

Tornado Engages Pelicans Here Tonight, Crater There Saturday; Comets Contend at Grants Pass

Medford's Black Tornado and Crater's Comets put first things first tonight in basketball conflicts with defending champions. Then, on Saturday evening they go against each other in the Southern Oregon conference.

Tornado cagers, fighting to break into the conference victory column, are hosts tonight to the Klamath Falls Pelicans, defending champs of the circuit. Game time is 8:15 p.m. at Hedrick gym. Crater travels to battle the Grants Pass Cavemen, state A-1 titlists of 1962, with 8 p.m. tipoff time.

Crater and Medford contend at 8:15 p.m. Saturday at Central Point. Fourth District 6 A-1 combat of the week end will have Grants Pass at Ashland for Saturday opposition.

Klamath (8-0) and Crater (7-0) are the only members of the loop with unbeaten season records. They are 1-2 in the league with respective 2-0 and 1-0 marks and ambitious to pad their unblemished status.

Four loop schools rank among the top 10 in the polls. Crater ranks fifth in the Portland Oregonian poll of sports writers, Grants Pass seventh, Klamath eighth and Medford 10th. In the Oregon Journal coaches tabulation Grants Pass is sixth, Medford seventh and Klamath ninth with Crater as an also ran.

Still Early This week's four games may shed some light on how the district chase will go although it is rather early in the slate for a definite picture to unfold. Prognosticators have anticipated the tightest campaign in years.

Klamath will bring to Medford another one of its big clubs. Advance reports say that the Pelicans rebound well but do not have the speed of past recent KUHS teams. The Pels have been using zone defense to advantage. And, if Coach Al Keck chooses to exploit his club's height, it will have allitude on the Black Tornado.

Fred Kelley, 6-5, Wayne Chamberland and Terry Ash, 6-3, Hal Holman, 6-2, and Dick Scott, 6-1, formed a tall KF lineup last week against Grants Pass. If Keck wants to call on short men, he has the likes of Grover Dahn and Lanny Guyer.

Feeling over Klamath way is that, although the Pels are unbeaten, only last week end did they begin to get the recognition they deserve.

Promising

As Medford (5-2) completed preparations to meet both undefeated teams, Coach Frank Roelandt reported that the Tornado hoopers were showing a lot of fire and were catching on to things on which they had worked on all week, "so it is quite promising."

The mentor indicated that he probably will go with the cagers who started last week. That would be Jack Forde, 6-4 1/2, Gibb Mitchell, 5-11, Mike Barnes, 5-9, Dan Miles, 5-7, and Mike Neathamer, 5-10, since they did a good job against Grants Pass. But, Roelandt brought out also that reserves have looked good so it might not be long until some of them are in there. And, he was not absolutely certain on the starters.

Jim Hill, 6-2 1/2, still favoring a shoulder which went out of place a couple of weeks ago, is not yet in top condition but is starting to round back into shape. "He can help us," said Roelandt.

Ouija Board The coach said that the Tornado has been working on quite a few offensive and defensive combinations. "We've been scrambling," said Roelandt, "to see what various kids can do."

Concerning Klamath Falls and Crater, Roelandt declared "No team can go undefeated this long and not be tough." He remarked, "Somebody's got to find their weaknesses and I hope it's us." Roelandt spoke of the need to find the right combinations at the right time. He ventured that a Ouija board might be in order.

Crater's Comets, out to uphold the fine reputation they have built, will yield height to both Grants Pass and Medford. They have no one to match the 6-4 1/2 of Medford's Forde or 6-4 of GP's Larry Lindquist. Comet starters this evening are expected to be Howard Tomlinson and Paul Branson, each 6-1, Lou Alvarez and Mike Glines, each 5-8 and either Pat Pepper or Darryl Summerfield, each of whom is 5-2. A bad ankle could limit the amount of duty Pepper sees for Coach Lloyd Hoffine's club.

Supreme Test Grants Pass Coach Gordon Prehm is expected to choose his starters from among eight players Larry Lindquist, 6-4, Al Hutchins, 6-3, Jim Pippin, and Marty Bauer, 6-2, Bob Shepard, 6-1, Gary Reddick and Lyman Keisecker, 5-9, and Tom Sparlin, 5-11.

Dennis O'Leary, 5-10, and Gary Van Koten, are Cavemen reported still sidelined by injuries. Prehm has brought John Mahaley, 6 feet, up from the jayvees to fill the gap at guard and has moved up Jerry McCormack because of his outside shooting prowess.

Effort has been made at Grants Pass this week, end to emphasize to the Cavemen that the Comets will be tough. Jerry Acklen in the Grants Pass Courier has pointed to the high scoring by VIES FOR COMETS—Willie Jones, 190-pound 5-10 letterman, is among Crater high basketball players who tussle at Grants Pass this evening and engage Medford high at Central Point on Saturday.

Crater this season and declared that the "supreme test" comes tonight. He terms as a "dangerous idea" the thought that GP will have an easy time.

The Comets view this, themselves, as a rugged week end which should indicate how strong they really are and just what are their real chances in the spirited conference rivalry. The Central Pointers expect to have their hands full both nights against a pair of clubs which have both more physical strength and more depth.

GP at Ashland

They'll again utilize their speed to make up for their shortness. But, they face the physical task of going hard two nights in a row against taller teams which also possess some speed.

Stronger than in several years but still after their first conference triumph since 1959 are the Grizzlies of Ashland. The Bruins romped through a pre-loop slate unbeaten then took it on the chin last week twice. There is nothing like a victory over GP this week end that would heighten their morale.

Coach George Keil has had his Ashland charges working to eliminate some troubles which showed up last week. Offensive drill has had attention because the Grizzlies "went out of their offense" in the Crater fray. Rebounding has had work and time has been spent straightening out the defense.

Dale Tepper hurt his ankle in the Crater game. Keil described the injury as not too bad but said that Tepper got a charleyhorse Tuesday so that the amount of his services is uncertain. The Grizzlies may have Mike Cotton and Tod Hess or Tepper up front against GP with Greg Lindley, Rick Pierce and Jim Lamb rounding out the starting five.

Junior varsity and sophomore games are also slated. Generally they will be at 6:30 p.m. at Ashland, however, the soph game will be at 5 p.m.

Eagle Point Slates 2 Rogue Opponents

Eagle Point - Eagle Point high will be the favorite in Rogue league games tonight and Saturday but Coach Dale Bates has emphasized that the Eagles can't overlook either foe and are going to have to be ready.

The Eagles are hosts to Sacred Heart this evening and go to Rogue River on Saturday. Bates reported that the Eagles have been trying to work on "the little things." These included jump ball situations and out-of-bounds patterns. There also has been work on shooting which is below par.

Eagle Point, the loops defender, is now 1-1 in the league while Sacred Heart is 0-1 and Rogue River 0-2. A particularly hard game is anticipated on Saturday for the Chieftains of Rogue River generally make it rough for EP on their home floor.

Possible Starters Bates indicated that possible starters for the Eagles tonight are Charles Pomeroy, Wilbur Boatwright, Duane Whaley, Lonnie Mesloh or Richard Short and John Linder or Frank Charley, Mesloh, Charley and Boatwright particularly have shown hustle this week.

Sacred Heart may open with Pete Krok, Jim Corson, Dick Miller, Elmo LeBeau and Mary Davis. Rogue River may have Mike O'Brien, Frank Palmerton, Tom Davidson, Jack Salter and Bill Cooper.

In their week end games Illinois Valley is at Henley tonight, Phoenix at Lakeview and Rogue River at St. Mary's and Illinois Valley is at Lakeview on Saturday and Phoenix at Henley.

Pomeroy has paced Eagle Point scoring with 208 points, an average of 20.8 per game. Short is second high with 112 and Boatwright has scored 100. Short leads in rebounds with 162 and Pomeroy has cleared 138.

Eagle Point has averaged 59 points per game to opponents' 53 in compiling a season win-loss mark of 7-3.

Eagle Point scoring—Charles Pomeroy, 208, Richard Short 112, Wilbur Boatwright 100, John Linder 83, Duane Whaley 36, Frank Charley 23, Lonnie Mesloh 8, Gary Clement 6, Bill Ayres 4, Bob Collins 4, Jack Straus.

Eagle Point rebounding—Short 162, Pomeroy 138, Linder 43, Boatwright 42, Whaley 23, Charley 13, Mesloh 15, Ayres 7, Straus 4, Clement 2, Corlies 2.

PLAYER MAY ASSIST Baltimore, Md. — (AP) — Don Shula, new head coach of the Baltimore Colts, says he may name one of his players to assist him with the coaching duties. The 33-year-old Shula, hired from the Detroit Lions' defensive coaching staff to replace Weeb Ewbank, signed a two-year contract with the Colts Thursday.

LONG AND SHORT - Long and short of the Medford high basketball crew are depicted here as Dan Miles (25) gets an "assist" from Jim Hill (43) and Jack Forde (41). At 7 Miles is Mr. Short on the Black Tornado squad while Forde, 6-4 1/2, is Mr. Tall. Hill is one of the tall whirlwinds at 6-2 1/2. The Tornado takes on Klamath Falls at Hedrick gym here tonight and goes over to Central Point to meet Crater on Saturday night.

Oregon State, Stanford Highlight of Week End In Coast Hoop Activity

United Press International Oregon State's invasion of Stanford, Big Six action in Los Angeles and a replay of the West Coast Athletic conference tournament final highlight a big week end of basketball activity along the west coast.

The Stanford (9-2) vs. Oregon State (8-3) battles tonight and Saturday in the bandbox Stanford gym match clubs seeking national recognition as the best team west of Arizona State.

It also pairs off the Beavers' 7-foot Mel Counts and the Indians' 6-foot-8 Tom Duse in a battle which might determine which one is an All-America and which one is just a first or second string All-Coast performer.

High interest will also center around Heisman Trophy winner Terry Baker of the Beavers. While the southpaw guard is not a punishing scorer, the Beavers' basketball team has improved a notch since he took over duties as backcourt field general.

In Big Six activity, Washington (2-0) is at USC (0-2). The Huskies have still not convinced anybody that they are a threat in Big Six play but could do so with a victory or two against the Trojans.

California faces deflated UCLA Saturday. Johnny Wooden's Bruins went to Seattle last week with an eight game winning streak, a fifth place national ranking and the rating as Big Six favorite.

But lowly Washington dropped to tenth nationally. Cal (2-1) goes south with a 68.7 scoring average, best in the school's proud cage history.

St. Mary's Gaels, who lost the WCAC tourney title to San Jose State, will seek revenge tonight at Oakland.

The Spartans contained St. Mary's and won 55-51 in the tourney final as San Jose's Dennis Bates put a good clamp on the Gaels' brilliant Steve Gray.

Santa Clara (2-0) hosts Loyola (0-2) in more WCAC action tonight. Saturday night San Jose meets Loyola while USF (2-0) hosts Pacific (0-2).

Los Angeles — (UPI) — Y. A. Tittle, who at the age of 36 set a National Football league season record of 33 touchdown passes during 1962, said that he probably would retire from football after the 1963 season.
