

Procedural Misunderstanding Kills Whittle Avenue Graveling Project

Because of a procedural misunderstanding, a project to gravel Whittle ave., passed by the Medford city council about two weeks ago, was in effect killed by action of the group Thursday night.

City Manager Robert Duff at the previous council meeting has recommended against the grade and gravel project, saying it was contrary to administration policy to permit sub-standard improvements in the city. He said if anything the street should be paved.

The council, however, passed the measure. Former Mayor John W. Snider the next day returned the ordinance unsigned to City Recorder Darrell Huson with an attached letter.

Snider said he did not wish to veto the measure but chose to express his support of the administration's position by withholding his signature from it. He said it was his understanding that without an express veto the unsigned measure would automatically go into effect in 10 days.

City Attorney William Mansfield Thursday night told the council, however, that by attaching the letter to the measure stating his objections, Snider had, according to wording in the city charter, actually vetoed the bill.

The council was then faced with the dilemma of either voting to over-ride Snider's unintentional veto, or see the Whittle ave. project die. Mansfield told the group it would take a two-thirds vote of the council to pass the measure.

Veto Is Upheld

Snider's inadvertent veto was upheld when the vote failed for lack of sufficient majority. The vote was 4 to 3. In other action, the council voted to:

-Reinstate a dance license for the Cellar club, Main and Bartlett sts., subject to three conditions: a 1:30 a.m. closing hour, that a uniformed off-duty policeman be on the premises at all times, and that the new owner of the restaurant continue remodeling operations.
-Accept the $18,938.72 bid of the First National Bank of Oregon on Series S Bancroft bonds. U. S. National bank bid $18,975.88, and Oregon bank submitted a bid of $19,047.09.

Approve An Ordinance

-Approve an ordinance making it a crime punishable by a fine of not more than $100 for an owner to let his livestock trespass on another's private property.

-Authorize Mayor James Dunley's facsimile signature for check payments.

-Approve plans and specifications for installation of a sanitary sewer on Kenyon st. from Holmes to Garfield sts.

-Defer until the next regular meeting action on a proposal to extend Earhart st. from Central ave. to Riverside ave., or an alternate.

-Defer until the next regular meeting action on Oregon state highway department plans for central business district gutter drainage and gutter correction on Riverside ave. from Sixth to Ninth sts.

-Approve Street Paving

-Approve street paving in Unit 1 of Siskiyou Village subdivision.

-Set public hearings for Jan. 18 on proposals to install a sanitary sewer on Kenyon st. and an eight-inch water main on Biddle rd. from Morrow rd. to Crater Lake hwy. The meeting was presided over by Mayor Dunley. All councilmen, including new members Joseph Hosick, Robert Cunningham and Richard Travis, were present.

Social Security Office to Move to Riverside Location

The Medford Social Security administration will move to its new location at 1017 North Riverside ave. Monday, Jan. 7, Edward B. Jacobson, district manager, has announced.

The new building, at North Riverside ave. and Liberty st., is solely occupied by the local social security office, having been designed and built for its use.

The growth in the social security program, plus the increasing population in southern Oregon, have made necessary greater space for the Medford office, which serves residents of both Jackson and Josephine county.

The Medford social security office opened in 1950 and in 1951, the first full year of operation, processed 1,317 claims for Old-Age and Survivors Insurance benefits.

In 1961 the office processed 3,255 claims; and although the tabulation for 1962 has not been completed, it is expected to equal or exceed the previous year.

In addition to taking and developing new claims for retirement, survivors and disability benefits, the local office answers several hundred inquiries each week, issues new and duplicate account numbers and assists individuals in checking on their social security record.

Jacobson added that although the office is being moved to North Riverside ave. and Liberty st., the mailing address, post office box 1068 and telephone number 773-7348 will remain the same.
