

TRIPLE PLAY MISSED—Tony Kubek of New York Yankees steps back on second base to avert a triple play in the first inning of today's World Series game in New York's Yankee Stadium. Taking the late throw is Jose Pagan, San Francisco Giant's second baseman. With runners on first and second, Tom Tresh lined to Giant pitcher Jack Sanford. Sanford threw to first for a double play, but the relay to second was too late to get Kubek. (UPI)

Tresh's Three-Run Homer Beats San Francisco, 5 to 3

New York — (UPI) — Rookie Tom Tresh crashed a three-run home run in the eighth inning today to give the New York Yankees a 5-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants and a three-game to two lead in the World Series.

Tresh's dramatic wall-off into the lower right field stands capped a sudden explosion that wrecked the Giants just when it seemed that San Francisco pitcher Jack Sanford was nearing a brilliant hurling effort.

Sanford, Whiffed 10

Sanford, who shut out the Yankees in the second game of the series last Friday, struck out 10 Yankees today and, until the eighth, the only runs he had given up were scored on a wild pitch in the fourth inning and a passed ball in the sixth.

In fact, Sanford had just struck out three straight batters, two of them in the seventh inning and one to start the eighth, when the roof fell in on him.

A crowd of 63,165 saw Tony Kubek open the winning rally by grounding a single into right field. Bobby Richardson followed with a single to left that moved Kubek to second and brought Tresh to the plate.

Tresh, a brilliant switch-hitting rookie whose father also played in the major leagues, then stunned the Giants with his three-run homer that sent Sanford into the showers and down to defeat.

The victory went to Ralph Terry, who pitched all the way for the Yankees and allowed eight hits. It was the first series victory of Terry's career after four defeats. Terry struck out seven Giants.

Jose Pagan scored the first two Giant runs. He singled in the third, took second on a sacrifice by Sanford, and came home on a double by Chuck Hiller. And then he rapped Terry for a home run in the fifth inning.

The Giants got another run

Special Opinion
Warns Prosecutors

Salem — (UPI) — The Oregon Supreme Court, voting 6-1, today affirmed the first degree murder conviction and death penalty of Larry West Shipley, 21, who shot a girl on the Oregon coast last year.

The majority opinion was written by Chief Justice William McAllister. Justice Kenneth O'Connell dissented.

Shipley was convicted in Lincoln county of the slaying of Linda Jean Stevens, 16, Willamina.

Unreasonable Delay

Shipley's attorneys contended there was an unreasonable delay in taking him before a magistrate after he was arrested. They said his admissions and confession during the 25-hour lag should have been excluded from evidence.

But Justice McAllister wrote that Shipley's statements were admissible, and their admission at the trial did not violate due process.

McAllister said the federal rule excluding such statements does not apply to the trial of criminal cases in state courts. Justice O'Connell's dissent said the Oregon high court should adopt the rule followed by the federal courts.

Special Opinion

Justice Alfred T. Goodwin wrote a special concurring opinion in which he sided with the majority, but he warned prosecutors to "carefully consider" statements made in O'Connell's dissent.

Shipley, of McMinnville, now has 20 days in which to ask the high court for a rehearing. If no request is made, the mandate will go to Lincoln County Circuit Judge Earl P. Conrad, who will set an execution date.

Two other persons are awaiting the outcome of appeals in their murder convictions and death sentences — Jeanne June Freeman, 21, and Richard B. Schwensen, 27. Miss Freeman has asked the court to rehear its decision affirming her sentence, and Schwensen's appeal has not yet been heard.

Harold R. Van Hoy and Roy O. Strickland are seeking reelection to the city council. Other council candidates are Lloyd C. Morrow Sr., Foy F. James and Orion A. Hammett.

Voters will elect a mayor, recorder-treasurer and three councilmen Nov. 6.

Grenfell Admits Concocted Story Of Kidnaping

Portland — (UPI) — State Sen. William A. Grenfell Jr. (D-Portland) today admitted he concocted a story that he had been kidnapped and pushed from a moving car early Tuesday.

Grenfell's attorney, William C. Hefferlin, released a statement admitting Grenfell was injured in an auto accident Monday night in which Harold A. Jones, 61, of Portland was killed.

The statement admitted Grenfell was returning from a Vancouver, Wash., restaurant in the company of Mrs. Natalie Crenshaw, 23, of Portland when the accident occurred. He was driving Mrs. Crenshaw's car, the statement said.

"He was obsessed with a strong desire to protect Mrs. Crenshaw from criticism although it must be emphasized their respective conduct was perfectly proper, and in his dazed condition, he made some remarks which were to become banner line news," the statement said.

Grenfell's wife, Kay, was in Bess Kaiser hospital where she had given birth last week to the couple's fourth child. Grenfell was taken to the same hospital with fractures of the pelvis, right hip and left collarbone.

Rogue Projects Hinge on Congressional Showdown

Washington — Authorization of the three new dams contemplated in the Rogue River basin project appeared Wednesday to depend on the outcome of a showdown between House and Senate leaders.

Lost Creek, Elk Creek and Applegate dam projects are all non-controversial items in the Omnibus Rivers and Harbors bill, having been approved by both Houses.

The showdown is over certain controversial items added to the bill by the Senate, such as Knowles dam in Montana which Montana Power company opposes.

Premier Renews Charges of U.S. Invasion Plans

Adlai Stevenson
Target of Diatribe

Miami — (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro told the Cuban people Tuesday night for the first time that Russian military "technicians" are stationed in their country.

In a speech broadcast by Radio Havana, Castro reiterated the familiar charge that the United States is preparing to invade Cuba. He said "it is for defense that we got these weapons and those technicians."

Castro's appearance at a mass meeting welcoming President Osvaldo Dorticos back from New York interrupted his negotiations with New York attorney James B. Donovan for the release of 1,113 captured Cuban invaders.

Donovan hoped the negotiations, which have been reported approaching a satisfactory conclusion, would be renewed today.

UN Ambassador Adlai Stevenson was a particular target of Castro's anti-American diatribe.

Stung by Response

Castro apparently was stung by Stevenson's response to a speech by Dorticos at the United Nations in which the Cuban president plugged the Castro line about U.S. "acts of war" against Cuba. Stevenson said the speech contained "unparalleled calumnies, slanders and misrepresentations."

The premier denounced Stevenson as a "cynic," and said he was "highly discredited at the United Nations."

Dorticos and his official party returned to shortage-plagued Cuba loaded down with bundles from U.S. department stores.

Bids Called for Talent Water Bonds

Talent — Bids on the purchase of $185,000 in bonds to finance improvement of Talent's water system will be opened at the Talent city council's Nov. 6 meeting, starting at 8 p.m.

Bonded indebtedness of up to $185,000 was authorized by the voters at a special election last August.

The project includes construction of facilities to take the city water supply out of Wagner creek. The present supply comes from wells.

Meeting last night, the Talent council voted to apply for a $10,000 loan to finance preliminary planning and engineering until the bonds are sold.

The council will seek to borrow the funds from the community facilities administration, a branch of the housing and financing agency, which provides funds for public works planning.

About 600 People Attend Candidates Fair at Auditorium

About 600 people braved the rain last night to attend the Candidates Fair at Medford High School where they heard brief speeches from 24 political office seekers, including a debate between Republican Carl Fisher and Democrat Robert Duncan, candidates for Congress from the fourth district.

The debate topic, "What Should Be the Role of the Federal Government?" allowed the candidates sufficient latitude to make some differences in their political philosophies clear to the audience, but the 15 minutes allotted to each man was too brief to permit a free swinging exchange of ideas and arguments between them.

Statement Interrupted

Fisher's opening 10-minute statement was interrupted by applause three times. His critical remarks about foreign aid, federal aid to education and the King-Anderson bill drew the biggest response from the audience.

Duncan was applauded during his rebuttal period when he argued in favor of a federal program of medical care for the aged under Social Security.

The Republican party in Jackson county was awarded a prize for having the most members present at the fair last night, which at the suggestion of Rep. Edwin R. Durno was dedicated to the memory of Clem Miller, congressman from California's first district who was killed in an airplane crash Sunday.

22 Candidates Speak

Prior to the debate, 22 candidates for county and state offices spoke briefly.

Gubernatorial Candidates Robert V. Thornton, Democrat, and Robert Wampler, Independent, both were critical of the Hatfield administration, and offered extensive programs of their own which they would attempt to institute if elected Nov. 6.

Pat Blair, Republican candidate for state labor commissioner, attacked administration of the apprenticeship program in Oregon, and argued in favor of establishing technical trade schools in the state's larger communities.

Supporters of Ski Area Set Meeting

Ashtand — An open meeting of supporters of a ski facility on Mt. Ashtand will be held in the Mark Anthony hotel here at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Any persons interested in the construction of the resort will be welcome. The meeting is sponsored by a committee which is studying the possibilities of local financing for such a ski area.

Officials of the Rogue River National Forest plan to attend to discuss plans for the road to the Mt. Ashtand ski area, for the area itself, and other ski areas such as Bachelor Butte, near Bend, which has been highly successful.
