

Aerial Battle Marks Shrine Game As East Tops West

By HAL WOOD
UPI Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO—(UPI)—Dandy Larry Lamonia, the pride of Notre Dame, unleashed three long touchdown bombs Saturday and the East whipped the West, 25-19, in a last-minute score in the greatest aerial battle in Shrine football history.

With the score tied 19-19 and a little more than two minutes to go, Lamonia completed six consecutive passes on a 90-yard march that paid off when Larry Ferguson of Iowa powered over from the two with the tie-breaking counter.

It was a fitting climax to a great display by Lamonia, noted mostly as a signal caller at Notre Dame—but a passing genius yesterday.

During the wild first half he completed 11 out of 15 passes for 227 yards and the three aerial touchdowns. For his efforts he was chosen the outstanding back of the game and won the William M. Coffman award.

Here's what Lamonia did during the first half:

—Tossed a 41-yard scoring pass to end John Mackey of Syracuse.

—Threw a pass 30-yards to Mackey again, with Mackey going the rest of the way on a 69-yard play for a touchdown.

—Heaved a 29-yard pass to Paul Flatley for another score.

Lamonia, who has been signed to play with the Buffalo Bills of the American Football league, needed to be as brilliant as he was, because Sonny Biggs, the towering Texan from TCU, also put on a stimulating show with three touchdown passes of his own.

With less than three minutes to go and the West trailing 13-19, Gibbs took his boys on a 63-yard touchdown march that paid off when Sonny passed 23 yards into the end zone to end Hugh Campbell of Washington State, who was voted the outstanding lineman of the game.

But when Ray Mansfield of Washington attempted the conversion that would have put the West ahead, the ball never got more than five feet off the ground and was blocked by the East line.

This was one game that came out as advertised. Both coaches predicted that it would be an aerial battle—and it was. Six out of seven touchdowns were scored through the air.

And for most of the game, Lamonia had the edge.

And then the scoring flood gates broke wide open. There were 25 points collected in the seven minutes during the second quarter, with each side scoring two touchdowns.

After the East had scored the first touchdown Gibbs passed 25-yards to Campbell to knot the count in the second quarter.

After the West scored, Lamonia connected on the Mackey play; then Gibbs came back with a 25-yard scoring aerial to Campbell.

But Lamonia was equal to the occasion again as he took the East 71 yards in five plays to score on his toss to Flatley just before the half and make the intermission score 19-13.

The line play was bruising all the way through. Tackle Bob Vogel of Ohio State and tackle Lionel Aldridge of Utah State appeared to be in on nearly every defensive play.

The West gained only 45 yards on the ground and the East 73.

Gibbs completed 22 out of 37 passes for 271 yards—a Shrine game record for completions.

GOOD FISHING—Ice fishermen make their regular assault on the blue gill population of Lake Mendota at Madison, Wis., and from the looks of the catch on the ice, fishing was good. The blue gill run is expected to continue for several days, after which the perch run begins. (UPI)

Laver Goes Pro, Draws Criticism

By PATRICK HARDEN
United Press International
Jacksonville, Fla. (UPI)—

Florida rode the passing arm of sophomore quarterback Tom Shannon to a 17-7 upset victory over defending champion Penn State Saturday before 50,000 fans in the 18th annual Gator Bowl game.

The Gators, smarting from criticism of their selection as opponents for the Lambert Trophy winners, tore into Penn State with a vengeance, consistently cutting holes in the defense and smothering the Lions' attack. The continued pressure brought fumbles from Penn State and Florida scored on two of them.

Neither Loyola of Chicago nor St. Joseph's of Philadelphia relies heavily on a "big man" but they're the red-hot teams today among the dozens playing in the annual Christmas week carnival of college tournaments. Both use the old formula of running the opposition into the ground and then passing 'em dizzy.

Loyola, the nation's second-ranked team, cruised to its ninth straight victory by defeating Memphis State 94-82 and advancing into the round game of the All College Tournament of Oklahoma City Friday night while St. Joseph's scored its second straight upset in the Quaker State tournament when it beat defending champion Villanova 59-54.

Loyola opposes Wyoming in the All-College title game Saturday night and St. Joseph's faces Brigham Young for the Quaker City crown. Wyoming reached its title-round game with a 65-64 win over Oklahoma City while Brigham Young topped favored Providence 81-78.

Jerry Harkness scored 26 points. Flynn Robinson's goal with five seconds left gave Wyoming its triumph. Steve Courtin's 18 points led St. Joseph's and Jerry Dahlan had 26 for Brigham Young.

Here are the highlights of the other major tournaments played around the country: Los Angeles Classic, Los Angeles: St. Louis beat Northwestern 69-52 for third place and Utah State topped South-

Native Dancer Runs Away With Stakes

By PATRICK HARDEN
United Press International
Arcadia, Calif. (UPI)—

Lightning fast Native Dancer ran away with the $29,300 Malibu stakes by more than six lengths Saturday while on the other half of Santa Anita's double stakes feature Kingomine beat stablemate Switchback by less than a length in the $68,625 California breeders' champion stakes.

Both races were at seven furlongs but the breeders' stakes for 2-year-olds was a hard-fought battle with Kingomine making a driving charge through the stretch to take the victory. It was the fourth win of the day for jockey Willie Shoemaker and the fourth straight time he had captured the homebred stakes.

Shoemaker came back to capture the eighth race with Sir Lancelot to give him five wins out of eight races. It was the 11th time in Santa Anita history that a jockey has won five races on a program and the fifth time Shoemaker recorded the feat. Sir Lancelot paid $8.60 as the favorite.

Close to the end of the quarter a long punt by Clarke was fumbled on the Penn State 49 and Bruce Starling recovered. The Gators parlayed the bobble into a touchdown less than three minutes into the second quarter when Shannon hit Dupree in the end zone from seven yards out.

Lone Penn TD
As the second period came to a close, Liske led the Nittany Lions on a march from their own 24 to a touchdown. Liske threw six passes during the march, completing four. Three of them went to right halfback Junior Powell. Then Liske rushed from one yard out for the only Penn State touchdown.

Florida exploded again on the first play of the final quarter when Shannon caught the Liske defense napping and hit Clarke from 19 yards for the final touchdown.

Hall kicked the extra points for Florida and Ron Coates converted for Penn State.

Big Crowds Await Rose, Cotton Orange, Sugar Bowls Tuesday

By JOE SARGIS
UPI Sports Writer

National champion Southern California puts its perfect record and title on the line against Wisconsin in the Rose Bowl game Tuesday as six other collegiate powers meet in the annual New Year's Day football classics.

The usual crowd of 100,000 will fill the stadium at Pasadena, Calif., for the clash between Southern California, the pride of the west, and Wisconsin, the Big Ten champion and pride of the Midwest. The game will be televised nationally beginning at 5 p.m. EST by the National Broadcasting company.

Earlier in Day
Before the "big one" even gets underway, the outcome will be known in the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. and the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans. In those two classics, fifth-ranked Alabama takes on seventh-ranked Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl and third-ranked Mississippi tangles with sixth-ranked Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl.

The American Broadcasting company will televise the Orange classic and N.B.C. the Sugar, both beginning at 2 p.m. EST. A crowd of 72,000 is anticipated for the Miami game and Sugar Bowl officials expect 75,000.

The Cotton Bowl game at Dallas, Texas, starts an hour later via the Columbia Broadcasting system and pits fourth-ranked Texas against eighth-ranked Louisiana State.

Southern California, despite winning 10 straight games without defeat and the national collegiate title, is a four-point underdog to Wisconsin, which lost only one of nine games, and finished second to Southern California in the race for the national title.

The Badgers feature a strong passing game built around quarterback Ron Vanderkelen, who completed 91 of 169 passes for 1,181 yards and 12 touchdowns, and halfback Lou Holland, the team's best runner and highest scorer.

Other Odds
The Trojans have a more varied attack with Pete Breathard and Bill Nelson sharing the quarterback's duties. Between them they rolled up 1,739 yards passing and running. End Hal Bedsole, a 6-5 giant, is the team's top passing target. He grabbed 29 passes for 726 yards and 7 TDs. Willie Brown is the team's running ace.

The oddsmakers list Alabama (8-1) a three-point favorite over Oklahoma (8-2), Mississippi, unbeaten in nine games, six points over Arkansas (9-1) and Louisiana State (8-1) three points over Texas (9-0).

Alabama puts one of the nation's top defensive teams on the field in the Orange classic. Tim Crisman Tide's only defeat this season was a 7-6 squeaker to Georgia Tech. Alabama has a fine quarterback in Joe Namath, who set a number of school records, and a high scorer in Cotton Clark.
