

Guam Citizens Warned To Get Typhoid Shot

Agaña, Guam —(UPI)— Loud-speaker - equipped police cars toured the typhoon-stricken island of Guam today, warning civilians to get inoculations to prevent a typhoid epidemic.

Typhoon Karen, which swept the island Sunday with 200 mile an hour winds, brushed past another U.S. military bastion, Okinawa, today and headed toward the eastern coast of Japan. Its winds dropped to 98 m.p.h., and the typhoon did not cause serious damage on Okinawa.

The Guam government relaxed its ban on alien workers and asked the Philippines to send at least 1,500 carpenters, masons and other building workers to reconstruct homes and businesses. Disaster relief teams toured the island for the sixth straight day, aiding survivors and searching for bodies. The typhoon caused eight deaths and hundreds of injuries, and did an estimated $210 million damage.

The typhoid danger arose from the island's lack of safe water supplies. Thousands of homes still must rely on tank trucks and other approved sources.

Relief planes were landing on the island with the frequency of a shuttle service, bringing tents, medicine and tons of communication equipment to restore the island's links with the outside world.

Red Cross officials in Japan said the first or emergency phase of the disaster relief operation is nearly completed and "we will be shifting to the long-term phase very soon." U.S. Navy officials said it would take months to restore the island to normal.

Klamath Falls Reports Snowfall

United Press International Klamath Falls reported more than an inch of snow on the ground early today while most of the state had rain showers Thursday.

The weather man said clearing conditions tonight would result in extensive fog in Western Oregon.

A weak Pacific storm front is due in from the coast Saturday afternoon.

Timberline Lodge on Mt. Hood reported a foot of new snow today with a total of two feet.

Grants Pass Man Sentenced in Court

Donald Howard Wilson, 20, Grants Pass, was sentenced to two years in the Oregon State Correctional institution this morning in Jackson county circuit court.

Wilson had pleaded guilty earlier to charges of burglary not in a dwelling. He was charged with breaking into a sporting goods store on Crater Lake highway Sept. 12.

David Robert Davis, 29, of route 1, box 481, Eagle Point, was placed on probation and imposition of sentence suspended for five years.

He had pleaded guilty earlier to contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Jackie Leaves for Middleburg Visit

Washington —(UPI)— Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy left the White House early today to spend the week end at her hunt country estate at Middleburg, Va.

The first lady plans to return to Washington Monday morning to be hostess at the fifth in her series of concerts for young people at the White House.

Mrs. Kennedy's son, John Jr., was to be taken to Glen Ora later today and her daughter, Caroline, 4, will go to the farm with her father Saturday. Caroline had a kindergarten class today.

The concert at the White House Monday afternoon will feature Tong Il Han, 20, a Korean pianist, and the Paul Winter jazz sextet.

Foreign Briefs

DOVER RESIDENTS WATCH FISHING FLEET
Dover, England —(UPI)— Coastal dwellers lined the Dover cliffs before dawn today to see a brightly-lit fleet of about 100 Russian and Polish fishing trawlers anchored in the English channel to escape rough weather.

Most of the trawlers steamed off shortly after dawn, but the Coast Guard kept close tabs on them. The vessels came from the North Sea herring grounds, apparently to seek shelter from gales.

BARTENDERS COMPETE FOR COCKTAIL CHAMPION
St. Vincent, Italy —(UPI)— More than 150 bartenders from all over Europe met here today to compete for the international cocktail mixing championship.

MEMBERS AGREE TO MEETING
Geneva —(UPI)— Members of the general agreement on tariffs and trade pact (GATT) agreed Thursday to call a ministerial meeting here early next year.

A spokesman for GATT said the date has not been fixed. High on the meeting's agenda will be discussion of President Kennedy's trade liberalization policy on GATT, he said.

SPAAK CONFERS WITH U. S. UNDERSECRETARY
Brussels —(UPI)— Belgian Foreign Minister Paul-Henri Spaak conferred with U. S. Undersecretary of State for Political Affairs George McGhee Thursday.

No official information on the meeting was given out. But it was believed the discussion centered on the Congo problem and the Katanga's reunification with the Congo.

Stock Prices Move Slightly Downward

New York —(UPI)— Stocks moved slightly lower today. Boeing, one of Thursday's winners, dropped more than a point followed by declines of 1 or more in Beckman, IBM, and Texas Instruments in the electronics.

U.S. Steel slipped nearly 1/4 in a weak steel group. Motors were soft and chemicals narrowly mixed. Both the domestic and international oils showed little change.

Some coppers, drugs, tobacco and finance shares weakened.

Softwood Industry Asks Tighter Squeeze on Canadian Lumber

Washington —(UPI)— The U.S. softwood lumber industry, citing the "major disaster" of last month's forest-destroying Pacific Coast storm, asked the Tariff Commission today for an even tighter squeeze on Canadian lumber sales in the United States.

The National Lumber Manufacturers Association and the Lumbermen's Economic Survival Committee asked the Commission to recommend an import quota of 6.5 per cent of consumption. Earlier, the lumber industry had sought a quota of 10 per cent.

The higher quota would chop Canadian softwood lumber sales in the United States to less than half of last year's $250 million level, and to just over one third of this year's estimated rate.

A formal supplemental brief containing the new request was to be filed with the commission today.

Major Disaster
"The storm has wrought a major disaster," the supplemental brief said.

It said the volume of timber blown down by the storm will mean production of an additional billion or more board feet of lumber by U. S. mills in each of the next three years.

The U. S. market cannot absorb both the extra production and imports from Canada, it said. It also said Canadian mills this month again cut their prices.

Harvest or Rot
It said the conference committee concluded that the blown-down timber would have to be harvested or rot, and that at foreseeable levels of lumber consumption and imports, the excess production would cause a significant price decline.

The U. S. industry's supplemental brief quoted the findings of the Portland, Ore., emergency technical conference on the storm's damage held at Kennedy's request Oct. 30-31.

Communist Party Rules Out War
Moscow —(UPI)— The new official history of the Soviet Communist party rules out war as a means of settling disputes and says the struggle against the West must be waged in the context of peaceful coexistence.

The book also contains an expanded criticism of the misdeeds of the late Josef Stalin.

Published here this week, the book supersedes the 1959 version which merely stressed the need for peaceful coexistence between states with differing social systems. The current edition fully backs Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's doctrine.

"Ideological and political disputes between states should not be settled by war," it says.

It also says peaceful coexistence "cannot lead to renunciation of the class struggle nor appeasement between socialists and bourgeois ideologists."

PRESIDENT GETS TURKEY
Washington —(UPI)— The National Turkey Federation today was to present 40-pound, Maryland-raised turkeys to President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson for Thanksgiving.

Yancy said the federal government informed him Tuesday it would mail its evidence the next day, which would allow the grand jury to complete its investigation by Friday.

Thespian Troupe at Medford High Stages Play, 'Bernardine'

If ever a play was written for Medford, it was "Bernardine," which opened last night at Medford High school as a Thespian troupe production. Of course, it was also written for Ashland, or Portland, or Yreka, Calif., or any other western city where there are teenage youngsters struggling to grow up and parents worrying and fretting and trying to be helpful, although their efforts turn out too poorly.

But the play isn't "heavy" or gloomy—the audience thoroughly enjoyed it last night and the cast gave every indication of having fun, too. The staging is casual and imaginative. A map hanging at the back depicts an imaginary Sneaky Falls, Ida., on the Itching river. Bernardine, too, is an imaginary girl from the fertile brain of a teenage youth.

Stage Settings
Various tables, chairs and other stage necessities are carried off and on by the cast to set the scene, often without the bother of closing the curtain, and the audience enjoys this intimacy, too. The telephone booth (they did teenagers of the past ever manage to grow up without the telephone?) is wheeled off and on, once with the occupant inside still talking.

"Bernardine" has rather a large cast, and it is a comedy-drama which gives many players an opportunity to do a bit of shining. Brian Porter, playing Arthur Beaumont, leader of the "gang," has appeared in many school productions and is developing an interesting style; his good diction and projection are beginning to show the results of his study under the direction of Mrs. Zapell, high school drama instructor.

Dave Smith does well as Buford "Wormy" Weldy, trying to achieve manhood and independence from his over-protective mother, and Mike De Salvo pleased the audience with his interpretation of Vernon Kinswood, the bespectacled youth who doesn't belong to the gang and who is different because he "gets along with his parents."

In Role of Mother
Judie Brookman is well cast in the role of Wormy's mother, and Judy Foreman and Lindsay Darnelle give easy, relaxed performances as a mother and daughter. Dixie Taylor looks glamorous—but not old enough—for the "older woman."

Others in the cast are Harold Reid, Dale Stansfield, Greg Keith, Bill Bulger, Richard LaFleur, Mike Mattheisen, Tracy Blackstone, who makes the most of her brief appearances on stage as a waitress, Frank Williams, Kim Kerber, Paul Goodwin, Jacque Long and Mike Ruhl.

The play will not be on tonight since there is a football game, but performances are scheduled Saturday and Monday nights. Tickets are on sale at the door; curtain time is 8 p.m.—O.S.

Advertising helped it happen

By stimulating mass demand, advertising helped create a mass market for electric light bulbs. As demand grew, more and more were made. The more of them made, the less each one cost. Result: new and better electric light bulbs mass produced for more people at lower prices by America's remarkable and competitive economic system. Is this worthwhile? Then, so is advertising worthwhile.
