Oregon Well Governed With Five Men Taking Turns as State Chief

Salem—(UPI)—Governor, governor, who's got the governor? That has been a good question here this week, since no less than five men will have been governor by week's end. State Treasurer Howard C. Belton sat in the governor's chair today, but Secretary of State Howell Appling Jr. takes over when he returns from California Friday morning.

Senate President Harry Boivin (D-Klamath Falls) will depose Appling Friday evening, when Boivin returns home, also from California.

Boivin will serve until Sunday, when Gov. Mark Hatfield flies home from Ohio. Earlier in the week, House Speaker Robert B. Duncan (D-Medford) was governor while Hatfield and Boivin were gone. First in line of succession to governor is the Senate president. Then comes the House speaker, secretary of state and state treasurer.

A successor takes over whenever the elected governor steps out of state. But under Oregon law the successor is not an acting governor, he is the full-fledged governor, with full powers.

After state treasurer, the Oregon constitution makes no provision for governor. No one knows what would happen if the governor and his four successors should die suddenly, or be incapacitated. It's never happened.

Museum Visitors Exceed Record Year's Total

During the first ten months in 1962 visitors to the Jacksonville museum have exceeded the record year by more than 3,600 persons, the monthly report from the museum shows.

So far this year 52,650 persons have visited the museum. During October 2,076 visitors were recorded for a total of 505,798 persons since the museum opened in July, 1950.

Visitors during October came from 36 states, Washington, D.C., and four foreign countries. Among the classes visiting was one from the New Hope Christian school, Grants Pass and Cub and Boy Scouts from Medford, Central Point and Ashland.

One troop from Medford visited the museum and signed up as recruits of the First Oregon Infantry. Following the ceremony they marched to Camp Baker in the Phoenix area where they dedicated a plaque in recognition of the establishment of that Civil War camp in the fall of 1861.

Among the items donated to the museum during the month was the Medford Fire department's 1924 Stutz fire engine which was placed in the recently completed building behind the museum.

Persons who donated articles to the museum during the month included Mrs. Joseph Webster, I. N. Schultz, Allen A. Alsing, all Medford; Mrs. George W. Pearce and Mrs. Alice S. Bowles, Grants Pass; Fred L. Kinsey, Florence; and Mrs. Lee Port Sr., Eugene.

Residents Asked To Buy Savings Bonds

Thomas S. Pradeaux, chairman of the Oregon Savings Bonds committee, today called on Jackson county citizens for added support of the United States Savings Bonds program in light of the Cuban crisis.

In a letter to the county chairman, Morris Leonard Sr., Pradeaux repeated an appeal from Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon which stressed the "vital importance of keeping our country strong" and stated that "the help and participation of every citizen is a necessary part of such national strength."

Secretary Dillon's appeal noted that Savings bonds contribute greatly to the economic strength on which U.S. defense efforts depend, and called the act of buying a Savings bond "a splendid expression of faith in our American system so that we may strengthen it for future generations."

Average Rainfall

Speaker for the evening was Suttell, a ranger from the Star Ranger station in the Applegate. He spoke on the plant life around the Miller lake area in the Siskiyou range. He referred to the region as a unique botanical garden spot with many trees and plant life growing there seldom found in one place in such a complete and widespread variety.

He also spoke of the terrain and noted that the average rainfall is about 40 inches. He pointed out that the plant life from the Siskiyou mountain range is better known as far away as Europe than it is here where it originates.

This garden spot has been made more accessible to the public and it is planned by the district multiple-use plan to keep it in a near natural state. The speaker further urged the public to visit and enjoy the region but stressed the necessity of exercising good forest manners in order to keep the area in a good state of preservation.

Other visitors at the session were Ray Davis, Grants Pass, and Mrs. John Schmidlin, Yreka, Calif., a new member.
