

60 PP&L Crews Now Back in Home Area

The more than 60 Pacific Power and Light company line crews and servicemen who were moved from southern Oregon and the Yreka, Calif., area into the Willamette valley last week to help restore electric power services to the storm battered PP and L system, are back to their regular jobs in the Copco division this week, according to local company officials.

Pacific Power president Don R. McClung, reported in Portland the men helped restore services to Cottage Grove, Springfield and Albany customers several days earlier than would otherwise have been possible.

More than 40 of the Copco division workers were from Medford and the remaining 20 or so from Klamath Falls, Grants Pass and Yreka. They were among the 300 Pacific Power workers drawn into the area from the company's operating districts in eastern Oregon and Washington, Montana and Wyoming and northern California.

Travel Talk Given At VA Domiciliary

The second of the winter series of Travel Talks at the Veterans Administration Domiciliary sponsored by the American Red Cross was presented Monday by Mrs. Julius Lusky, Central Point.

The topic, Panama Canal Zone, is one which the speaker knows well. She lived there for 17 years with her husband, who is now retired from the Merchant Marines, and her two sons.

The slides took the audience on a trip through the locks and along the canal showing the methods of moving the ships from one ocean to the other, and Mrs. Lusky related Captain Lusky's experiences in these operations.

Members participated in discussions of various technical points and observations on the Panamanians, the animals and flowers.

Cookies and coffee were served. Mrs. Leatha Jones, Gold Hill, the new chairman, Travel Talks Programs, poured.

The third Travelogue will be given Nov. 19.

Diefenbaker, Cabinet Review Cuban Policy

Ottawa—Prime Minister John Diefenbaker met Tuesday with his cabinet for more than two hours for a critical review of its Cuban policy following the U.S. disclosure of a massive arms build-up in the Caribbean island.
