

TWINS GAINING—The Lowe Siamese twins, born last April 11, perfect in every respect except that they were joined from the breastbone to the navel, appear to be well on their way to a normal life. Separated by surgery May 29, the doctors now think they are progressing well. Patty, left and Prudy, right, are shown in San Francisco with their older sister, Susie, whose second birthday falls on Christmas day. —(UPI)

Contracts To Be Let for Projects In Winema Forest

Klamath Falls — Contracts will be awarded soon for accelerated public works projects on the Winema National Forest.

Included in current bid invitations are seven modern comfort stations in the Aspen Point campground at Lake of the Woods, two residences and an equipment storage building at Chemult Ranger station, and three residences and an equipment storage building for the Chiloquin Ranger station.

Prebid conferences have been arranged so prospective bidders may view the sites and discuss contract requirements with forest service representatives. The Aspen Point campground will be shown at 1 p.m., Nov. 28. The Chiloquin and Chemult Ranger station sites will be shown Nov. 29.

Bids will be opened in Portland, in the office of the regional forester Dec. 12 for the Lake of the Woods comfort stations, Dec. 13 for the Chiloquin Ranger station improvements, and Dec. 14 for the Chemult Ranger station buildings.

Forest service officials pointed out that improvements planned under the contracts will be made possible through the accelerated public works program.

They should not be confused with the development program announced earlier for the Chiloquin Ranger station. Bids were called for in October for construction of four residences, an office, warehouse and barracks, but all bids were rejected.

The buildings will be reauthorized for contracting in the near future and will be in addition to the structures presently advertised under public works.

Work crews have been in the field since Nov. 2 on reforestation and timber stand improvement jobs on the Winema forest, also part of the accelerated public works program.

The accelerated public works act signed into law by President Kennedy Sept. 14, was designed to initiate and speedup of state and local federal public works projects which would help provide immediate useful work for the unemployed and underemployed in labor surplus areas.
