

Nobel Winner Objects To Kennedy's Decision

Pasadena, Calif. — (UPI) — Dr. Linus Pauling, 1954 Nobel prize winner in chemistry, wired a strenuous objection to President Kennedy Monday night, deprecating his "war-like act" in the Cuban situation.

The California Institute of Technology scientist, who has been known for his campaigns against nuclear testing, told the President his announced policy toward Cuba "can only be described as an act of the utmost irresponsibility."

Flemming Is Author of Article Noting Physical Fitness Need

Eugene—A magazine article by University of Oregon President Arthur S. Flemming concerning physical fitness of youth points up the necessity for physical fitness programs in high schools, according to Dr. H. Harrison Clarke, research professor of physical education at the university.

Dr. Clarke was recently appointed a professional projects consultant to President Kennedy's Council on Youth Fitness.

President Flemming's article on physical fitness appears in the October issue of Good Housekeeping magazine. Dr. Clarke said President Flemming's article should be read carefully in Oregon because in recent years physical education has not been required in the 11th and 12th grades in Oregon high schools.

Freshmen Tested

In the fall of 1961, Dr. Clarke said, all University of Oregon and Oregon State university entering freshmen were tested with standard physical fitness tests. Of those who graduated from Oregon high schools the preceding June, contrasts were made between those who participated and those who did not participate in physical education in the junior and senior years, he said.

Dr. Clarke listed the results as:

1. Averages for both men and women who did not have physical education in the 11th and 12th grades in high school were exceptionally low. They were far below the averages of those who had

County May Heat Beekman Home

County Commissioner Chester Wendt indicated yesterday the Jackson county court would help finance installation of a heating unit in the C. C. Beekman house and apply for renewal of the lease for four years.

Wendt said the county court understood the Siskiyou Pioneer Sites Foundation would obtain donations for installation of a heating unit.

The Sites Foundation is acting as custodial agency for the Beekman home. The county has leased the home from its owner, the University of Oregon, for one year ending July 1, 1963.

Both Wendt and County Judge Earl M. Miller noted that "public response to the home has been good."

Since it opened on Memorial Day, 5,508 paid admissions were received at the house and total receipts were $2,274.15. The house has been self-supporting by paying for all expenses including lights and water and the salaries of the two adults and five young women of Jacksonville who conduct tours through the home, the Sites Foundation noted.

Fate of Prisoners Hinges on Showdown

New York—UPI—The fate of 1,113 Cubans imprisoned in their homeland almost certainly hinges on the outcome of the Russian-American showdown created by President Kennedy's quarantine on shipments of offensive weapons to Cuba.

HEART TOLL RISES

Salem—UPI—The number of persons who died of heart attacks in connection with Oregon's big Columbus Day storm has risen to 10.

participated in physical education during these years.

2. The non-participants scored well below the averages established for the tests as based on norms.

3. Boys who did not have physical education in the 11th and 12th grades and who did not participate in interscholastic athletics had an average of 86 on a physical fitness index, which is "one of the lowest averages for any group I have ever seen," Dr. Clarke said.

Quotes Dr. Esslinger

President Flemming's article quotes Dr. Arthur A. Esslinger, dean of the university's school of health, physical education and recreation, as saying, "We have overwhelming proof that the action whereby the requirement in grades 11 and 12 was left to local school districts has been to the detriment of our boys and girls physically."

Pear Shippers Bid In Lunch Program

Medford area pear shippers and growers submitted bids on pears for the school lunch program to the federal government Monday afternoon.

A spokesman said they hope to hear by Saturday if their bids are acceptable. Due to government regulations, they are unable to disclose the price they submitted or the number of carloads of pears which would come under the United States Department of Agriculture surplus foods program.

The Rogue Valley Marketing Association, which represents local pear shippers, first met on the proposal Friday afternoon. They met again yesterday to make a final decision and work out the details of the bid.

Meanwhile, several packing houses were completing packing operations last night or today except for some gift pack operations. Many orchards have completed picking; others hope to complete the harvest this week.

before they join the "physical education is a waste of time" club, President Flemming wrote.

Dr. Clarke pointed out that in the spring of 1961 all boys and girls in the Coos Bay public schools from the fourth grade through high school were tested for physical fitness, and that averages for those in the 11th and 12th grades were much lower than for any other grades in the school system, and were especially low as related to Oregon state norms. In Coos Bay physical education classes are now scheduled for pupils in the 11th and 12th grades.

Superior In Fitness

Dr. Clarke also described a University of Oregon study which showed that 12-year-old boys in Eugene who had participated in good elementary school physical education programs had pronounced superiority on physical fitness tests compared to those who participated in poor programs.

He also described a research project under his direction in the Medford public schools which tested boys annually at each age from nine to 15 years old.

"These boys had generally high fitness scores, well above the national averages," Dr. Clarke said. "I believe these programs in the Medford school system over a period of large part due to the presence of years."
