

Congressional 'Donnybrook' Seen if Spending, Tax Cut Plans Clash

Battle Could Put Tax Reduction Off Until 1964

Washington—(UPI)—Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah) today predicted a "real donnybrook" in Congress if President Kennedy proposes new programs of federal spending as well as an overall tax cut.

Such a battle could even delay action until 1964 on tax revision, he said.

Bennett, a high-ranking GOP member of the tax-writing Senate Finance committee, said he "might vote against any" tax reduction unless "there is also some evidence of a willingness" by the administration to cut federal spending.

Apply Finishing Touches

The administration is putting the finishing touches on its planning for 1963 tax cut and reform proposals.

So far no "final" decision has been made by President Kennedy but some key features of the plan have emerged with considerable clarity.

The main share of tax relief is to go to individuals, particularly those in the low and middle income brackets.

A cut in the 52 per cent corporate tax rate is in prospect, but it is not likely to be more than five percentage points, or $2.5 billion and it could be even less.

On the question of tax reform, some decisions have been made, but they hinge on Kennedy's approval.

Slash Sick Pay
Under present thinking there is a strong likelihood the administration will ask Congress to:

—Repeal or drastically restrict the exemption of sick pay from taxable income.

—Tighten up on capital gains tax. One way would be to lengthen the period of time an asset must be held before profit from its sale could be treated as a capital gain.

—Tighten up on taxation of oil and gas producers. There is a strong feeling among many administration officials that the 27½ per cent depletion allowance for oil and natural gas is unwarranted.

—Repeal the 550 exclusion and 4 per cent tax credit for dividend income. Government experts feel the exclusion and credit discriminate in favor of high income individuals.

Stocks Continue To Retain Gains

New York—(UPI)—Stocks showed no signs of relinquishing their recent gains today.

Georgia-Pacific, a market feature, rose nearly 2½ after announcing plans for major refinancing.

Chemicals were mixed with Union Carbide up better than 2 and Du Pont off about 1. Steels were firm and autos were narrowly mixed. IBM shed more than a point in the electronics and oils were erratic.

Some metals firmed but a few growth stocks tended to move lower.

Hanford Workers To Return Monday

Richland, Wash.—(UPI)—More than 2,100 workers will be back on the job Monday at the Hanford project here after lengthy talks were concluded Thursday.

Mediation meetings between Pittsburg testing laboratories and the Plumber's Union Local 968 settled the work stoppage.

The dispute stemmed from the dismissal of six employees by Pittsburg, which is a subcontractor for the Atomic Energy Commission at Hanford. The six had signed cards asking for union elections.

On Nov. 20, the union posted pickets at the Hanford entrances and the construction workers refused to cross the picket lines.

DIDN'T LIKE BLEMISH

Madison, Wis.—(UPI)—Emil Arndt turned in his driver's license after a record of 43 years without a ticket was tarnished last week. Arndt, arrested for driving against traffic, said he did not want to spoil his record any further. He is 83.

DINES WITH TROOPS—Secretary of the Navy Fred C. Korth, who flew to Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba to have Thanksgiving dinner with troops there, is shown in the field as men on duty paused long enough for the holiday feast. From left are Pfc. FACES CHARGES—The Rev. Leroy Daniels, 26, above, has been returned to his home in Texas after he ran away with Flora Jean Cole, a 16-year-old choir singer. The girl said "I love him and we plan to get married." Her parents filed charges against Daniels for contributing to the delinquency of a minor. (UPI)

Youthful Choir Singer Vows To Marry Clergyman

Henderson, Tex.—(UPI)—A pretty 16-year-old choir girl who ran away with her minister and shared a basement apartment with him for three weeks said today she wants to marry the clergyman as soon as he can get a divorce.

"I love him very much," said petite Flora Jean Cole of the Rev. Leroy Daniels, 26, a Baptist minister.

Disappeared Nov. 2
The two disappeared Nov. 2 after a high school football game and were found in Wichita, Kan., Wednesday.

The Rev. Mr. Daniels was jailed Thursday on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. When located by police, he was working in a liquor warehouse in Wichita.

Flora Jean told newsmen Thursday she and the Rev. Mr. Daniels, pastor of the Cristal Farms Baptist church near Tatum, Tex., plan to be married as soon as the clergyman is divorced by his bride of four months. Mrs. Daniels already has filed suit for the divorce.

The blonde, brown-eyed girl wept when she and the minister were taken into custody. "I won't stay home," she cried. "I'll run away."

Flora Jean's parents said they went to the Rev. Mr. Daniels' home after their daughter disappeared and learned that the clergyman also was missing. They filed charges against the Rev. Mr. Daniels later.

Flora Jean said her parents knew she and the Rev. Mr. Daniels were leaving Tatum, which has a population of 342. She said the night she and the Rev. Mr. Daniels left her father had seen her in the minister's parked car in a rural lover's lane.

She said her father stopped and asked her to go home with him but she refused.

Fairy Tale Parade Opens Yule Season

Portland—(UPI)—The annual Portland Fairy Tale parade, signaling the opening of the Christmas shopping season, wound its way through the downtown streets here today.

Cowboy movie star Gene Autry was grand marshal. The hour-long parade included 13 bands, 14 floats and hundreds of costumed marchers.

Adenauer To Make Report To Nation

Berlin—(UPI)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer wound up a trip to West Berlin today and prepared for a national television report on the crisis that nearly toppled his government this week.

Adenauer planned to confer with West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt early today before flying back to Bonn in a United States Air Force plane to make the address tonight.

The 86-year-old chancellor told a cheering rally of his Christian Democratic Union Thursday that West German troops will be in the front line of any battle for West Berlin.

He made only a passing reference to the arrests of editors of the news magazine Der Spiegel during his 35-minute speech, referring to the crisis it provoked in his coalition cabinet as "superfluous."

Doesn't Expect Force
Adenauer said he did not think the Soviet Union would use force against isolated Berlin.

"If, nevertheless, it comes to the use of force, our troops will stand in the very first line," he said.

This statement appeared to reverse his government's previous stand that West German troops were assigned to NATO and could not be pledged in advance to fight for Berlin.

It was believed the change resulted from his recent talks with President Kennedy in Washington. The United States has urged such a commitment.

Tonight's address was expected to deal with foreign policy and to explain Adenauer's stand on the crisis in which the Free Democratic party pulled its five ministers out of his cabinet over the controversial police raid on the news magazine.

Publisher Arrested
The magazine's publisher and four editors were arrested on suspicion of bribery and treason for a military article in the magazine. Opponents of the government called the action a throw-back to the days of the Gestapo.

The Free Democrats and the opposition Social Democrats—Brandt's party—both blamed Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss for the raid and demanded that he be fired from the cabinet. Der Spiegel had long been critical of Strauss.

The FDP announced that its ministers would not participate in any cabinet which included Strauss. The 15 CDU ministers also offered their resignations, apparently clearing the way for Adenauer to drop Strauss.

Airliner Crashes Outside Paris; 21 Persons Killed

Paris—(UPI)—A four-engine Soviet-made airliner carrying 13 passengers and a crew of eight crashed and burned today during a landing approach at Le Bourget Airport.

There were no survivors, airport sources said. The plane, believed to be a turbo-prop jet Ilyushin 18 of the Hungarian Malev Airlines, was en route from Budapest to Paris via Frankfurt, West Germany.

It plunged into the ground and caught fire near the village of Roissy-en-France, about six miles north of Le Bourget, one of two major airports in Paris.

The Ilyushin 18 is a Soviet-made plane in use with several Communist bloc nations. It has a passenger capacity of between 73 and 111, depending on the seating arrangement.

Sources at Orly Airport, which is on the south side of Paris, said they had been watching the Ilyushin approach Le Bourget on radar.

But then the plane disappeared, they said. Le Bourget is on the north side of the city.

Roissy-en-France is a village of about 1,100 persons. Airport sources at Le Bourget said it was not immediately known whether the plane had hit the ground in open country or in the built-up sections of the village.

Hungarian Embassy officials drove to the village to inspect the crash scene, an embassy spokesman said.

The spokesman said there were no officials or well-known personalities aboard the flight from Budapest.

Bank debits for the southwestern Oregon area including Jackson, Josephine and Curry counties, increased in October, 1962, compared to October, 1961, the University of Oregon bureau of business research has reported.
