

Watches Make Exciting Gifts

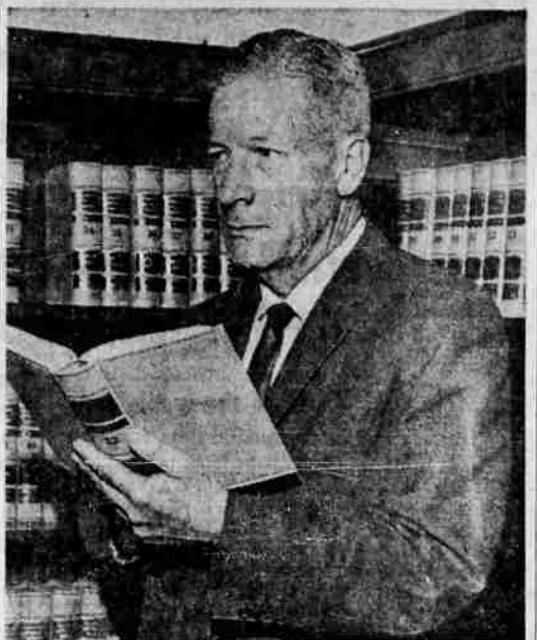

There is a time for everything — and Christmas is time for watch gifts.

New trends in watches — watches designed and made for special fashion or practical functions — pose exciting Christmas gift possibilities, according to the Jewelry Industry Council.

The watch that paces a busy woman through the day for example, is often charged for a watch that provides a fashion accent for dress-up or evening.

Watches with interchangeable bands to match business ensembles, watches with rugged shock and water resistance, watches with specially-designed readable faces in slim, elegant cases, are all meant to be a woman's companion.

Watches with new fashion appeal shine as never-to-be-forgotten gifts on any woman's list. Bracelets, elegantly touched with Florentine finish, blend with new watch shapes to give the fashion watch a new and beautiful look. The sweeping silhouette, the graceful curve that breaks away from the traditional square or oblong shape, is a fresh touch in watch fashions. Matching graceful bracelets carry the lady-like, elegant feeling through to the fashion finish.

Nuclear Physics Lab in Operation

Portland — One of the most modern instructional nuclear physics laboratories is now in operation at Portland State college, according to the latest issue of "Life at Portland State."

The monthly newsletter reports that the lab was completed this fall under a $16,500 Atomic Energy commission grant.

Two classes, totaling 16 students, are now receiving instruction in nuclear physics from Dr. Rudi Nussbaum, associate professor of physics.

"The laboratory contains equipment for the most advanced measurement techniques of nuclear radiation," he said.

The equipment includes a neutron source for activation of short-life radioisotopes and for experiments with neutrons themselves. There is also a gamma ray spectrometer using sodium iodide crystals and solid state detectors for spectroscopy of alpha and beta particles.

Diamonds Are Memorable Gifts

Diamonds, as any girl can tell you, make the most memorable Christmas gift of all. And there's magic in a diamond whether it is a tiny single stone or a blazing extravaganza.

Every man knows that giving a diamond gift wins a lady's heart, but not too many realize that the price tag needn't be a deterrent.

The Jewelry Industry Council reports there are real diamond gifts priced at $100 and under. Any man can make the gesture of a lifetime without bankrupting his present or future.

Beautiful gold or enamel pins, sporting a single, small diamond, may be the gift of a lifetime for many a gal and at a moderate cost to the giver. A tiny, sparkling diamond hanging from a white gold chain is a gift that will never lose its beauty, worth or thrill.

Tiny diamonds, cut by a master's hand, are used to "dust" pins, earrings and bracelets of yellow or white gold or platinum. This diamond touch gives an everlasting sparkle to the gift it graces.

Small, beautifully-cut diamonds frost earrings or glamorize a necklace clasp on pearls. A few diamonds gracefully placed on a watch make time a precious and exciting thing.

A diamond gift calls for loving consideration and imagination; qualities that substitute for a millionaire's income and help any man to strike it rich on the gift parade this holiday.
