

Twins Old Stuff To Aumville Pair

Salem — (UPI) — Mrs. Sherman E. King, Aumville, gave birth here Monday night to a set of twins, but her husband only yawned. It was the family's fourth set of twins. The latest set, both boys, came to Mrs. King at 6:22 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. They weighed 6 pounds, 15 ounces. King, who is currently out of work because of a back injury, and his wife now have 11 children. Three of the 11 came into the world as solos. The first set of twins was born nine years ago in Klamath Falls, the second set five years ago in Oklahoma, and a third set two years ago in Roseburg. They ran boy-girl, boy-boy and boy-girl, respectively.

Basic School Support Increase In 1963-64 Seen

Salem — (UPI) — Chairman Ronald E. Jones of the State Board of Education Tuesday restated the board's hope that basic school support will be increased to 46 per cent of all school costs in 1963-64, or $135 per census child.

This would take some pressure off property taxpayers, who now pay the bulk of grade and high school costs in Oregon.

The state now contributes about 36 per cent of local school costs, based on $120 per census child.

The 1963 legislature will decide whether to increase this, and by how much.

Writing in the latest issue of Education News, put out by the Oregon Education Department, Jones noted the board favors a gradual increase in basic school support to 50 per cent.

The board favors a 48 per cent state contribution by 1964-65, or $150 per census child.

A comprehensive public educational program, and one with quality, must be adequately financed and "such financing should be efficient and reasonably equitable for all taxpayers," Jones said.

Jones, a Brooks onion farmer, said money needs for grade and high schools in 1963-65 will approach $475 million, $50 million more than the current budget. The $475 million includes local, state and federal funds.

Jones said the increase is reflected by several things, including:

- An expected influx of 12,000 more pupils, requiring more teachers and equipment.
- The need for building more than 1,000 new classrooms.
- "Modest" salary increases for teachers and others.

Program Planned For Education Week

The McLoughlin Junior High school observance of National Education week will open with a "back to school" program for parents at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 15, when the parents will report to the boys' gymnasium for a program by the school's orchestra, directed by Elmer Ayres.

Parents also will receive a briefing preceding 10-minute class intervals.

During the class visitations teachers will inform parents of their young people's programs and review class objectives and procedures.

Parents who have not received a copy of their child's schedule prior to Thursday are requested to report to the school office on arrival to receive a copy.

The McLoughlin Parent-Teacher association will hold a baked food sale after the classroom visitations, in the school cafeteria, where refreshments will be served by the executive board headed by Mrs. William Travis, president. Mrs. Gordon Shelton is chairman for the sale and refreshments.

Crash Fatal To Portland Woman

Portland — (UPI) — A Portland woman was dead on arrival at Emanuel hospital here Tuesday night following a two-car accident.

Mrs. Pearl S. Jones, 67, was driving a car that collided with another vehicle driven by William Kieftly, 62.

Mrs. Jones apparently died of a heart attack after the crash, the hospital said.

Post Office Will Flood Market With Misprinted Stamps

Washington — (UPI) — The Post Office Department said Tuesday it was going to flood the market with hundreds of thousands of deliberately misprinted Dag Hammerskjold stamps to undercut the inflated value of a few hundred sold by mistake.

The announcement came after disclosures that at least 400 of the original 120 million stamps in the commemorative issue were run through a color overlay press upside down.

The effect would be to drastically slash the value of the 100 stamps known to be in circulation, either in the hands of collectors or in the mail. Leonard Sherman, an Irvington, N. J., jeweler, has an unbroken sheet of 50 of the stamps which he estimated was worth $500,000.

Gave Three Away
Gerald P. Clark, Akron, Ohio, who brought the misprints to light, said he and two friends had 19 of the stamps and they valued them at $2,000 to $3,000 each.

Clark said he bought a sheet of 50 but gave three away and mailed 31 on letters. The department said the decision to print 400,000 deliberately misprinted stamps was in line with Postmaster General J. Edward Day's policy of "avoiding production of rare or overvalued philatelic items."

The additional misprints will carry the same plate numbers as the few stamps in circulation.

James F. Kelleher, special assistant to the Postmaster General, said: "Our idea was to make it possible for all collectors to be able to buy one or some of the stamps."

Asked by newsmen what he would pay for one of the Hammerskjold misprints, Kelleher said: "Four cents, no more." Meanwhile, post offices throughout the country rummaged through their stocks to see if they have any of the misprinted stamps.

The Post Office Department ordered a temporary halt to sales of the four-cent stamps Monday while the check is being made.

So far the whereabouts of 100 of the stamps are known. One set of 50 was bought in Ohio and another set in New Jersey.

Color Upside Down
The black and yellow Hammerskjold stamp was issued Oct. 24. In a printing accident, the yellow color came out upside down on two sheets of 200 stamps apiece. With 400 of the misprinted stamps known to be in circulation, their value to collectors have decreased. They would have been far more valuable if only one sheet of 200 had been put on sale.

Laughton Said in Serious Condition

Hollywood — (UPI) — Actor Charles Laughton, 63, was reported in "quite serious condition" today at Cedars of Lebanon hospital where he is fighting a battle against cancer.

The Academy Award winner, suffering from malignancy since January, underwent surgery in June for removal of a vertebra to which the cancer had spread.

Until recently Laughton had been holding his own and had remained cheerful and confident despite his illness.

Following surgery, Laughton began receiving cobalt therapy that held the cancer in check for a long period of time. He now is receiving chemical treatment.
