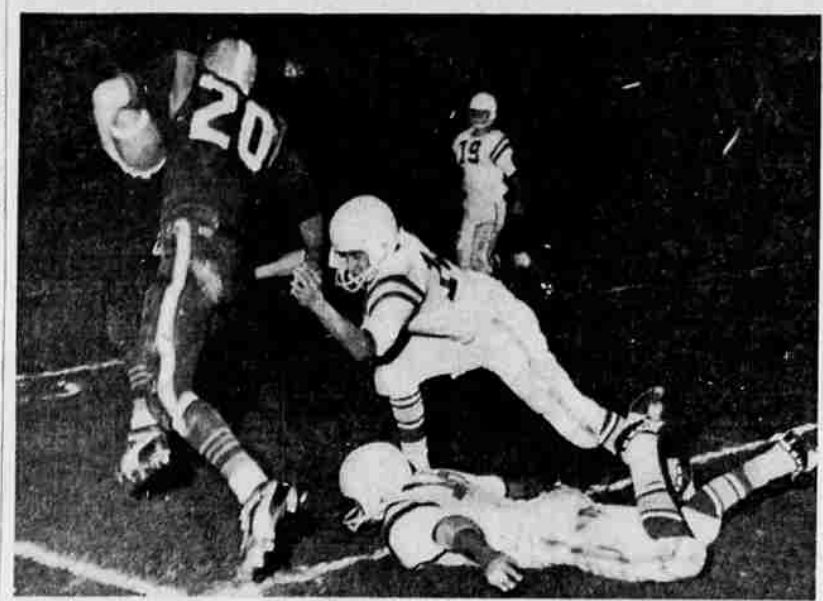

Mike Bender opened the pointmaking with a 45-yard jaunt on a double reverse and a pass got the extra marker. He then ran for the second

TD on a 70-yard punt return. Bob Williams sneaked two yards for a touchdown and Greg Scott slanted four yards for the other.

Joe Thomas went five yards for a Crater touchdown and Darrell Kiger ran the bonus. Then Kiger picked up a KP fumble and ran 75 yards to score.

Victoria, B.C.—The Portland Buckaroos, who open the Western Hockey league season against the Seals in San Francisco next week end, dropped a 3-2 exhibition game to the Seattle Totems Friday.

Medford Black Tornado Turns Back Saxons of South Salem

IMPORTANT PLAY — Jack Lowery (20) is shown on important play in Medford's push for its first touchdown against South Salem high in Friday night football game here. He has just picked up 16-yard gain on screen pass from Dan Miles. Just before this shot by Mail Tribune photographer Bob Vroman Lowery had kicked up chalk on South Salem 16-yard line. And, that's where officials called the ball dead. The Black Tornado had just had fourth down and eight to go on the 32. Lowery forced out of bounds again just after the photo was taken. Saxon player making the stop is identified as Wally Ogda. On ground is Don Sheldon and also shown is Salem's Gary Allen (19). Medford won 20-0.

Medford's Black Tornado averted early calamity here Friday night and whirled back to overcome the Saxons of South Salem high 20 to 0 in a prestige combat of Oregon prep football powers.

Magnificent defense stood up to the early minute challenge and Tornado offense clicked in the second and third periods as the No. 1 rated Medfords turned back the high ranked Capital city team.

South, which rated second, fourth and fifth in polls, endangered the Tornado goal line twice on first period pass interceptions. Those two bids were thwarted by the Medford Bandits and the Saxons were not again a real threat.

The Hurricane, itself, turned an interception into touchdown. It tallied off a Saxon fumble and virtually ground out its other score. Jack Lowery punched one-yard Dan Miles raced 26 and Mike Barnes ran 12 for the Medford markers and Miles booted two of three conversion tries.

Unscored Upon
Medford now will enter the Southern Oregon conference chase undefeated and untied—and unscored upon. It has won three games. South Salem was handed its first setback in four gridiron engagements.

"It was a good tough game and a good experience," said Medford head tutor Fred Spiegelberg about the Saxon joust. "I'm glad to get out of it." He added, "We learned a lot."

Grid Games On Monday
Two junior varsity football games are scheduled in this area Monday evening.

Grants Pass will play Medford here and Ashland will take on Crater at Central Point.

Both conflicts are set for 7 p.m.

The GP-Medford mix is the first of two between the clubs this season.

A Wednesday evening fracas will match the Crater Rockets and the St. Mary's reserves.

Outweighed Underdog Oregon State Shocks Stanford, 27-0

Stanford, Calif.—UP—Oregon State, instead of being pushed into the bay as expected, handed massive Stanford a 27-0 shocker Saturday behind the quarterbacking of Terry Baker who gained a total of 211 yards and scored two touchdowns.

Both of Baker's tallies came in the second period as the Beavers, outweighed an average of 37 pounds per man, put together touchdown marches of 80 and 91 yards.

A 14-yard pass from Gordon Queen to Len Frkelich accounted for the final Beaver score with 11 seconds to play.

Stanford went into the game a 615-point favorite after stunning Michigan State last week. But it was the Indians who were dazed this time by a valiant Beaver forward wall that looked like a bunch of middleweights taking on a heavyweight.

With Ross Cariga, a 189-pound guard, leading the way, Oregon State usually out-charged the Stanford line and messed up its passing attack.

Southpaw Baker gave Oregon State its first touchdown by sweeping left end from four yards out, then tacked on a two-point conversion.

Baker, who gained 169 yards passing and 42 rushing, next tallied from the one-yard line 16 seconds before the half ended to climax a 9-yard march. The Beavers had taken over after Allan Curr fumbled a pitchout from quarterback Steve Turlew on the Oregon State nine.

Stanford never quite got into the ball game, which was dominated throughout by a team which had bowed to the Indians last year 34-0 and took a 28-8 lacing from Iowa last Saturday.

The Indians' deepest penetration was to the nine-yard line in the first half and the closest they came to a score was during the second period when an attempted 45-yard field goal by Stan Lindsog struck the crossbar and fell back.

After Lindsog's field goal attempt failed, Oregon State took over on its 20 and went 80 yards for the first touchdown with a 34-yard pass from Baker to Vern Burke putting
