AOI To Present Program of Events In City This Month

An interpretive "preview" of many crucial problems confronting Oregon's lawmakers — and affecting its citizens — during the next Legislative session will be featured at the luncheon meeting of the Medford Chamber of Commerce Roundtable Oct. 22.

Entitled "Will 1963 be the Turning Point?" the program will be presented by Associated Oregon Industries, according to David B. Lowry and Jerry McGrew, local AOI directors, of Associated Fruit Company and McGrew Brothers Sawmills, Inc., respectively. They will join two AOI staff members, General Manager Ivan Congleton and Legal Counsel Thomas C. Donaca, for AOI's annual Jackson county "area meeting" program.

The all-new program features more than three dozen colored slides, and will cover not only the various problems, but also AOI's proposed solutions. Areas of discussion include Oregon's estimated budget and revenue requirements for the coming biennium, including analyses of a sales tax, broad-based income tax, and a cigarette tax.

Other Subjects
Other subjects to be presented are problems in Unemployment Compensation and Workmen's Compensation, followed by AOI's suggested remedies.

Other important issues to be covered in AOI's Medford meeting will include the proposed Constitutional revision and "anti-strikebreaker" legislation. A portion of the program will be devoted to Ballot Measure No. 9, the Legislative Reapportionment proposal, which AOI has strongly endorsed.

Associated Oregon Industries is a statewide organization with more than 850 business, industrial and retail firms, large and small, whose combined employment totals more than one-third of Oregon's labor force.

The meeting is open to the public, and all interested persons are welcome to attend.

AOI will present a similar luncheon program Tuesday, Oct. 23, at the Medford Rotary club meeting.

EXHIBIT PRESENTED

Coryallis — 1979 — A permanent exhibit commemorating the role of public lands in setting up the land grant college system was presented to Oregon State University by Russell E. Getty, state director of the Bureau of Land Management.
