Tornadoes Skirmish Pelicans In Friday Football Scuffle

A team which found out last week end how fired up determination can produce an upset triumph and an aggregation which came near being the victim of another team's desire lock in a football conflict here Friday night which is considered a key fracas in the Southern Oregon conference chase.

Medford's Black Tornado takes on the Pelicans of Klamath Union high. Kickoff is at 8 p.m.

Victor in this hassle will be favored to go on and take the title.

Klamath Falls soared up from an underdog role last Saturday to knock over the high-rated Cavemen of Grants Pass 12 to 9. On the night before the Tornado of Medford squeaked by Crater 7 to 0.

Medford Choice

Medford will enter Friday's ruckus as the favorite. The Black Tornado holds triumphs over two teams which defeated Klamath and bounced another common foe by a wider markin. Over Marshfield the Medfords were victors by 27 to 0 and over South Salem 20 to 0. These teams scored verdicts respectively of 25 to 7 and 27 to 7 over the Pels of Klamath Falls.

Against The Dalles the Tornado was winner by 27 to 0. Klamath tripped this same club 19 to 7.

Medford goes into the KF skirmish unbeaten, untied and unscored upon in four ventures on the field. Klamath will bring a record of two wins and three losses.

But, the Pelicans are a rejuvenated team and hope to catch the Tornado while on upsurge. After three losses the Pels launched their upswing at The Dalles. They rose higher with their victory over GP — one is not expected to lessen Pelican confidence for the trip to Medford.

Retribution

The Tornado will aim to begin a new winning streak against the Klamathites. Medford also will seek retribution. Last year the Pels fired up at Klamath Falls to nose the Tornado 7 to 6. This snapped a five-season Medford win string over KF teams. It was also Medford's only setback in 1961 in Oregon competition.

And, the KF verdict cost Medford a district playoff berth. The loop crown was shared three ways by KF, Medford and GP — and GP won the draw.

In girding for the fracas Medford's stalwarts worked on lots of defense yesterday but offense got attention, too.

Physical reports on the Black Tornado was better than a day ago. Halfback Jack Lowery, who on Monday suffered a bruise above the knee in drill, was better yesterday. He was in shorts jogging around but still limping. Tackle Gary Miller, who was hospitalized because of a knee infection, was due to return to the squad today. End Roy Shaw, who missed last week's game because of illness, rejoined the Tornado yesterday.

Enyart May Start

If Lowery is unable to start tomorrow, the left half call may go to Bill Enyart, 188-pound sophomore shifted from fullback. Larry Sander is expected to get the tackle call over Miller. Gibb Mitchell may start at defensive flank rather than Shaw.

For Klamath Falls, Mike Kitching is expected to be at right half again where he has filled in terrifically for Bud Wolter who has had an ankle injury. The left halfback, Grover Dahn, reportedly has had a carbuncle on his knee and the starting assignment might go to Ben Kern.

Center Holman was reported having x-rays — just what for it was not said — and heftier John Enright might have the pivot call. Guard Mike McKibbon, who has been out of action because of injury, might start in place of Jon Elliott.

Unofficial Stats

Unofficial statistics of Medford's four games to date show that the Black Tornado has outgained the opposition 1,141 yards to 465 in net scrimmage. Medford has made 774 yards on the ground and 367 in the air to figures 362 and 103 for rivals. First downs have favored the Hurricane 51 to 25.

Jack Lowery has been Medford's main ball packer with 268 yards in 62 carries. Frank Van Pelt is 117 yards for 25, Mike Barnes 108 for 27, Dan Miles 77 for 24, Tim Murran 58 for 14 and Mike Watkins 73 for 11.

Miles has completed 17 of 31 passes for 327 yards and Mike Neathamer four of 15 for 40. Lloyd Hammons has been the main receiver with nine catches for 198 yards. Lowery has caught four for 51 and Gibb Mitchell three for 55.

Probable lineups include:

KLAMATH FALLS OFFENSE—John English and Fred Kelly, ends; Joe Matlick and Kent Puckett, tackles; Mike McKibbon or Jon Elliott and Steve Campbell, guards; Bob Holman or John Enright, center; Rick Horn, quarterback; Grover Dahn or Ben Kern, left halfback; Mike Kitching, right half, and Bon Hitchcock, fullback.

Vienna—(UPI)—Welterweight champion Emile Griffith left a new synthetic boxing title behind him in Vienna today before flying back to the United States for an almost certain defense of his welter crown at Las Vegas, Nev., Dec. 8.

Griffith quickly abandoned the Austrian version of the new junior middleweight 154-pound world title that he won in Vienna Wednesday night by outpointing Teddy Wright of Detroit.

Only the Austrian Boxing association recognized the bout as for the recently created 154-pound crown. Recognition had been refused by the European Boxing union, British Boxing Board of Control and the World Boxing association with headquarters in the United States.

Ashland Takes Cross-Country

Ashland – Ashland's Gerald Brown led runners to the finish again as the Grizzlies defeated Rogue River 17 to 38 Tuesday in a cross-country race.

ORDING STILL DOUBTFUL

Eugene—(UPI)—Oregon's all-coast guard, Mickey Ording, still was listed today as a doubtful participant in Saturday's game with Air Force at Colorado Springs. Ording was injured last week end against Rice. Ron Jones, a junior from Salem, will move into the starting lineup if doctors rule against Ording. Line coach Jerry Frei was ecstatic over Jones' work after Ording was injured in the Rice game.

Eagle Point Preps for Rogue River

Eagle Point – Pass defense and offensive blocking have had attention of the Eagle Point high Eagles as they prep for their Friday night football date at Rogue River.

Conditioning and fundamentals also have had a part in tuning for the Rogue league outing.

Despite the fact that the Eagles were stormed out of a game last week end with Sacred Heart, Coach Vern Steward reported that they have been slowed down by bruises.

Action for veteran guard Ed Hanscom is doubtful because of a bruised knee. Halfback Bob Colpitts has a pulled muscle. Steward also reported veteran Bill Hoefft, end and tackle, sidelined indefinitely by illness. Back with the team, however, is guard and tackle Leonard Hanson, who has returned from a Future Farmers conclave at Kansas City, Mo.

Bid For Spots

While not listing them as possible starters, Steward reported that end Dennis Murphy, guard and tackle Morgan Miller and guard Merle Ford were bidding for defensive berths.

Possible line starters on defense are Larry DeHaven and Victor Eccleston, guards; Charles Pomeroy and Bob Bonner, tackles and Dave Blair and Bill Ayers, ends.

The offensive team may be Dennis Murphy and Pomeroy or Tim Palm or DeHaven, ends; Ford and Bonner, tackles; Eccleston and Blair, guards; Miller, center; John Linder or Dale Chamberlain, wing back; Pomeroy or Mike House or Linder, fullback; Bob Henderson, left half, and Bob Corlis blocking back.

Tebbetts, who still had a year to go on a two-year contract, quit the club after its worst finish here in 10 seasons to become manager of the Cleveland Indians under his old friend, Gabe Paul.

Bragan was given a one-year contract.

Society Brand puts the tailoring emphasis where it counts most

Your clothes never stop talking about you. And whenever people see you, it's the front-and-center of your suit that speaks loudest for you. That's why Society Brand places particular tailoring emphasis on this area. The benefits are unmistakable—to wearer and viewer alike.

1. The collar of your Society Brand suit hugs your neck gently, at the right height, and stays there.
2. The shoulders fit naturally. The smooth sleeve heads are the result of artful tailoring, not pressing alone.
3. The lapels roll gently in a graceful line from collar to buttons. The effect is soft, subtle, symmetrical.
4. The front, flat and flattering, is balanced to keep you in the center of your suit, no matter how you move!

Slip into a Society Brand suit. If you can't immediately see and feel the difference superior tailoring makes, it isn't worth the few extra dollars. Unlikely verdict, though. From 95.
