Hungry Ashlanders Meet Grants Pass

Ashland - Ashland high's football Grizzlies, getting hungrier and hungrier for a win but at the same time coming closer and closer, probably will have their toughest challenge of the season this evening.

They play the Grants Pass Cavemen at Grants Pass. It will be the Southern Oregon conference opener for the young Grizzlies.

Not only will the Bruins oppose one of Oregon's rated teams but they will run into a GP team which is ambitious to rebound after last Saturday's upset at the hands of Klamath Falls. Grants Pass is the favorite.

Coch Coach Marsh Jones, nevertheless, reports his Ashlanders showing fire and hustle although they've lost five games in a row.

Quarterback Howard Johnson and flanker back Roger Atherton have been sick this week. Jones in figuring that Johnson will be ready to go said that sophomore quarterback Dave Barger may play quite a bit. The mentor plans to start Dennis Ekwall at the flank.

Woods, Water, Wildlife

By Hank DeVoss

Pheasant hunters seemed to be in short supply on opening day of the season. There wasn't a great deal of shooting and pressure out on the management area was about half of what it is normally. Reports indicate that hunter success was the same as last year, although undoubtedly there are hunters in the county who would disagree with the reports.

WHAT'S NEXT The week end of Oct. 20 will find some 50,000 hunters in Oregon hoping for stormy weather to usher in the 1962 season on ducks and geese. To a waterfowl hunter fall storms mean that the birds will fly and the more severe the weather the better the shooting. The gunning season for most species of ducks and geese will extend through Jan. 2, 1963. However, the black brant season will not get under way until Dec. 1 and extend through Feb. 13, 1963, and the snipe season is scheduled from Oct. 27 through Nov. 25. Black brant are confined primarily to the coastal bays and inlets. As with last year, there will be no season on redhead and canvasback ducks.

HOW MANY Bag limit for ducks is set at 4 birds per day, 8 in possession. In addition to other bag and possession limits, gunners hunting in Baker, Gilliam, Malheur, Morrow, Sherman, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa and Wasco counties will be allowed 2 more mallards in the daily bag and 4 more mallards in possession.

The daily bag limit on geese is 3 per day, 6 in possession. The daily bag limit on geese may be increased to 6 birds per day providing 3 or more are snow geese. Black brant hunters will be allowed a daily bag and possession limit of 3 birds. Snipe hunters will be allowed 8 snipe per day or in possession. There will be no open season on Ross's geese.

READ IT Hunters are advised that a complete synopsis of the waterfowl regulations is available at all license agencies. Hunters are urged to check the regulations for prohibited hunting methods, possession and transportation of waterfowl, refuges and closures, and other rules pertaining to the hunt. GUNNER will also find in the synopsis shooting dates and other regulations for the public shooting areas. NO-GOODERS A band of anti-wilderness advocates in the House interior and insular affairs committee is responsible for blocking action on essential bills that would benefit the nation's wildlife, parks, and recreation programs. The anti-wilderness elite is reported to have prevented committee action on essential bills by staying away from committee meetings so that business could not be transacted on those items they oppose.

BLOCKED Congressional action was blocked on these major conservation bills: S. 3117 and H.R. 11165, which would give the new Bureau of Outdoor Recreation needed authority so that it can begin its vital work with the states in stimulating national planning for outdoor recreation.

S. 1988, which would give formal congressional recognition and protection to Tule Lake, Lower Klamath, and Upper Klamath Wildlife Refuges, three of the most important refuge units in the Pacific waterfowl flyway.

S. 77, which would establish the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical park along the Potomac river in Maryland.

H.R. 11172, to create a land conservation fund for the acquisition and development of key lands for outdoor recreation across the country.

S. 543, which would authorize a federal-state cooperative program for the study and designation of shoreline and coastal recreation areas.

H.R. 12528, which offers an entirely new concept for regional recreational park planning.

THE ANGLER'S LOG Despite all the damage done by the winds of last week, the rain has been the answer to the steelheader's wish — that a lot of fish hurry up and get up the river.

Klamath River—Reports say the river is still quite low at the mouth; it is suspected that the mud is coming from the Trinity River. Steelhead and salmon are piled up below Irongate dam and below the Trinity River bridge. The upper river in the Hornbrook area should provide good fishing for the next few months.

Rogue River—There are steelhead color from Savage Rapids on the lower river. The Bend and Ferry Hole areas are producing excellent catches on eggs, worms, and minnows.

Diamond Lake—Survived the blow, but there were many damaged boats and the report reports $8000 damage to cabins and facilities. Fishing has been excellent with all courses catching fish. Super-duppers are getting most of the business, but flies and flatfish are catching, here, there, and everywhere. The rain has been growing so fast the 12 inches weigh in at one pound. The roads are clear to the lake.

Fish Lake—Have seen too many fishermen. One report came out on a nice catch of brook trout that weighed a pound each.

Howard Prairie—The feud between the fish and the fishermen is so intense that some fishermen were trying to get on the lake during the storm of last week. FR&W, Balfish and Dies at the right time will find takers from 14 to 18 inches. Limits are a clutch. Willow Lake—Not many fishermen left but plenty of fish still available. The rain has been running 10 to 12 inches and the kokanee up to 19 inches.

THE OPTIMIST'S CORNER Undoubtedly there are local lumbermen rejoicing over the failure of congress to pass a wilderness bill. It must be an interesting point of view and be able to look at a tree and see nothing but dollar signs, but I'm glad I don't have it. GOOD LUCK!

Southern Oregon Raiders Open OCC Defense Against Mounties

Ashland - Southern Oregon college's football team will play host to a "much improved" Eastern Oregon college squad this Saturday on Fuller Field beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The encounter will mark the opening Oregon Collegiate conference game for the Raiders and will also mark the homecoming for the Southern Oregon crew.

Thus far in the season the Eastern Oregon squad has not fared well. The Mountaineers will come to Ashland with an 0-4 season record. In conference action the Mounts are 0-2. They dropped their initial encounter to Oregon Tech, 19-7, and the second conference contest to Portland State by a scant 2-0.

The Red Raiders will go into the contest sporting a 2-1 record with no conference action. Southern Oregon upset two California colleges in handing Chico State a 28-0 setback and downing Sacramento State, 21-7. Fumbles were the major cause of the Raider defeat at the hands of Lewis and Clark, 20-7. Last week the Raiders were idle. Tackled Better Raider chief Al Akins looks for a "real tough battle" with the boys from Eastern Oregon. The Mounts are sending a big line averaging around 200 pounds against the Raiders. Akins and assistant coach Bob Bennett went to LaGrande last week to scout the Mountaineer - Viking contest. Reports indicated that the Mounts "tackled better and harder than last year."

Last year Southern Oregon romped to a 39-0 win over the Mounties in a game played at LaGrande. However, this year the Raiders may not have such an easy time of containing the Mounts. Mountie mentor Arch Dunsmoor's crew has been steadily improving with every contest. Dunsmoor looks for a good effort from his squad and hopes to upset the high-flying Raiders.

In three contests this year Southern Oregon has scored 56 points. The Raider defense has held the opponents to a mere 27 points and a total of only 242 yards per game. Akins' touted offensive will chase, which last year gained around 330 yards per game has stalled this year and has managed only 274 yards per game.

RAIDER QUARTERBACK - Doug Olsen, above is quarterback of the Southern Oregon college Red Raider football team which opens its Oregon Collegiate conference slate on Saturday afternoon at Ashland against Eastern Oregon. He has completed 44 passes in 73 throws this season for 501 yards. Olsen captains the Raider offensive unit. - (Dean Freeman).
