Russia Continues Assistance To India Despite Border War

New Delhi - (UPI) - The Soviet Union appeared today to be taking unusual measures to establish itself as a friend of India despite this nation's border war with Communist China - a Soviet ally.

Tass news agency reported from Moscow Wednesday that a contract had been signed Wednesday for the delivery to India of Soviet-made equipment for gas and oil exploration and research.

The agency also announced that Russia has permitted India to open a consulate in Odessa because of growing trade, business and cultural relations between the two countries.

Turkey is the only other non-Communist nation to maintain a consulate in the Soviet Union. It is located at Batumi on the Black Sea.

Earlier this week Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru disclosed that the Russians had given assurances they would carry out agreements to supply India with MIG jet fighters and a plant to make them.

Nehru told parliament Wednesday that the Soviet attitude has been "consistently friendly."

"They have been put in a difficult position because they are an ally of Red China," Nehru said. "We don't expect them to break that alliance. But we have their good wishes, even recently, and that is a consolation to us."

Although the Soviet aid commitments to India were made before the border war broke out, it was considered significant that the Russians are going through with them.

Accidental Gunshot Fatal To Indian

The Dalles - (UPI) - Wilbur Harry Queahpama, 32, a Warm Springs Indian, was killed Tuesday when he was accidentally shot in the chest while hunting on the Warm Springs Reservation. The men were hunting on horseback in the Quartz Creek canyon area near Simnasho. A complaint was filed before the U. S. commissioner in Portland charging Scott with involuntary manslaughter. It was Wasco county's first gunshot death of the hunting season and the seventh in the state since late September.
