

Annual WSCS Party Set

The Woman's Society of Christian service of the First Methodist church will hold their annual Christmas party in conjunction with the regular monthly meeting Tuesday, December 18.

Morning meditation at 9:30 a.m. will be under the direction of Dr. George Roseberry. His topic will be "The Star."

The business meeting will be at 10 a.m. Mrs. Everett Faber, the president, has asked that all members complete their Talent Dollar projects, and turn them in at the meeting of the gifts for the church kitchen and the welfare cupboard sponsored by the Commission on Social Concerns.

The days program, "Hear the Angels Sing," has been arranged by Mrs. Vern Wilson and her committee, Mrs. Jerry Igo, Mrs. Ross Adams, and Mrs. Harry Meyers. A quartet, composed of Mrs.

Milton Snow, Mrs. Walter Higgins, Mrs. A. K. Morse and Mrs. Meyers will sing Christmas music.

Circle 8 is in charge of the 12:15 p.m. luncheon, and special guests for the day will be the honorary members of the society.

Chapter Will Meet

Rogue chapter, Grandmother Clubs of America, will meet on Monday, December 17 instead of the usual date this month because of the holiday season, officers have pointed out. The session will be held in the Girls Community club and newly installed officers will be hostesses for the 12:30 p.m. dessert luncheon.

A Christmas party and gift exchange will be conducted. Mrs. Fred Ryde will have charge of the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Duane Taylor

Lois La Dean Young Bride of Glen Taylor

Central Point—Miss Lois La Dean Young became the bride of Glen Duane Taylor December 1 in double ring rites read at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in Medford Friends church. Mr. Jack L. Wilcutts performed the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elford L. Young, 745 Head road, Central Point, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd C. Taylor, Gold Hill.

Miss Irita Taylor, a sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Miss Arlene McGowan was bridesmaid.

Anna Marie Anselmi, Gold Hill, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl and lighting the candles was Debbie Taylor, a niece of the bridegroom. Carrying the rings was William Monkert of Central Point.

Forrest D. Young a brother of the bride, was best man, and seating the guests were Gregg Faulkner and Jerry O'Conner.

Gown Is Organza

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza over tulle with chapel train. The basque bodice was designed with scalloped Sabrina neckline with applied yoke of reembodyered Alencon lace and pearls. The bouffant skirt was made with a pouf bustle back accented with vertical self material bows centered with organza roses. She carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations with a white orchid. Her fingertip veil of hand-rolled silk illusion was held by a queen's crowm of lace and pearls trimmed with rosettes.

The attendants wore pink bridal satin dresses with bell skirts and matching pink veil headpieces. They carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums with pink carnations.

The candlelighter also wore pink bridal satin with matching headband.

Baskets of pink and white chrysanthemums decorated the church.

Miss Marian Payne furnished the wedding songs and Mrs. Orrin Ogier was the organist.

About 90 persons attended the ceremony and the reception held in the church rooms. The wedding cake had been baked by the bride's mother and her aunt.

Live In Medford

The couple made their wedding trip to Redding, Calif., and for traveling the bride wore a white sheath dress and coat.

The couple is living at 1086 1/2 Spring street, Medford. The bridegroom is employed at a mill in Rogue River.

The bride and bridegroom attended Crater High school. The bridegroom recently returned from Japan and Korea after spending 19 months overseas in the Air Force.

Seven Girls Initiated by Bethel 69

Seven candidates were recently initiated into Bethel 69, International Order of Job's Daughters at the time of the inspection visit of the grand guardian. They were Misses Joyce Drake, Sonia Eri, Dorothy Waldron, Jill Coltrane, Jeanne Levzow, Janice Tyrrell, and Diana Kimball.

Following the initiation ceremonies, election of officers was held. Those elected were Misses Denna Taylor, queen; Charlotte Martin, senior princess; Linda North, junior princess; Karen Smith, guide; and Christianne Ayres, marshal.

Escorted and introduced were Mrs. Kenneth Gildner, grand guardian; Andrew Stevens, past grand guardian. Also introduced were Mrs. John North, grand fourth messenger; Wallace Eri, past guardian; John Smith, representing the Scottish Rite; and Miss Lynn Boughner, junior past queen. Mrs. Gildner presented Queen Camille Eri with a ceramic Bible and a bottle of perfume.

It was decided that the Bethel would ask for a Masonic grandfather with whom to correspond. Final plans were made for a hayride and hamburger feed to be held later this month, and the forthcoming Christmas party was discussed.

Miss Linda Nelson was soloist for the evening accompanied by Charlotte Brown.

The line officers participated in an addendum honoring Mrs. Gildner during which they presented her with a basket of fruit after a poem was read.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. G. G. Smith, Mrs. Glenn Bailey, Mrs. Robert J. Buckles, Mrs. Wallace Eri and Mrs. Lorene Babcock.

Couples Return From Trip South

Eagle Point—Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bigham and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Stanley, both of Eagle Point, returned recently from a week in southern California.

While there they saw the finals of the National Rodeo contest in Los Angeles, visited Marineland, Knott's Berry farm and Disneyland.

Swedish Picture Scheduled

"Sawdust and Tinsel," also known as "The Naked City," a film directed by Ingmar Bergman, will be the next in a current series of moving pictures to be presented by the Rogue Valley Art association. The picture, for which Mr. Bergman also wrote the story, will be shown Tuesday, December 18 at 8:30 p.m., in the Medford High school seminar auditorium.

The film will be free of charge to members of the art association and a small fee will be charged for non-members.

The picture, not recommended for children, is said to illustrate an important phase in Mr. Bergman's career.

John Gillet wrote in the program for the London National Film Theater's Swedish film retrospective, it "is a study in humiliation and sadism. In this film, Mr.

Bergman takes a long sustained look at the darkest side of the human personality. The plot development includes scenes of hysteria, eroticism, nudity, and is often reminiscent of the masochistic German school of the 1920's.

There also is some pity and truth in the characterization of the circus director and his mistress, aided by a powerful, Jannings-esque performance by Ake Gronberg, and a sulky, sensual one by Harriet Anderson. Lighting, decor and music all are used to build up a dark and sinister atmosphere.

The story concerns a circus, with the principle characters a middle-aged circus owner who has forsaken his family for an equestrienne; and a young doctor.

The picture is in Swedish dialogue with English subtitles.

Newly Married Couple Visits Valley Relatives

Central Point — Mr. and Mrs. Gerald A. Love were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Love's mother, Mrs. Bernice E. McCue, and her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Scott, 134 Laurel street, Central Point. The couple was en route from Los Angeles, Calif., to Portland where they will make their home.

Mrs. Love is the former Miss Patti E. McCue. Her father, L. L. McCue, lives in Denver, Colo.

The couple's marriage was an event of October 13 in Los Angeles.

The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Love of Portland.

The bride was graduated in June, 1961 from Crater High school, and attended California Western university at San Diego, Calif. Later she returned to Medford and was employed by the Pacific Northwest Bell Telephone company and last September she moved to Long Beach, Calif., where she was employed by the Hartford Insurance company of Los Angeles.

The bridegroom was graduated from a Portland high school and attended Portland State college before entering the Navy from which he received his discharge on November 30.
