

Denver Broncos Regain First Place in AFL West Division

By MARTIN LADER
UPI Sports Writer

The Denver Broncos, who already have won as many games this year as they did in their two previous seasons, are back in first place in the American Football league's Western division today as they continue to turn the tables on their former tormentors.

Denver took another step toward squaring accounts with the one-fearsome San Diego Chargers Sunday by beating the two-time Western Division champions, 23-20. The victory put the Broncos back on top in their division as the Dallas Texans lost to Houston, 14-6.

The New York Titans handed the Oakland Raiders their eighth straight loss, 31-21, in the only other AFL game played Sunday. On Saturday night, the Eastern Division leading Boston Patriots were held to a 28-28 tie by the last place Buffalo Bills.

Seventh Bronco Win
Halfback Don Stone scored all three touchdowns for the Broncos, who registered their seventh victory in nine games. Last year Denver could do no better than a 3-11 record and in 1960 the Broncos won but four games.

It also marked the second triumph for Denver over the Chargers this season after dropping all four contests in previous years between the clubs.

Denver was trailing 20-14 entering the final quarter when Stone caught a 13-yard pass from quarterback Frank Tripecka for the tying touchdown. Gene Mingo added the extra point to put the Broncos ahead and they gained their final two points on a safety.

Stone also scored on runs of one and five yards earlier in the game.

Two Quick Touchdowns
San Diego quarterback John Hadl passed for two touchdowns within 27 seconds to help the Chargers to a 17-7 halftime lead. One of the scoring plays was a 72-yard toss to Jerry Robinson.

Houston, which twice has won the AFL championship, moved to within a half game of first place Boston and at the same time avenged last week's embarrassing 31-7 loss to the Texans.

George Blanda connected with Billy Cannon for both other touchdowns, one on a six-yard pass and the other on a 34-yard toss.

The Texans, who were held to their lowest score ever, averted a shutout with little more than a minute to play when Chris Burford took a 15-yard scoring pass from Len Dawson, the league's leading passer, completed 10 of 30 attempts for 206 yards but then was forced to hurry his throws and didn't do much damage against a tough Oiler defense.

Oakland Remains Winless
Johnny Green threw a 34-yard scoring pass to Don Maynard and added the decisive touchdown himself with a one-yard plunge in the final period to pave the way for the Titans' second straight victory.

Oakland, which has yet to win this season, twice led in the game but was unable to hold on against a determined New York offense.

Boston had to overcome a 14-point deficit to earn tie with the Bills. Vito (Babe) Farilli threw three touchdown passes for the Patriots, including two in the second half, to match a fine performance by Buffalo fullback Cookie Gilchrist who scored two touchdowns and added four conversions.

SF Giants Looking for Hurler Help

By HAL WOOD

San Francisco—The San Francisco Giants are looking for pitching help—but they aren't about to trade away any of the major talent that helped them win the 1962 National League pennant.

That means they'll keep every man on the club who has been rumored as trade bait: Orlando Cepeda, Harvey Kuenn, Willie McCovey, Mike McCormack and all the rest.

"That doesn't mean we have to stand pat," says general manager Chub Feeney. "If we were about to try and strengthen the club, then I believe we'd try for more pitching help."

President Horace Stoneham isn't exactly in accord with this line of reasoning. "We had four pitchers around the 20-game winner mark during the past season," says the club president. "So I can't see how we are weak there."

Giants Wanted Art

Despite claims that Cepeda never has been on the trading block, there is strong evidence that the big first baseman was used as a bit of bait as long ago as last August when he was in a terrible slump—and the Giants' pitching couldn't get the other side out.

The Giants wanted Art Mahaffey of the Philadelphia Phils in the worst way, and they were ready to part with Cepeda to get Mahaffey. The Phils would have none of it. Stoneham and all the rest of the Giants' official family, naturally, deny this talk.

But the guess is that the club must come up with some pitching help to repeat as champions. They backed into the title this year when the Los Angeles Dodgers' mound corps ran out of gas.

It's hard to expect Jack Sanford to come up with another 24-7 season, although he could do it. And it's practically impossible to believe that the aging Billy Pierce, 35, great competitor that he is, can come back with another 18-6 record.

Three Young Stars

On the other hand Juan Marichal, 18-11, has his best year ahead of him. And great things are expected of fireballing young Bob Bolin, who will be 24 in January. Bolin was used mostly in relief roles this year while posting 7-3 record.

There also is talk that Bob Garibaldi, the 19-year-old, $150,000 bonus baby, may get enough experience in winter play to be a winner in the big leagues.

Death Claims Mrs. McGraw

New York—Mrs. John McGraw, 81, a goodwill ambassador for baseball since the death of her famed husband, John J. McGraw in 1934, died in St. Vincent's hospital Sunday night.

Remarkably vigorous for her age until recently, the "first lady" of baseball died at about 10:40 p.m. after being in a coma for 48 hours. She had suffered a stroke on Friday and never regained consciousness.

McGraw, a member of baseball's Hall of Fame, built the Giants into a National League power. His intensity helped to establish major league baseball as the national pastime, and McGraw carried on vigorously during the last 26 years as a symbol of the principles for which her husband stood and was a familiar figure at opening days, old timers days and other special baseball promotions.

BULLDOG STOPPED—Hedrick's Bruce Stewart (53) and other Hornets put the stopper on McLaughlin's John Pruitt in annual football game Saturday between ninth graders of Medford's junior high schools. Bulldogs who can be identified are Mike Allen (22) and Ivan Jackson (63). Hornets seen include Neil Shaw (65), Terry Lewman (30) and Ron Schwinler (61). Hedrick won 19-6.

Pat O'Brien To Oppose Spin Artist

Irish Pat O'Brien, a rough, tough character from North Carolina, will oppose Nick Kozak of Vancouver, B.C., in the top preliminary of Thursday night's wrestling card at Medford armory.

O'Brien likes to rough things up but if he runs into Kozak's vicious airplane spin the match will undoubtedly be over.

The curtain raiser, starting at 8:30 p.m., will send Ted Evans of Winnipeg, considered one of the finest Canadian mat stars to come into the northwest in years, against Haru Sasaki, Japanese star.

Sasaki spent last summer in Japan brushing up on judo and karate tactics and is cutting a wide swath through the northwest circuit since returning from his native country.

The feature match will be a tag team affair with four of the nation's top midweight wrestlers competing. Little Beaver will team with Tiny Tim against Sky Low Low and Fuzzy Cupid.

Blades Assume First in South

United Press International
The Los Angeles Blades were in solitary possession of first place in the Western Hockey league's Southern division today after their third straight win on the road.

The Blades boosted their record to seven wins and five losses with a 4-2 victory over Seattle. To further irritate the Totems, Los Angeles used a quartet of former Seattle stickmen in their victory.

Elsewhere the San Francisco Seals, having a rougher time away from home than the Blades, dropped their fifth straight—a 3-1 decision to the Portland Buckaroos.

Texas has 254 counties, more than any other state.
