SCHOOL NEWS

Crater High School

New clothes, new paint and old friends were all greeted by the students returning to Crater High Jan. 3 after 12 days of Christmas vacation.

The annual Christmas Assembly was held in the gym. "Winter Wonderland" was the theme of the assembly of which Bill Schwab was chairman.

The Lavaliers, under the direction of Norman Carothers, sang a variety of Christmas carols. After the songs, Master of Ceremonies Dave Force introduced Sharon Shellabarger who told the Christmas Story.

The toys under the Christmas tree found it time to be a waken and the rocking horse, Tuti Ayres and Jaci Glines, rocked out onto the gym floor followed by the spotlight. Two teddy bears, Toni Morrow and Loraine Hixon, gave a roller skating demonstration followed by the appearance of two dolls, Sue Cox and Becki Glines.

A crew of Brownies, the wrestling team, gave Santa a rude awakening after which he invited Mr. Piche, world geography teacher, to sit on his knee. Santa presented Mr. Piche with a gift as he did Miss Boshears, shorthand and bookkeeping teacher, and Miss Harris, typing teacher.

After the duet of "Winter Wonderland" by Bills Schwab and Marion Payne the students were dismissed for Christmas vacation.

Vaughn Meader's Voice

Confusing To Kennedys

Washington—UPI—Who does Vaughn Meader sound like, anyway?

Recently President Kennedy said that Meader's voice on the best selling record, "The First Family," sounds like his youngest brother, Teddy.

At a news conference Monday, the latter, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (D-Mass.) told a questioner he thought Meader sounded "more like Bobby than he does me."

Contacted at the Justice department, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said actually Meader sounds like R. Sargent Shriver, the President's brother-in-law.

MOO-O-OS and MUSINGS

According to anthropologists, Germans have always had much smaller leg joints than most people.

This, we're sure, has something to do with wee knees and sour kraut.
