Annual CFG Elections Scheduled

The annual meeting and election of board members for the Rogue council of Camp Fire Girls is scheduled for Sunday, January 6 from 3 to 4:30 p.m., in the Medford First Methodist church. The new board members will be installed at the meeting by members of the Horizon club.

Leaders, assistants and sponsors all are voting members. A full attendance will be needed, leaders have pointed out.

Mrs. Adel Longmore, council program chairman, will be in charge. Officers of the new Junior Hi cabinet will honor leaders at a ceremonial; displays of Camp Fire symbolism and Bluebird craft work will be on exhibit.

Mrs. George Engel, Ashland, has been appointed public relations committee chairman, and Duke Gladfelter, 911 Reddy street, Medford, has been appointed camp committee chairman, according to an announcement from the council office.

Mrs. Engel serves as secretary of the council's board of directors and has been in the past, a leader for Brownie, 4-H, Bluebird and Camp Fire groups. She is a member of the First Methodist church and also holds an office in the American Legion auxiliary.

Mr. Gladfelter is assistant manager of the United States National bank, and is a past president of the Grater council of Boy Scouts of America. His church affiliations are with the St. Mark's Episcopal church where he teaches a Sunday school class for fourth grade boys. He is at the present a county Scout commissioner; on the UMC board and a member of the board of directors of the Oregon United Appeal.

Eagle Point — Mrs. W. E. Davies was installed chairman of the Eagle Point Grange Home Economics club at a recent meeting of the club.

Installed vice chairman was Mrs. Paul Force. Mrs. Tom Vestal was installed secretary, and Mrs. Theodore Hoff as a treasurer.

Mrs. Force, a past Pomona Grange chairman, was installing officer. Mrs. C. C. Hoover, Gregory road, was hostess for the meeting.

With a small variation, sautéed bananas may be served as a vegetable with the meat course, or as dessert. Peel firm, not too ripe, bananas, halved and split lengthwise. Dip into two tablespoons of lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Brown on both sides in two tablespoons of melted butter or margarine about three minutes. Serves six as a vegetable, three as a dessert, sprinkled with confectioner's sugar.

First Lady of United States Also Fashion's First Lady

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
New York — UPI — The U.S. First Lady is the world's first lady of fashion.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy, wife of the President, mother of two, headed the annual list of best dressed women of the world in 1962, a list announced today by Eleanor Lambert, a public relations consultant.

Miss Lambert said the list was compiled from "an international poll of 2,000 style observers."

This appearance marked the third consecutive year for Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy on the list which currently cited her "as a symbol of fashion leadership to the average woman everywhere."

Placed right there near Mrs. Kennedy on the list was Mrs. Ledi Guinness, the Mexican-born brunette beauty married to a British financier, who made her fourth consecutive appearance.

Mrs. Kennedy's sister, Princess Lee Radziwill of London, was on the list for the second consecutive time. So was a long-time friend of the Kennedy family, Mrs. Charles Wrightman of New York and Palm Beach, wife of an oil millionaire.

The listing elevated two women to permanent status in a fashion hall of fame, which means that they're so permanently ensclosed as chic that there is no point in their being put in the annual competition.

The two hall of famers are Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes of Paris, and the American-born Countess Aline Quintanilla of Madrid.

Two women appeared on the list for the first time. They were Mrs. Frederick Eberstadt, a New York socialite and daughter of poet Ogden Nash, and the Baroness Ernst Thyssen-Bornemisza of Lugano, Switzerland.

The listing was correct in citing Mrs. Kennedy's fashion leadership — her bouffant hairdo, her pillbox hats, her sleek, long formal gowns and her simplicity of dress in general all have left their mark on Main Street, U.S.A.

Houseguests, Parties Noted In Eagle Point

Eagle Point — Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dunn were hosts for a New Year's dinner party at their home on Crater Lake highway. Attending were their daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ackerman and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Krambeal, all Eagle Point; and Elmer Johnson, of the Veterans' domiciliary, White City.

Among others who entertained on New Year's day for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harnish, who live on Crater Lake highway. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Rick Wolgamott and children; Danny Colclaser; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson and children, and Mrs. Ethel Coy, all of Eagle Point.

Airman First Class and Mrs. Jerry Cave will return to the Fairchild Air Force base at Spokane, Wash., after being guests for two weeks of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cave, South C street, Eagle Point. Airman Cave's mother plans to accompany them as far as Long Beach, Wash., where she will spend a week with her sister, Mrs. Mabel Butts.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Canterbury, Alta Vista road, have returned after visiting with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ayres and their children, David and Karen Denise at Myrtle Creek.

Others who entertained during the holiday season were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gray, who were hosts in their home on E street, for a party and dinner. Attending were their sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Christian and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Dusenberry and families, all of Eagle Point.

Guests Depart After Visit Here

Mrs. M. K. Storz and her granddaughter, Miss Nancy Ellen Hall, both of Eugene, have left after being houseguests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wise, 1600 Stratford avenue. Miss Hall is a student at North Eugene High school.

The guests were entertained at a family dinner and a New Year's eve party.

Leaving on New Year's day for Corvallis, was the Wise's son, Kenneth Wise, a sophomore student in engineering at Oregon State university.
