

Summer Trout Fishing Season Concludes Today

Portland - Oregon anglers are reminded by the game commission, that the summer trout season ends Oct. 31. From this date through the winter months, anglers must fish according to the regulations established for the winter season.

Beginning Nov. 1, the bag limit for trout, jack salmon, steelhead and salmon will be two fish per day and four such fish in any seven consecutive days. No trout, steelhead or salmon may be taken under 12 inches in length.

Winter regulations may be found in the back of the 1962 synopsis beginning on page 40. Anglers will note that in contrast to the summer open waters, only those waters listed under the winter regulations are open to angling. In addition, anglers will find that on most streams listed angling deadlines are established and all water above those points are closed to angling.

Under the summer regulations, anglers will find a few bodies of water open to year-round angling. However, all waters close to general trout angling Oct. 31 unless specifically listed as open to year-round fishing.

Baker Starts 2nd in Offense

New York - UPI - Terry Baker of Oregon State ranks second in the nation in total offense again this week.

Baker has 1,269 yards in six games to 1,506 in seven games for Eldon Fortie of Brigham Young.

Baker ranks fifth in passing with 66 completions in 120 attempts for a .550 mark while Mel Renfro of Oregon is eighth in rushing with 519 yards in 73 carries.

WHITE TO COACH

New York - UPI - Ernie White, former pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals and old Boston Braves, will serve as a New York Met pitching coach in the Florida Winter Instructional League.

Turley Sold to Angels As Yanks Rebuild Staff

New York - UPI - Bob Turley's conditional sale to the Los Angeles Angels has been interpreted as the first move by General Manager Roy Hamey in his announced plans to rebuild the New York Yankees' pitching staff.

After the Yankees knocked off the San Francisco Giants in the recent World Series, Hamey admitted that the champs got by all season with only seven pitchers. The other four members of the Yankee staff - Turley, Luis Arroyo, Tex Clevenger and Rollie Sheldon - were only of nominal value, according to Hamey.

Now Turley is gone and Clevenger and Sheldon may be next. Arroyo had some arm trouble this year, posting a disappointing 1-3 record, but the veteran relief pitcher is being counted on for a comeback next season.

"We're still trying to make a deal for a starting pitcher," Hamey said, "and we aim to get him."

Turley's sale to the Angels rests on his ability to shake off the arm trouble that has hampered him for the last two seasons.

"If Bob is retained by the Angels on opening day of 1963, they will send us a mutually satisfactory player in return," Hamey said in announcing the transaction.

Turley, who only four years ago was voted the top pitcher in baseball, currently is attempting to work the soreness out of his arm with the San Juan team in the Puerto Rican winter league. He hasn't been too successful.

Only last Sunday Turley was shelled from the mound when he gave up five runs in three innings while Reuben Gomez hurled Santurce to a 6-1 victory over San Juan. Turley was obtained by the Yankees from the Baltimore Orioles following the 1954 season in a mammoth 14-player trade - one of baseball's biggest deals. The 32-year-old right-hander enjoyed his greatest season in 1958 when he posted a 21-7 record to lead the Yankees to the pennant and then won two World Series games against the Milwaukee Braves.

Neely Selected Coach of Week

Houston - UPI - In 22 years 33 coaches have come and gone in the Southwest conference - only one has lasted all that time.

He is Jess Neely, saluted by United Press International today as college football's coach of the week since his sophomore-laden Rice team battled Texas, ranked No. 1 in the nation, to a 14-14 standoff Saturday.

The matter of basketball officials, along with schedules and general business was on the agenda.

Arth - Straus, Crater principal, is chairman, and Don Miller, Crater athletic director, is secretary of the conference this year.

Cal Takes Over Lead in Passing

San Francisco - UPI - The University of California took over as the leading aerial team in the Big Six this week on the strength of sophomore Craig Morton's great performance against Penn State.

Morton completed 20 out of 28 for 274 yards in his first varsity game Saturday to extend Cal's total to 88 out of 155 aerials for 1,067 yards.

The Southern California Trojans, still unbeaten in league play, lead in total offense with 322 yards per game in rushing defense, allowing only 129 yards.

Stanford is tops in total defense, allowing only 226 yards per game; Washington leads in rushing offense, with 332 yards; and UCLA has the best passing defense, allowing only 81 yards per tilt.

What does it take to become a Harlem Clown?

This question is often asked after the nationally famous basketball comics play in a city.

Al (Runt) Pullins, owner-manager of the team, and one of the all-time greats of the world famous Harlem Globetrotters, answers this question with a few direct statements.

In Selection First, he says, it is in the selection. There is nothing funny about a future Harlem Clown when Pullins takes him under wing. He is usually a reliable conscientious ballhawk. Pullins considers accurate ball handling and teamwork more essential than unusual shooting ability.

He also stresses the high type characters of his players, pointing out that wherever they may go, on or off the court, they're in the spotlight - and the rule is "Be gentlemen at all times!"

Pullins says: "I tell the boys to have a good time while they are playing - then the fans will have a good time watching them."

To be a Harlem Clown takes love of travel - traveling takes up one-fourth of the time the Clowns are on the road - Almost every day the Clowns jump 200 or 300 miles for a game.

Newspaper Advertising Scores More Sales than Other Media
The nation's local advertisers invested $2.7 billion in newspapers last year. That's six times as much as they spent in radio, nine times as much as in TV, three times as much in newspapers as in all other major media combined!
Herman C. Nolen, president of McKesson & Robbins, Inc., puts it this way: "We at McKesson feel that if you place an advertisement the result is - something happens. You get action."
If you want action, if you want results - use the daily newspaper.
