

October Events Flower Show Theme

The Medford Garden club held their annual flower show Wednesday and Thursday, October 17 and 18 at the Extension auditorium, 1301 Maple Park drive, Medford.

The standard show, "October Kapers," featured fall flowers and a rustic arrangement based on October events with Halloween as principal feature.

In spite of inclement weather with rain, wind, and frost the entries in both horticulture and artistic divisions was good.

Among the prize winning arrangements was one featuring a large black cat, cerise colored dahlias and gladioli foliage in a black bowl placed on a cerise colored mat.

Another reflected colors of a printed design in a piece of cotton material. A gold colored basket was used with lavender chrysanthemums and ivy.

A crescent design was made with brown chrysanthemums arranged in a brown pitcher. Purple kale and purple dahlias were featured in an oriental design. "October Memories" was an old fashioned bouquet made of many varieties of flowers found in the arranger's yard. Numerous entries were made in a class using pumpkins for a container or accessory.

Other Designs
The winning design was an arrangement of bronze chrysanthemums, straw colored dock and string bean leaves arranged in a pumpkin on a black base. Another was a pumpkin made to resemble a man's head. The hair was of artichoke down, the eyes of blue ageratum, the eyebrows were heads of wheat, and the mustache was a small chrysanthemum, the nose and ears were made of pieces of pumpkin. Though it did not win a prize it was a conversation piece.

The Columbus day design using beach materials with fresh plants was made with lavender colored sea fans combined with an arrangement of small lavender chrysanthemums.

The "Golden Harvest" class was divided into separate classes for ease of judging. The arrangement using vegetables was made of cut corn stalk, yellow dahlias with a red center, peppers the same color as the dahlias, and string bean leaves. The arrangement using fruit in this class was made of purple colored leaves, purple flowers and grapes. A straw camel was the container.

The Halloween luncheon table arrangement for garden clubs was a black and white design of chrysanthemums, dahlias and a manzanita limb sprayed white on which hung small trick or treat packages. The free standing design for clubs other than garden clubs was an arrangement of chrysanthemums with a bird figurine.

Pamphlets
Mrs. L. P. Rentschler, show chairman, arranged a display of pamphlets on planting, pruning and care of plants suited to this area, issued by the Extension service, for the educational exhibit. Litter and trash found along our highways was hung on a bulletin board with amusing pictures and captions for the litterbug display.

Mrs. Ira Fitzgerald, club president, had charge of the staging, which featured a tall black cat sitting beside three pumpkins stacked on top of each other with an arrangement of cat-tails, autumn leaves, berries and flowers in the top pumpkin; a cantaloupe, peach, popcorn and orange berries were arranged at the base.

William Macy and Greg Yamada from the Crater greenhouse created a Japanese garden in one corner of the auditorium. It featured a walk of sawed logs.

Tea Table
Mrs. C. L. Miller, decorated the tea table with an arrangement of fruit and autumn leaves. She used a green colored squash as the container with two small squash as candle holders on a yellow table cloth.

Pouring tea were Mrs. O. V. Poe, Siskiyou district director; Mrs. Charles Long, Mrs. B. L. Lockwood, and Mrs. Clarence S. Barrett, Talent; Mrs. Dale Hoover, Ashland; Mrs. Wallace West, Mrs. L. C. Gorden, Mrs. R. D. Kay, Central Point; Mrs. Delbert Spain, Shady Cove; Mrs. Ted Flury, Eagle Point; Mrs. Paul Godward, Mrs. A. G. Motschenbacher, Jacksonville; Mrs. R. Duck hunting season opened in Oregon on October 20 and for most species will continue through January 2, 1963. Many housewives now are confronted with roasting the fowl which their husbands, sons or brothers have bagged. Duck With Raisin Apple stuffing is both timely and tasty and can be used for domestic fowl as well.

Roast Duck Recipe Is Timely, Tasty

With the opening of the duck hunting season in Oregon on October 20 many housewives are confronted with roasting the fowl which their husbands, sons or brothers have bagged.

This recipe for Duck With Raisin Apple Stuffing is both timely and tasty, and need not be reserved for game ducks but can be used for domestic ones just as well.

Tangy, taste surprising raisins, tart apple and nippy ginger join to make a flavorful stuffing.

The secret of preparing the duck so the skin will be crisp and delicious is to prick the skin and start the roasting in a very hot oven. This way the fat can drain off rather than soak into the stuffing.

Baste occasionally with wine and pineapple juice to add even more tantalizing flavor. The accompanying gravy is accented with wine and chopped raisins. Garnish the handsome offering with spicy crab apples.

DUCK WITH RAISIN APPLE STUFFING
One duck (4 to 5 lbs.); raisin apple stuffing; one-half teaspoon seasoned salt; one-half teaspoon paprika; one teaspoon ginger; one cup pineapple juice; one-half cup dry sherry; raisin gilet gravy.

Remove neck and giblets from duck. Place in small saucepan, cover with cold water; add salt and pepper to taste, cover tightly and simmer until tender while preparing duck. Fill body and neck cavity with raisin apple stuffing. Skewer openings and truss for roasting. Prick fatty areas of duck with tines of fork. Mix salt, paprika and ginger together and rub over duck.

Place duck, breast up, in roasting pan in very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for one-half hour. Drain and discard all fat in pan. Turn duck, lower heat to moderately hot (375 degrees F.) and roast one-half hour. Baste now and then with pineapple juice mixed with wine. Turn duck breast up and continue roasting until done, about 50 to 60 minutes longer, or just until tender, basting with pineapple juice-sherry mixture.

Remove duck to hot platter and keep warm while making gravy. Makes four servings.

RAISIN APPLE STUFFING

Combine one-half cup dark or golden raisins, one-half cup each chopped celery and onion, two cups chopped apple, one teaspoon seasoned salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper and one-half teaspoon dried dill.

RAISIN GIBLET GRAVY

Drain all drippings from pan in which duck was roasted. Discard all but two tablespoons of fat. Blend two tablespoons fat, one and one-half to two cups broth from cooking giblets (or, chicken or beef broth), two tablespoons dry sherry, one and one-half to two tablespoons cornstarch and salt to taste. Simmer until clear and thickened. Add one-fourth cup chopped dark or golden raisins and heat a few minutes longer.

Shasta Valley Farm Women Hold Meeting

Montague - Mrs. Norman Baguley of Grenada entertained the Shasta Valley Farm bureau women October 15.

Mrs. Roy Townley, vice president, conducted the business session. The group decided to purchase 10 records on the Constitution and patriotism for public school use.

Mrs. George Fiack, county chairman for the women, will attend the state convention of Farm Bureau in San Diego, Nov. 11 to 15. Mrs. Baguley and Mrs. Carl Rice will make cookies for the reception there. The Farm Bureau health plan, which is available to all paid-up members as of September 1, 1962, and a resolution from Trinity county on the use of funds of the Women's groups were discussed. Refreshments were served.

Bazaar, Luncheon Planned at Yreka

Yreka - The annual bazaar and merchant lunch given by the Yreka Methodist church was discussed at a meeting of the Lydia Circle October 17 in the home of Mrs. John Cummings, 662 North street. Members were asked to donate aprons, candy and food.

Brunch was served at the meeting and Mrs. Robert Buckner, spiritual life chairman had charge of devotions on missions.

Mrs. Ronald Wilson, president, presided. A week of prayer and self-denial to be conducted at the church October 25 through 31, was discussed at the meeting.

The next session will be held November 20 in the Wilkens home on Collier boulevard.
