Travel Study Club Tea To Benefit CARE Program

The Travel Study club of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, will conduct a CARE benefit tea Tuesday, November 27 from 2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the Girls Community club. Both men and women are invited. Music and speakers are planned for the afternoon.

Contributions to the CARE program will help buy classroom kits to help people learn to read and write. Mrs. Melford M. Nelson, president of the state federation, has pointed out.

The General Federation of Women's clubs is giving assistance to countries in the Middle East, the Far East and in Latin America. Clubs west of the Mississippi are assisting India, Hong Kong, Guatemala and Costa Rica. "To the people in these countries, we will prove that we are helping to honor the pledge made by the United States when we signed the Declaration of Human Rights in 1948," Mrs. Dexter Otis Arnold, federation president, has declared. "In Costa Rica, there is a shortage of educational supplies and books. Adults living in rural areas find it almost impossible to obtain reading material. Teachers can be dedicated men and women, students can be most anxious to learn, but the basic tools

Luncheon Rescheduled

A holiday dessert luncheon and card party originally planned for Saturday, November 24 by members of the Xi Mu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority, has been rescheduled for Saturday, December 1, chapter members have announced. The event will begin at 12:30 p.m., and will be held in the Girls Community club.

The change in date was made so that the party would not conflict with a style show and card party being staged on Saturday, November 24 by Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority.

The Xi Mu chapter party committee women are Mrs. Cecil Davis, chairman, and Mrs. Merrill Beneka, Mrs. James Daugherty, Mrs. Ernest Mickelson and Mrs. Harold Ames.

The chapter conducted the ritual of jewels recently at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Wilson Slater. Receiving the degree were Mrs. Beneka, Mrs. Thelma Halvorson and Mrs. Willard Rollins.

The exemplar degree was given for Mrs. Raymond Hoadley.

Officiating for both degrees was Mrs. Robert Hubbard, chapter president. Mrs. Mildred DeWitt, vice president, and Mrs. Everett Ballard, past president.

The program was entitled, "Russia Today," and was given by Mrs. Charles L. Carey. Music was provided by Russian folk recordings from R. L. Carter's collection.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, November 23 when Mrs. Treavell Turpin will be hostess at her home, 1704 West Main street, Medford. Mrs. Beneka will be cohostess. The program will be on India and Southwest Asia with Mrs. Willard Rollins in charge.

Teachers Plan Year's Project

Members of the Omicron chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa, teachers honorary sorority, will have as their altruistic project for the year, a grant to be presented to a Southern Oregon college senior in education. The project was decided on at a recent chapter meeting in the home of Mrs. Charlotte Sweet. Mrs. Eleanor Briggs presided.

Mrs. Suzanne Schultz was in charge of the program for which each member brought an idea for Christmas planning. Decorations and gifts were explained and recipes were exchanged.

A Christmas steamed pudding was served by Mrs. Ella Elle who furnished recipes of the dish.

Mrs. Barbara Hanel, social chairman, was presented a corsage in appreciation of direction of the Southern Oregon college Senior Women's tea and Founders day luncheon.

A Christmas party was planned for December in the home of Mrs. Pat Colley. White elephant gifts will be exchanged.

Mrs. Mildred Wiley Entertains Visitors

Hornbrook - Guests last week of Mrs. Mildred Wiley were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barron, Carmichael, Calif., who are the parents of Mel Barron, superintendent of the Fruit Growers Supply company at Hill. Also visiting Mrs. Wiley last week was an aunt, Mrs. Grace Ferguson, Anaconda, Mont., who left Friday for Sacramento where she took the plane home. Mrs. Ferguson had been visiting in Modesto, Calif., with a brother and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. Owen Kerr, who drove her up to Hornbrook for her visit with her niece.

Extend Exhibit

An art exhibit now showing at Rath's Fashion center will continue through November 27. The paintings are done by local artists, and the public is invited to view the display. The showing was to have been closed on November 19 but through popular request the time has been extended, those in charge announced.

Happy Camp School Rooms Are Inspected

Happy Camp-New additions to the Happy Camp High school were shown to the public for the first time at an open house held recently during the Parent Teacher association meeting. The additions include classrooms, metal and auto shop, administrative office and an intercommunication system.

James Foote, principal, gave a brief account of the building program which was begun in March of this year. Acceptance of the buildings was made by the Siskiyou Joint Union High school district board on November 8.

Graphs of achievement tests by students at the school were shown.

An announcement was made that if the Girl Scout program is to continue in that area, leaders for both Scout and Brownie activities will be necessary.

The next association meeting is set for December 18, postponed a week because of the annual Christmas concert to be given on December 11. The association meeting will be held in the elementary school when a Christmas program will be given by students.

A Christmas ball is planned at the high school for December 21 when the junior and senior classes and the music department will share expenses for live music. The dance will be free of charge to high school students.

The association membership has been set at 167 members. Mrs. Victor Dusenberry announced, an increase of more than 50 members over last year.

Entertainment included performances by the girls physical education class and musical selections by the high school combo. Miss Alberta Diggle furnished a vocal solo. Refreshments were served by mothers of eighth grade and senior class students.

Ashland Club Hears Review; Travels Topic

Ashland - "Pennies and Millions," the autobiography of an American woman who won for herself one of the highest posts in the banking world, was reviewed by Mrs. L. E. Andres at the last regular meeting of Ashland Study club.

From a $40-a-week clerkship Dorothy Armbruster rose in 40 years to the vice presidency of New York's largest bank. Her story furnishes an interesting insight into the banking field which was once considered a man's exclusive province.

The book covers a period between World War I and 1957 when Miss Armbruster officially retired. Plans for college and missionary service changed when she applied for a summer job which became a career. In addition to being a comprehensive guide to every woman's business affairs the book reflects a refreshing attitude toward free enterprise and a strong Christian faith.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sommer shared experiences and pictures of her last winter's vacation in the Caribbean when she visited her daughter in Puerto Rico. She told in some detail of a tour to Jamaica, describing beautiful British estates, quaint open markets with exotic foods, the leisurely tempo of subtropical living and peoples of different cultures, and everywhere the atmosphere of friendly hospitality.

Parents Attend Open House Event

Illinois Valley - Over 100 parents attended an open house program at the Illinois Valley High school November 15. A business meeting was conducted by the Illinois Valley Parent Teacher association. Ted Rodgers, president, conducted the meeting and Patrick Whitley gave a financial report.

Parents of students visited the various class rooms and a question and answer period was conducted during a social hour. Refreshments were made and served by students of the home economics classes, assisted by Mrs. Beryl Hines.

Attorney Is Speaker For BPWC

Frank Van Dyke, Medford lawyer, was featured speaker for the last meeting of Medford Business and Professional Woman's club. Mr. Van Dyke at one time served in the Oregon legislature as a representative from Jackson county.

Speaking on "Civic Participation," Mr. Van Dyke pointed out that women are in the majority in this country and if democracy is to work, it must have their participation. He spoke of the proposed new Oregon constitution, and explained the changes now being considered by the Constitutional Revision committee. The lawyer urged the club members to watch closely, read, and study the various proposals so that they will be in a position to advise their representatives in the legislature of their opinions on the contemplated changes.

Paul Smith, a former member of The Shadows, provided vocal entertainment with guitar accompaniment.

Mrs. Jean Anderson, civic participation chairman, reported on her attendance at the recent "Help the Handicapped" week luncheon. She also explained the development of the new Blind Commission center in Medford.

Miss Lucille Lennox, national security chairman, distributed "Grandmas Pantry" pamphlets recently issued by the Federal Civil Defense administration. Miss Gladys Durrand, parliamentarian, reported on her recent tour of schools in the East and the lack of civil defense planning she observed there.
