Pope Suggested As Sites Advisor

Mrs. Helen Duprey Bullock, of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, has recommended that Charles S. Pope, supervising architect for historic structures, be advisor to the Siskiyou Pioneer Sites foundation.

Her recommendation was mentioned in a copy of a letter to Pope. The copy was sent Jack Sutton, Grants Pass, Siskiyou Pioneer Sites foundation president.

In her letter Mrs. Bullock suggested the foundation complete a survey of Jacksonville and create an historic district. Much of the survey has been done already, the foundation members noted during a recent meeting in Jacksonville.

Mrs. Bullock wrote favorably of her visit to Jacksonville and commended Mr. and Mrs. George Brewer, Jacksonville, for their care of the Beekman house. She noted the house was unusually clean and well cared for, particularly the carpet.

Another letter, one from Miss Irene Simpson, architect of the Wells Fargo bank history room, invited Sutton to participate in a panel discussion to be held June 20-22 at the ninth annual meeting of the conference of California Historical societies. Sutton is to discuss the operation of the Beekman house.

Reindeer Expected In Medford Dec. 7

Live reindeer will appear in Medford Dec. 7 for the annual Christmas shopping opening, the Medford Chamber of Commerce office announced Saturday.

Santa Claus, his sled and reindeer will be featured in a short parade on the streets of Medford at 1 p.m., Dec. 7 and will meet and greet the Rogue valley children on a big stage in Hawthorne park immediately following the parade.

Here the children will be able to walk up a ramp, see and pet the reindeer and descend on a second ramp. Santa Claus will also distribute favors to the children.

Committee members for Operation Santa Claus include John Moffat, Ralph Jacobsen, Don Groch, Mrs. P. F. Brainerd, Willard Shinn and Don McNeil.

Other features for a children's entertainment program are being worked out by the committee.
