

Legion Auxiliary Plans Tree Replacement Project

Replacement of trees on the state capitol grounds has been chosen by Mrs. Jack Larson as her president's project for this year for the Oregon American Legion auxiliary. Each year the department president selects a project for the benefit of the state, and American Legion auxiliary units assist in providing funds and assistance.

Spring Jewelry Said 'Noisy'

United Press International Spring costume jewelry will be heard as well as seen. Preview of pins looking like a steal from the crown jewels featured clusters of stones the size of eggs. The noise comes from the jingle-jangle of three to four-inch streamers of pearls and beads stuck to the clustered jewels.

Its shifts ahoy for lounge-wear. The shift silhouette, alluringly easy to the ankle, offers a great casual yet practical chic for any leisure time or place. Women's Wear Daily reports.

Resort bound: seaworthy slippers in fabrics that take to water as well as sand. One version is made of stretch fabric and has rubber soles. The thong for the poolside comes in cushiony and washable stretch terry cloth.

Gardeners Hold Dinner Meeting; Program Given

Central Point - At the December meeting of the Crater Garden club, Mrs. Charles Taylor displayed a timely interpretation of the Madonna as the arrangement of the month. She used pyracantha berries and cypress.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Friesen discussed with the group, "Seedlings of Birds," and explained the shapes of the different bird bills, saying these indicate the type of foods and insects each individual bird is able to catch and eat. They also reported on birds which are invaluable to the garden.

Delmar Smith, who for sometime has been doing research on the biological terms and names of plants, reported on the naming of numerous plants and evergreens. He stated the origin of a plant in question, as well as the locale, may supply the grower with identification of the plant. For instance the Douglas fir is easily associated with the state of Oregon, since the botanist who named the tree was an Oregonian, and the tree is native as well. Many names are derived from the word "Occident," meaning western, he said. The "blue bonnet" implies the state of Texas.

Mrs. Arthur Straus was hostess for the dinner, and following the business members conducted a gift exchange. Mrs. Cliff Green was winner of the door prize. Plans were made for the spring flower show.

Parties Planned In Shady Cove

Shady Cove - Members of the auxiliary to Steelhead post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet in the Post hall Thursday, December 20, at 10 a.m. for the annual secret pal party.

Names of pals for the last year will be revealed, and new names drawn. Those having no secret pals are asked to bring a gift for exchange.

During the morning the women will decorate a Christmas tree and the hall. The post and auxiliary will hold the annual Christmas party and gift exchange Friday, December 21, at 8 p.m. at the hall. Gifts are to be marked for men, women or children.

Oxalic acid will remove rust spots from white cotton articles. Use a few drops of acid in a bowl full of water.

Siskiyou County Women Honored by Cow Belles

Gazelle - Mrs. Edson Foulke of Gazelle was seated as president of California Cow Belles at a meeting held in conjunction with a California Cattleman's Convention, December 8 in Sacramento at the El Dorado hotel.

A style show and luncheon and a breakfast business meeting were among the activities of the women's group, which is classed as one of the most effective professional organizations in our nation.

Mrs. Laura Claridge of Arizona, the National Cow Belles president, met with the group and spoke. She emphasized that the sharing and exchange of ideas is what strengthens any organization.

Another of the highlights of the convention was the honoring of Cow Belle's "Mom". Eighteen of the 22 chosen were present to receive their honors. Chosen from Siskiyou county was Mrs. Louis Hessig. She is the mother of Mrs. Shirley Elwood of near Redding, a ranchers wife and mother, and Miss Dorothy Hessig, a senior at Southern Oregon college, Ashland, and an accomplished equestrienne who helps with the ranch work.

Mrs. Hessig, as well as being a full time partner with her husband on their ranch near Montague, is active in many social and civic affairs. She is a member of the Siskiyou County Fair board, and was for several years president of the Shasta Valley Improvement club.

Mrs. Foulke, who succeeds Mrs. Russell Peavy, San Diego, is also a full partner in the ranch business with her husband, helping in all phases of the work. Both she and her husband are natives of Siskiyou county. She is the former Esther Mary Brown of Scott Valley. They were married in 1932, have one son, Tim, and a granddaughter.

They purchased a portion of the Edson-Foulke holdings in 1942 and the ranch home in 1948.

Mr. Foulke has been active in the Cattleman's association, both on a county and state level and has held important committee chairmanships.

Sandra Kubalek Honored Guest

Miss Sandra Ann Kubalek, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Milo V. Kubalek, 907 South Oakdale avenue, was honored recently at a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Sharon S. Eichelberger, Forrest avenue. Cohostess was Mrs. Paul Larsen.

Miss Kubalek is the bride-elect of Ens. Robert Stickley Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Schmidt, Janney lane. Their wedding will be an event of December 26 at Sacred Heart Catholic church.

For the shower, attended by 18 friends, the hostesses had used Miss Kubalek's wedding colors, white, green, silver and touches of red.

A manzanita branch, sprayed silver, served as a kitchen hint and recipe tree. The serving table was centered with an arrangement of white chrysanthemums with crystal and silver containers.

Planned Leftovers

It's a smart idea to buy a large enough ham for your Christmas dinner to have enough left for at least one more meal. That second-day dish will be time-saving and economical, and there are so many delicious cooked ham recipes from which to choose.

Society Members Provide Yule Gifts for Shut-ins

Gift for shut-ins were brought by members of Delta Kappa Gamma society, Epsilon chapter, when it met December 15 at the Red Cross building, Medford, for the annual Christmas party.

Festive holiday decorations were arranged for the room and tables and refreshments were served as the members arrived. Hostesses included Mrs. Earl W. Rogers, chairman, Mrs. Joseph L. Fader, Miss Vida Scripser, Miss Dorothy Wilson, and Miss Gladys Durrand.

Mrs. Keith E. Woodward, Grants Pass, presided over the short business meeting at which it was decided that the gifts would be given to shut-in members and patients in the nursing homes.

Miss Marie Prescott, Ashland, spoke of joys and happiness of Christmas, using Biblical references, personal meanings, and poetical interpretations, during which she asked the members to sing carols which also expressed happiness. Highlighting her presentation were passages from Peter Marshall's Christmas book and Pat Boone's new edition on the meaning of Christmas.

Mrs. Oscar Bjorlie gave a talk on the legend of decoration and Christmas customs in Poland, Argentina, Italy, and Lithuania. She displayed four artistic models of decorated trees which she had made in miniature to depict the unique features of each country's customs.

Carols were sung by the group with Miss Florence Allen leading and Mrs. Melvin E. Ottis accompanying. The singing was conducted by the grasping of hands in friendship and to wish each a merry Christmas.

The members then wrapped the individual gifts under the supervision of Mrs. Elsie Turner, program chairman.

The next meeting will be held at the Girls Community club January 19. A panel on "New Frontiers for Women," will be moderated by Mrs. Walter Foote.
