CARPET FACTS!

by Bill Laurine

At the present time there is an enormous amount of confusion in buying carpet both for the average retailer and consumer. Let's first take the most "asked" question of all, by almost every woman that enters my store, "Mr. Laurine will you kindly tell me which is better, Nylon or Wool?" Lady, there is a question! I have studied carpet diligently for 12 years and try to answer this question in the next 2 minutes is almost impossible, but let's give it a whirl.

Answer: When buying carpet, regardless of deals, discounts, or sales, you are only buying one thing, the amount (weight) and quality of yarn per square yard in your carpet, that goes for wool, nylon, Acrilan, Orlon, cotton or any other fiber (if there's loads of them). Only by experience can the layman use accurate judgment in determining weight of yarn and quality of yarn used in rugs and carpet. So you must rely on your dealer to tell you carpet that will fit your needs! Wool can be purchased from $3.00 per yd. to $50 a yd. Good wool will range from $8.25 a yd. up. Good nylon or other synthetics $9.95 a yd. up. Even then you must ask your dealer "will this continuous filament nylon pill, fuzz, crush, or beard?" We have all read and heard much about continuous filament nylon. This is a wonderful yard but beware there are many different qualities in Continuous filament nylon. Every company makes several qualities. All continuous filament yarn goes through what is known as a blooming process. This is a process that takes a regular piece of continuous filament nylon yarn and blooms it, fluffs it or pops it larger like popcorn. To explain further, let's take a regular sq. yd. of continuous filament nylon. This is a wonderful yard but beware there are many different qualities in Continuous filament nylon. Wedding Of Interest In Valley

News of interest in the valley is the marriage of Miss Jo Dell Victoria Hertager, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hertager, former Medford residents now of Mission Village, San Diego, Calif., and Roger Pharron Neel.

The ceremony was read October 12 in San Diego in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Neel, also of Mission Village, San Diego.

The bride was active in Medford High school groups and was a majorette with the McLoughlin school band and the High school band.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor length gown of white lace over satin with chapel train. A crown of seed pearls held her fingertip length veil. She carried a white Bible and a white orchid.

Miss Stephanie Hertager was maid of honor for her sister. She wore a dress of pink chiffon and carried pink and white carnations.

Best man was William Williams.

The reception was held in the church hall. Miss Pamela Hertager, another sister of the bride, and Mrs. E. S. Hartley had charge of the guest book. Serving the wedding cake, made by the bride's mother, were Mrs. Joseph E. Mullen and Mrs. C. G. Hatch.

Phillips-Purcell Rites Take Place in Gold Hill

Central Point—The Gold Hill Methodist church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Karen Dallas Purcell and James R. Phillips, both of the Traunesian Sanctuary in Central Point. The marriage ceremony was performed by candlelight, October 20, at seven o'clock in the evening.

The Rev. Loehlen Gregory officiated at the double-ring rites, attended by 75 relatives and friends.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Dallas Purcell, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Paul Bender. The Purcells and the Benders are all residents of the Sanctuary located at Route 2, Box 572-C, Central Point.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory slipper satin with a fitted bodice and Juliet sleeves. The old-fashioned yoke of the gown was of delicate antique lace and the full skirt was designed with a small bustle and a long train. The bride's veil was held by small pink rosebuds and she carried a white Testament with pink rosebuds and Stephanotis.

Wears Heirloom

For the traditional "something old" the bride wore a pearl necklace which is an heirloom in her father's family. Her matching pearl earrings were the bridegroom's gift.

Miss Karen Wolk-Laniewski was honor attendant. She wore a gown of pink chiffon over pink taffeta. Miss Sheri Watson, Shady Cove, was bridesmaid and wore a gown of lavender chiffon. Both carried long-stemmed pink carnations with ribbons to match their gowns, and their head-dresses were white veiling held by pink carnations.

Don Mason, Colusa, Calif., was best man and George Jannusch of the Sanctuary was usher.

Baskets of white gladiol and fern and tall candelabra with candles decorated the church.

Mrs. Glenn Scott played the organ and Mrs. Ruth Jantzech sang.

The bride's father escorted his daughter down the aisle and asked a blessing upon the couple.

This was the third couple from the Traunesian Sanctuary the Rev. Mr. Gregory has married in the past two years.

For the wedding and reception the bride's mother wore an emerald green dress with pearl accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a royal blue wool sheath dress with crystal accessories.

Reception Held

For the reception, held at the church, the tables were decorated in pink and white with pink gladioli and massed fern. The bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Lanora Dawson, cut and served the cake, assisted by Mrs. Max Carpenter, Santa Cruz, Calif. The maid of honor and the bridesmaid poured punch, and Mrs. Carroll Watson, Shady Cove, presided over the guest book. Mrs. Milburn Jannusch was at the gift table.

The bride is a recent graduate of Crater High school and was one of two student speakers at her graduation. The bridegroom, employed for several years by the California Gas and Electric company, plans to study drafting at Southern Oregon college.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon on the Oregon coast. For traveling the bride wore a black wool suit with green hat and gloves. She chose to carry away her Testament and flowers rather than wear her corsage, and this was carried by her cousin, Miss Margie Henry, Campbell 11, Calif.

Student Leaves For Heidelberg

Donald S. Wolfe left October 20 for Heidelberg, Germany, where he will enroll in the University of Heidelberg. The student is a son of Mrs. John S. Wolfe, 322 Benson street, and the late Mr. Wolfe.

He is a graduate of Medford High school and was graduated last spring from the University of Oregon. He will continue in teacher education and expects to study the German and French languages, and piano.

Manor-Isms

By ETHELYN EVANS

Dr. Edith Robb, Palo Alto, Calif., who is at present chairman for a book review program, has planned a series of reviews for the coming season. She invited our administrator, Walter Higgins, to give the first one and, surprisingly, he immediately accepted. All this time our members have been convinced that he knew not the word "yes," and had no intention of adding that word to his ample vocabulary, being "muy, muy contento" to meet all situations with an instantaneous "no." In fact, two members, Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Wetherbee, Burlingame, Calif., wrote and presented a clever skit using that idea. Also, when introducing the administrator before this review, Walter Lobitz, Hanover, N.H., council member in charge of cultural programs for the Manor, waxed amusing and witty on the same theme. However, this time we were glad Mr. Higgins said "yes" and reviewed for us "To Kill a Mocking Bird." A truly excellent review he gave, too. I have never heard a better, and I wish he might consider a "review-of-the-month" as part of his administrative duties, since members were enthusiastic about the interesting talk he gave and the future possibilities of that "yes."

Mrs. Graham Foote, Long Beach, Calif., accompanied by Mrs. Stephen Hayes, Grand Isle, Nebraska, has gone south to spend the winter in Mrs. Foote's trailer home in Sahara Park in Palm Springs. The Roland Hubbards, Medford, have a trailer home just across the street from Mrs. Foote's.

Miss Marion Pierce, Saratoga, Calif., and Miss Hazel Calbeck, Palo Springs, who also had a trailer home in Sahara Park near Mrs. Foote, gave a large and beautiful farewell tea for the Mesdames Foote and Hayes. The Manor Club room was decorated with flowers, the table was a dream and the food unusual and delicious. During the afternoon Mrs. Marie Lewis, Sacramento, Mrs. Marnie Sleeter, Medford, Mrs. Ralph Bowman, San Jacinto, Cal., and Mrs. Perry West, Palm Springs, poured coffee and tea.

Another delightful evening at Rogue Manor last week was when Mrs. Vivian B. Giles, Oakland, Calif., gave the third formal piano concert she has played for us. Members and guests filling the big auditorium were enthusiastic and responsive and must have been a gratifying audience for Mrs. Giles. Quite a few of the 13 numbers on the program were played in response to requests.

Everyone enjoyed her dynamic playing of Edward MacDowell's "Sea Piece," the "Etude de concert in D-flat," Liszt, a very difficult composition, Mrs. Giles played first at a recital in Boston in the New England Conservatory of Music when she was 17 years old. At that time she received the commendation of the director, but insists she was too numb from stage fright to know what she was playing. This time she told us she felt perfectly normal and she played the number beautifully. My knowledgeable musical friends unanimously acclaim Mrs. Giles for delicate shading and flawless pedaling in numbers such as Edward Grieg's "To Spring," "Polish Dance" by Xavier Scharwenka, and the charming "June" by Tchaikovsky.

Incidentally, the auditorium stage was a scene of harmonious beauty. The background hangings are of pale gold, there was a huge bouquet of gold and bronze chrysanthemums, another of autumn foliage, both on delicate antique tables, a graceful fern, a beautiful chair, antique oriental scater rugs in soft, pastel colors, and the big, grand piano on which was placed a candelabra with lighted golden candles. Mrs. Giles wore a lace and net dress of blending pale rose and beige. Our Mrs. James Lium, Grants Pass, achieved this artistic creation.

Miss Dana Kay Halaas Bride of Gary Dee Tycer

Ashland — In a double ring ceremony performed Saturday afternoon, October 20, in the First Methodist church, Miss Dana Kay Halaas became the bride of Gary Dee Tycer. The Rev. P. Malcolm Hammond, D.D. officiated.

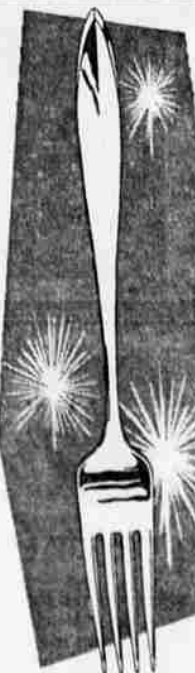

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. B. McGrath, Eureka, Calif., and K. J. Halaas, Klamath Falls. Mr. Tycer's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Tycer, Cave Junction.

A floor length gown of lace made with long tapered sleeves and scalloped neckline was worn by the bride. Her illusion net veil was shoulder length and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. She was given in marriage by her father.

Maid of honor, Miss Susan Kay Walker, Grants Pass, and bridesmaids, Miss Sharon Coffman, Central Point, and Miss Karen Fieguth, Ashland, wore ballerina length dresses of identical style. Miss Walker's frock was aquamarine satin-faced organza. The others were coral, made with bell skirts, fitted midriffs and bolero jackets. Their miniature crowns of iridescent braid and pearls held float gold and bronze chrysanthemums, another of autumn foliage, both on delicate antique tables, a graceful fern, a beautiful chair, antique oriental scater rugs in soft, pastel colors, and the big, grand piano on which was placed a candelabra with lighted golden candles. Mrs. Giles wore a lace and net dress of blending pale rose and beige. Our Mrs. James Lium, Grants Pass, achieved this artistic creation.

Dr. W. G. Bishop, in charge of our Health center, is taking no chances on the threatened Asian flu epidemic invading his Manor flock. This week we all trooped to the center for our second vaccine shot.
