

Dr. Sampson Presides At Conference in Bend

Ashland-Dr. Bill A. Sampson, director of teacher education at Southern Oregon college, and state president of the Association for Student Teaching presided over sessions of the AST conference at Bend High school recently. "Let's Talk About Student Teaching" was the conference theme.

Dr. William O'Dell, Stanford university, was principal speaker. Dr. William Ward, director of teacher education, state department of education, presided Friday evening, and Mrs. Joy Hills Gubser, assistant superintendent of public instruction, state department of education, was guest speaker Friday evening.

Paul Horn Slates Concert at College

Ashland—Paul Horn, who has completed the filming of "The Story of a Jazz Musician" for Wolper productions, will present a concert with his band at 9 p.m. at Oct. 29 in the Southern Oregon college Britt ballroom.

Horn and his musicians have appeared on the Steve Allen show, produced a number of jazz albums including the recent "The Sound of Paul Horn" by Columbia, and have appeared nightly in Hollywood at the popular night club, Shelly's Manne Hole, where the screen actor, Tony Curtis, made a recent surprise appearance with the band as a flute player.

Townpeople, including high school students, are invited to attend the event.

Party Given for Rutter by Academy

A farewell party for Dr. and Mrs. Paul Rutter was held recently by the Medford Academy.

About 50 members and friends attended the dinner which marked the first annual banquet of the Academy. Dr. Rutter is moving to Colorado to take up his profession and has turned the academy over to Larry Nolte who holds the degree of black belt.

After the dinner Nolte spoke on the mythological origin of Judo and of Professor Okizaki, the founder of the American Judo Federation. Dr. Rutter reviewed the history of the Medford Judo academy and went briefly into an explanation of Judo itself. He described it as a sport which can be used in self-defense and can also be considered a gentle, peaceful form of exercise.

Following the talks promotions concluded the evening. Moving from white belt to blue belt were Bruce Wick, Dennis Schmalt, Sandy Heckert and Ron Jennings. Those promoted from blue to green belt were Darwin Moore, Leonard Woods, Tom Kennedy, Martha Humphrey, Diana Fletcher and Ron Seater.

Seattle Fair May Reach 10 Million

Seattle—UPI—The Seattle World Fair will approach or pass the 10 million attendance mark Sunday when it is officially closed by President Kennedy.

Kennedy will be on hand to press a telegraph key that will flash a signal to the Mariner satellite en route to Venus. The signal will return here, officially ending the space age exposition's six-month run.

So far, more than 9.7 million tickets have been sold, and if an average of 50,000 new tickets per day are sold, attendance will top 10 million.

The fair suffered little damage last Friday night when the Pacific storm closed it temporarily. An elevator in the space needle became stuck at the 200-foot level, but the two boys who operated it casually sat down on the floor and played gin rummy until workers climbed the stairs and let them out through an escape hatch.

Teen-Agers Nabbed By Grant Sheriff

John Day—UPI—Two teenagers from Ely, Minn., were being held here today following a high speed auto chase in Central Oregon.

In custody were Glen Mattson, 19, and a 16-year-old girl.

Grant County Sheriff Ray Brisbois said they were being held in connection with a burglary at a garage at Mt. Vernon near John Day. He said a cash register containing $75 in cash was taken from the garage.

Brisbois said the car chase began when the youngsters' car was spotted at John Day. He said the car was pursued by a city police car 13 miles east of Prairie City at speeds up to 110 miles per hour.

The youths were picked up at Austin Junction 30 miles east of John Day. Brisbois said their car broke down.

School News

CP Junior High

Mrs. Betty Lou Onstad's art class is experimenting with colors, studying some of the famous painters of Europe. Students study painters from the country being studied in social studies.

Earl Baerhart's eighth grade art class is making soap carvings, including figures of dogs, fish, ducks and devils. In Mr. Murphy's craft class students are making leather purses and belts. Mrs. Taylor's seventh grade girls are completing good grooming notebooks. They plan to make a babysitting booklet next.

In the library club, the books are divided into sections. Each person takes care of his or her group. Members of the club are assisting and helping younger students to find books. Mrs. Helen Caster said new books will be on the shelves a few at a time.

Library club members include Teresa Barnard, David Cavin, Philip Corcoran, John Gilham, Sue Hunter, Barbara Krueger, Duane Sturm, Verna Branson, Susan Bowling, Danny Carico, Sharon Edahl, Walter Englund, Elia Gunn, Linda Kirkendall, Roger Pielat, Rose Pitts and Brenda Scarborough.

The journalism club is working to publish a paper every other week. Any junior high student may contribute to the paper by writing the article in ink and submitting it to Mrs. Meyer in room 5.

Mr. Barnhart's social studies classes are studying Spanish, English and French explorers who discovered areas of America.

Lynn Jenkins' science classes are studying the forces and energy that make up environment. The next unit will deal with automation.

Language arts in the seventh grade, taught by Mrs. Ruth Broomfield and Mark Putnam, combine spelling, grammar, reading, social studies and current events. All of this is called a language arts block and coordinates all of the things students are doing in social studies.

Forty-three girls have turned out for pop club. At the first meeting they elected officers. They are: president, Michelle McAlvey; secretary, Louella Dewey; concession chairman, Marcia Holley; skit chairman, Jill Glines.

There will be a pop club meeting every Wednesday after school until the end of the football season. Meetings will resume during basketball.

The pep club will sell cold drinks and popcorn at the home games.

Crater High School

The Crater High school vocational agriculture advisory board met recently to reorganize and establish terms of office for members, and to elect a chairman, a vice chairman, and a secretary.

Purpose of the board is to offer advice on adult education and operational procedure for the regular day classes in the vocational agriculture program. The advice will be for the use of the school board, administrators, and vocational agriculture teachers of District 6.

Claude Ullom was elected chairman, Don Bohnert, vice chairman, and Darrell Shepherd, secretary. Chosen for three year terms were Roy Vogel, Claude Ullom, and Vern Gebhard. For two year terms Dalton Straus, Bert Caster, and Don Bohnert were selected. Those chosen for one year terms were John Jaksch, Jim Cornutt, and Elwood Abbott.

The Future Homemakers of America held a slumber party at Crater High school recently. Seventy girls and five chaperons attended the event. Sleeping space was provided in the gymnasium and the school cafeteria.

At a recent meeting of freshmen, girls elected to the yell squad are Carol Jackel, Karalee Canham, Sue Cornutt, Sue Cox, Christine Evans, Linda Parker, Bette Norris and Maggie Rowden. From this group 5 will be chosen as yell leaders, and when the class elections are held one will be chosen as yell queen.

Pictures of the senior class and seniors for the annual were taken recently.

Students of Eagle Point High school visited Crater High recently to hear the talks given by the teachers of the independent colleges.

CP Elementary

Central Point elementary school recently completed a campaign and election. Elected were Jeff Pinkham, student body president; Mike Johnson, vice president; and Miss Kristi Stevens, secretary. Safety chairman will be Kent Curtis; while Craig Riley will be sergeant at arms.

High point of the campaign was an assembly in which about 30 candidates for the offices spoke before the combined student body of approximately 500 boys and girls. Like their adult counterparts the candidates used musical entertainment, a sense of humor and campaign promises of a more efficient student government program to coax votes.

Campaign posters were placed throughout the buildings of the school and buttons with tricky slogans to keep the names of the candidates in the public eye were circulated.

Hanby School

Tom Kellogg has been elected student body president for the 1962-63 school year at Hanby school, 600 Hill. Others elected are Randy Turner, vice-president; Rebecca B. Anney, treasurer; and Sandra Jacobson, secretary.

Junior varsity yell leaders selected from the seventh grade were elected, as were varsity yell leaders from the eighth grade along with yell queens for each.

Successful candidates were sisters, Carol Washburn, varsity queen, and Patty Washburn, junior varsity queen. Carol is an eighth grader, Patty a seventh grader.

Yell leaders elected to work with Carol Washburn were Judy Fisher, Katherine Huston, Ruth Griggs, and Judy Wilson.

Junior varsity yell leaders who were elected to work with Patty Washburn are Betty Birdsong, Cheryl Hendrickson, Melba Lewis, and Carol Rosecrans. The yell squads are sponsored by Mrs. Mildred Black.

SOC Band Elects New Officers for Year

Ashland—The fifty-seven members of the Southern Oregon college band recently elected officers.

Elected were Harold Friend, Medford, president; Dave Osborn, North Bend, vice president; and Carol Kelsa, Lakeview, secretary-treasurer. As part of fall term activities, the band will participate in the Homecoming parade as well as half-time activities for the college Oct. 20.

Grange News

The Central Point Grange Booster Night will be observed Friday, Oct. 19. It will begin with a potluck dinner at 6:30 p.m. for Grangers and friends. Each family, attending is asked to take food and table service. Coffee and rolls will be furnished.

The Grange lecturer, Mrs. James Cornutt, is planning a program of interest and the National Masters speech will be read.

4-H News

The monthly meeting of the Trail Blazers 4-H club was held at the home of Mrs. Peterson on Thursday.

The meeting was called to order by the junior leader, Vicki Caldwell. There were no previous minutes available. The flag salute was led by Janet Olufsen, the 4-H pledge was led by Melinda Fluck.

The club elected new officers. They are Linda Corey, president; Pam Peterson, vice president; Jan Olufsen, secretary-treasurer; and Sharon Sutton, news reporter.

Five new members joined the club. They are Dan E. Corcoran, Philip Corcoran, David Hopkins, Roger Sutton and Bill Ullom.

Refreshments were furnished by Sandra Sutton and Mr. Peterson.

Homecoming Is Scheduled at SOC This Week End

Ashland—The "Swingin' 60's" is the theme for this week ends homecoming at Southern Oregon college. Loren Olson, Roseburg, is chairman of the event.

Homecoming queen will be announced at the variety show in Britt ballroom Friday night. Following the show, which will feature singing, dancing, and comedy routines, the traditional victory bonfire will be lighted on Fuller field.

Beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday will be a parade, featuring a number of floats from campus organizations and uniformed marching bands from Ashland High school, Southern Oregon college, Phoenix High school, Crater High school, Talent Junior High, and Grants Pass High school.

Alumni, students, and townspeople will see the SOC Red Raiders meet the Eastern Oregon college Mountaineers on the college football field beginning at 1:30 p.m. Prior to the game there will be a performance by the Crater High school band.

Half-time activities will include the formal presentation of the queen and her court and a performance by the Ashland High school band. Pamphlets welcoming alumni also will be dropped from an airplane during halftime.

After the football game, open house will be held at the dormitories and Britt Student Center.

Activities will close with the homecoming dance at 9 p.m. in Britt ballroom featuring two bands. Music will be provided by the Starlighters of Klamath Falls, and the SOC dance band under the direction of Glenn Matthews, assistant professor of music.

Employment Offices Open for Repairs

Oregon state employment offices in western Oregon were open last week end to help recruit workers for clean-up operations following Friday's storm.

David H. Cameron, department commissioner, Salem, said employment offices are now open to supply additional workers as well as specialists for roofing, carpentering, and other repair work.

He added that peak pickers are still needed in the Medford area and pear and apple pickers in the Hood River valley.

People interested in all types of work should contact the local employment office on North Oakdale ave. in Medford or for near picking work at either that office or the trailer office near the Medford armory.

Prospect Man Hurt When Loader Tips

Richard F. Schaffran, 26, of Red Bluff rd., Prospect, was treated at Sacred Heart hospital for injuries suffered yesterday afternoon when his mobile log loader went over a bank off Crater Lake highway.

State police said Schaffran was driving the loader near Shady Cove when he moved onto the highway shoulder and the loader gave way. The loader went down a 47-foot bank after knocking out a telephone pole. The loader is owned by Skagit Corporation, 2810 Crater Lake highway, Medford.

MRS. FDR IMPROVES

New York—UPI—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was reported in "good condition" today at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center, where she has been hospitalized since Sept. 26 with a lung infection. The former First Lady, 78, was "cheerful and active" Tuesday, reading some of the messages of encouragement she has received.

SOC Students Attend Federation Conference

Ashland—Eleven students from Southern Oregon college attended the annual Oregon Federation of Collegiate Leaders convention recently at Oregon College of Education.

The delegation was led by student body president, Bill Beber, Ashland, and included a majority of the student council members. Dale Truax, Ashland; Britt Student Union director, also attended as a special group discussion leader.

The OFCL acts as a workshop and clearinghouse for ideas in student government; gives student leaders an opportunity to sit down and discuss problems which are both common and unique to the various member schools; and affords members a channel for ideas on higher education to the legislative and executive leaders of the state.

Frank J. Alessio, junior pre-law student from San Jose, Calif., was elected treasurer. SOC will host the OFCL convention next year.

Those who attended the conference from Southern Oregon college were Duane Jarnagin, Ashland; Jim Susee, Ashland; Jim Long, Malin; Dennis Retter, Ashland; Dale Truax, Ashland; Rosie Patch, Medford; Bill Beber, Ashland; Frank Alessio, San Jose, Calif.; Joniela Smith, Cottage Grove; Coralee Miracle, Medford; and Sami Pritchard, Medford.
