

POSTER GIRL—Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony Celebrezze signs his name to an autograph dog owned by Lola Lucas, St. Louis, Mo., as the eight-year-old girl calls on him in Washington.

Riding the Coattails

Similarity of Candidates' Names Noted for Forthcoming Election

By DICK WEST

Washington (UPI)—Quite a lot can be learned about the current political climate simply by looking over the list of candidates for next month's congressional elections. During a quick scanning I spotted a John A. Kennedy running in Illinois, a Richard D. Kennedy in Ohio, and a John F. Kennedy in Rhode Island, not to mention an Edward M. Kennedy in Massachusetts.

Curiously, all of these Kennedys, except the one in Rhode Island, are Democrats. Curiously, too, there are no Kennedys presently in Congress.

It is therefore difficult to escape a conclusion that there is something about the name that has come to be regarded as politically advantageous.

All I know is that the President has been traveling about the country and that wherever he goes the Democratic candidates sing the following song:

"K is for kind words he said about us;

"E is for endor, ents that he gave;

"N's are for his nods of sweet approval;

"E is for elections he may save;

"D is for our districts that he spoke in;

"Y is for the yelling that we shared;

"Put them all together they spell coattails.

"A word that means we're running scared."

This sort of thing happens in the Republican party, too, as the list makes clear. In Hawaii, for instance, one of the GOP candidates is a Richard Sutton. Note that carefully.

The candidate's name is Richard but he doesn't use "Dick" for a nickname. He uses "Ike." This, of course, is not necessarily significant, even in California.

In Kansas, there is a candidate named Shriver, which also has a familiar ring. But since he is a Republican, I doubt he will try to take advantage of it.

In fact, if Shriver went in for name-dropping, I have a hunch he would drop his own.

The Ohio Kennedy, incidentally, is running against a Republican named Robert Taft. In California, there is, naturally, a Roosevelt. And in Texas, there is a Hoover.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

West

Kennedy

running in Illinois, a Richard D. Kennedy in Ohio, and a John F. Kennedy in Rhode Island, not to mention an Edward M. Kennedy in Massachusetts.

Curiously, all of these Kennedys, except the one in Rhode Island, are Democrats. Curiously, too, there are no Kennedys presently in Congress.

It is therefore difficult to escape a conclusion that there is something about the name that has come to be regarded as politically advantageous.

All I know is that the President has been traveling about the country and that wherever he goes the Democratic candidates sing the following song:

"K is for kind words he said about us;

"E is for endor, ents that he gave;

"N's are for his nods of sweet approval;

"E is for elections he may save;

"D is for our districts that he spoke in;

"Y is for the yelling that we shared;

"Put them all together they spell coattails.

"A word that means we're running scared."

This sort of thing happens in the Republican party, too, as the list makes clear. In Hawaii, for instance, one of the GOP candidates is a Richard Sutton. Note that carefully.

The candidate's name is Richard but he doesn't use "Dick" for a nickname. He uses "Ike." This, of course, is not necessarily significant, even in California.

In Kansas, there is a candidate named Shriver, which also has a familiar ring. But since he is a Republican, I doubt he will try to take advantage of it.

In fact, if Shriver went in for name-dropping, I have a hunch he would drop his own.

The Ohio Kennedy, incidentally, is running against a Republican named Robert Taft. In California, there is, naturally, a Roosevelt. And in Texas, there is a Hoover.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

West

Kennedy

running in Illinois, a Richard D. Kennedy in Ohio, and a John F. Kennedy in Rhode Island, not to mention an Edward M. Kennedy in Massachusetts.

Curiously, all of these Kennedys, except the one in Rhode Island, are Democrats. Curiously, too, there are no Kennedys presently in Congress.

It is therefore difficult to escape a conclusion that there is something about the name that has come to be regarded as politically advantageous.

All I know is that the President has been traveling about the country and that wherever he goes the Democratic candidates sing the following song:

"K is for kind words he said about us;

"E is for endor, ents that he gave;

"N's are for his nods of sweet approval;

"E is for elections he may save;

"D is for our districts that he spoke in;

"Y is for the yelling that we shared;

"Put them all together they spell coattails.

"A word that means we're running scared."

This sort of thing happens in the Republican party, too, as the list makes clear. In Hawaii, for instance, one of the GOP candidates is a Richard Sutton. Note that carefully.

The candidate's name is Richard but he doesn't use "Dick" for a nickname. He uses "Ike." This, of course, is not necessarily significant, even in California.

In Kansas, there is a candidate named Shriver, which also has a familiar ring. But since he is a Republican, I doubt he will try to take advantage of it.

In fact, if Shriver went in for name-dropping, I have a hunch he would drop his own.

The Ohio Kennedy, incidentally, is running against a Republican named Robert Taft. In California, there is, naturally, a Roosevelt. And in Texas, there is a Hoover.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

My only regret is that the second district Democratic candidate in Minnesota isn't running against the Democratic candidate at large in Maryland. Then we would have had Hammar against Sickles.

Saturday & Sunday
Oct. 20 & 21

The Red Carpet's Out To Welcome All
Our Friends - Old and New - Come See Us!

Free Refreshments

Ken Callison has had wide experience in the real estate field. He has owned and operated a cattle ranch in the Applegate Valley, and has kept up to date on the latest agricultural practices, and livestock management. He knows the value of land, and understands many complicated phases of water rights which are very important in this area. Ken also through personal experience is well versed in the value of City property, and knows proper construction, building codes, and the best use of land through 10 years of experience in real estate locally.

HOMES • RANCHES • INVESTMENT PROPERTY

CONGRATULATIONS KEN

Sign by:

ALLIED NEON SIGN CO.

1242 N. CENTRAL

773-3189

CONGRATULATIONS KEN

Paving by:

CHARLES BENNETT

820 Marshall Ave. - 772-2511

MEDFORD CONCRETE CO.

1320 North Riverside - 772-6469

CONGRATULATIONS KEN

Roofing & Insulation by:

COMMERCIAL-HOME INSULATION CO.

3915 S. PACIFIC HIGHWAY

535-1121

CONGRATULATIONS KEN

Heating by:

TAYLOR SHEET METAL

837 S. RIVERSIDE

772-6341

Ken Callison

REAL ESTATE

519 South Riverside

MEMBER OF MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE

Mr. Callison purchased the site 2 years ago, and has done some careful planning as to what the "Space Age" real estate office should be. The customer is "King" and all his comfort and convenience are of the utmost importance at Callison's. The office is located on Riverside a few blocks off of the Barnett Rd. interchange, right on the path of the California traffic. Ample-free-paved-off street parking is provided. The customer is attracted by the large "Reader Board Sign" which advertises an outstanding property, also he can drive in and view photos of many listings from a showcase on the outside of the building which is lighted at night. The interior of the office is air conditioned for year around comfort. A casual conference room is the-Popularity Center-of the office, where a hot or cold drink, awaits the customer.

Phone:

773-2970

Dorothy Ricks

Dorothy Ricks became associated with the firm about 2 months ago. Many Realtors are realizing that there is a definite place for women in real estate. The female half of house hunting families like to get help in their search from a member of their sex who, naturally, has the women's point of view. Dorothy is the mother of two teen agers, and knows from practical experience what a family requires in a home.

Earle Settle

Mr. Earle Settle represents the firm in the Applegate Valley. He is the owner of the Applegate Shopping Center, which he, and his family have operated for many years. Since son, Jim, has graduated from college, he has taken over many chores from Earle so that his father can devote much of his time to the real estate business. Earle knows the Applegate, and has been very successful in helping many newcomers to the area locate out there.

PRESCRIPTIONS!

Day or Night

For quick, convenient service, use window at the Grape St. entrance. At West Main your prescription is filled "UP to a standard—out 'Walk-Up' NOT down to a price."

Your Headquarters for: • Greeting Cards • Gifts • Cosmetics • Party & Wedding Supplies • Veterinarian Supplies

Your Charge Account Invited

West Main Pharmacy

135 W. Main at Grape — Ph. 772-2330

Brigham Young Tops In Judging at PI

Portland (UPI)—Brigham Young university won the third annual Intercollegiate Meat Judging contest at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition.

The Utah school scored 2,537 points of a possible 3,000. Runnerup team was Fresno State college with 2,524. Third place was taken by University of Idaho with 2,519.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) won all the championship ribbons in the Devon class.

The grand champion Hereford steer, entered by Joe Monahan, 17, Coodon, sold for $2,193 or $2.23 a pound.

TEMPORARY OFFICES

Portland (UPI)—The office of Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) said Thursday the Small Business Administration has set up temporary offices