

Committee of Experts To Study Lumber Problem

Ottawa - (UPI) - Canada and the United States agreed Wednesday to set up an expert committee to study the continuing problem of North American softwood lumber production and markets.

Eastern Linn County Trouble Spot for PP&L

Portland - (UPI) - A spokesman for Pacific Power & Light Co. said today the biggest trouble spot remaining for the utility as a result of last Friday's storm was in eastern Linn county.

He said some 200 men would be in the area tonight to repair storm damaged lines.

Repair crews were being pulled out of Portland and being sent to the Central Willamette Valley area where the most outages still exist. The firm said its coastal area customers were back on the line.

announced at the conclusion of two days of official talks on the lumber situation and, particularly, the current controversy over the effect of Canada's $250 million a year lumber exports to the United States on U.S. domestic production.

The same subject was debated last week before a U.S. Tariff Commission hearing in Washington.

The committee from the closed-door talks said the officials had covered "present and future problems" associated with the lumber industry.

"It was recognized that both countries have a mutual interest in a satisfactory resolution of problems facing the North American softwood lumber industries," the statement said.

To that end, the committee said, an ad hoc committee of expert officials would be established to provide continuing study of the situation. Among the subjects it could tackle, the statement added, were the effect of the recent West Coast storm on the lumber industry, long-term North American supply and demand for timber products, and wood utilization and market development.

Industry representatives from both sides of the border, who were here for the talks as standby consultants, would be brought into the new committee's work "in an appropriate manner," the committee added.

Chang was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment following his conviction on charges of helping to finance an attempted coup. The government then decided to offer him clemency, but Chang refused unless he was completely cleared of the charges. He was then ordered released on bail. (UPI)

JFK Ready To Put Cuban Policy Above Smooth Ties With Europe

Washington - (UPI) - President Kennedy prepared today to put his Cuban policy above considerations of smooth relations with Europe.

The President was ready to invoke executive powers to proclaim the most stringent controls in recent peacetime history against foreign shipping engaged in Soviet bloc trade with Cuba.

White House announcement of the order, which would in some cases close U.S. ports and in others deny U.S. Government cargoes to ships involved in this trade, originally was scheduled for today, but now may be delayed.

It appeared, in fact, that the order will not be issued until next week. Officials said "details" of the plan are being reviewed.

Though there have been no official protests from NATO maritime nations, European shipping associations and diplomats privately have strongly objected to the proposed order.

Norwegian shippers called it a "blacklist" similar to Egyptian President Nasser's closing of the Suez Canal to vessels trading with Israel.

Britain, Greece and Norway are the main European maritime nations who have been chartering ships to Russia by the Cuban trade. West Germany has ordered its ships not to go to Cuba.

In the United Nations, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson circulated a letter underscoring the defensive nature of the proposed controls.

The purpose of these measures is the defense of the hemisphere," the documents said in part. "These measures have no offensive purpose."

Stevenson noted that Cuba has stated its intention to overthrow other governments in this hemisphere.

The letter, circulated as an official General Assembly document, stated that the U.S. plan "is the most normal and indeed the least violent way in which we can express our strong disapproval of the threats and sword rattling emanating from Cuba."

Market Returns To Dull State as Issues Back, Fill

New York - (UPI) - The stock market returned to a dull state as issues backed and filled narrowly today.

The only features among the blue chips were the steels, most of which slipped minor fractions to new lows for the year. Even Lukens, which announced a cheap new specialty plate steel, sagged 3/4.

Bristol Myers rose 1, IBM gained 2, International Salt shed another point to a new low, and Universal Leaf in the tobacco and Upjohn in the drugs followed suit.

A favorable dividend action sent American Export Lines up a point. Marquette lost 1/4, leading cements downward in reaction to unfavorable comment in a leading financial daily. Polaroid climbed around 1/2 on a sharp earnings gain, and U.S. Smelting shaded 1 in the shadow of an investigation of recent violent fluctuations in the issue.
