On the AIR

By ELEANOR WISE

Two promising sports series make their television debut Saturday - "Challenge Golf" and "Sports International." "Challenge Golf" at 2:30 p.m. on KBES - TV features Arnold Palmer and South Africa's Gary Player in match play against top pro challengers and should be of particular interest to the golf-minded Rogue Valley.

The program will be repeated on Sunday at noon. "Sports International" at 3:30 p.m. on KMED-TV will feature both popular and unusual sporting events and competitions throughout the world. How the customs and traditions associated with these sports originated will also be shown.

The first program will study boxing in Thailand, a savage sport flourishing among a gentle, religious people.

"Exploring" at 11:30 a.m. Saturday on KMED-TV will feature actress Maureen O'Sullivan narrating an animated version of a Grimm fairy tale, "The Three Golden Keys"; the history and operation of music boxes will be shown; Sir Geoffrey Giraffe will demonstrate the mathematics of computers; Dr. Hibbs will discuss and demonstrate secret codes, and how the exploration of the DNA molecule is a major milestone in the field of genetics.

ACCEPTS POST - Washington - (UPI) - Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania, who leaves office Jan. 15, has accepted an offer to be chairman of President Kennedy's Committee on Equal Opportunity in Housing.

Landers Retires From Pacific Power Company

Fred L. Landers, employee of Pacific Power and Light company for the past six years, was recently honored on his retirement at a luncheon given by the company for which he was janitor at the West Main st. office.

Mrs. Landers shared honors with her husband and other guests were fellow employees, retirees and friends.

A special service pin, a certificate of recognition and a certificate for five shares of Pacific Power and Light common stock.

A native of Texas, Landers was in the newspaper business for 15 years before moving to Phoenix, where he resided on a farm before becoming associated with the Gold Hill News and Glendale Log, published at Glendale Hill. He also was with McDonald Candy company and Eads Transfer and Storage company before joining the power company.

The Landers have twin sons, both of whom are ordained ministers. The Rev. Ted Landers is Christian education director for the Burlington Baptist church in Portland and the Rev. Ned Landers is minister of youth at the First Baptist church in Milwaukie, Ore.

Eagle Point Firemen Extinguished House Fire

Eagle Point - The Eagle Point volunteer fire department extinguished a fire on North B st. in one of Mrs. Gertrude Holmes' rental cabins about 8:30 p.m. Thursday. The fire apparently started from an overheated stove or faulty flue. It burned a four foot wide strip in the end of the house. According to David Kahl, fire chief, the amount of damage has not yet been estimated.

IGNORANT OF 'FACTS'

London - (UPI) - An anonymous letter to the Nursing Times claimed Thursday that many young nurses are forced to quit their jobs when they have illegitimate children because they are ignorant of "the facts of life."

Museum Visitors During Past Year Reach 55,948

Jacksonville - Visitation of the Jacksonville Museum surpassed all previous records during 1962 when it reached 55,948, an increase of 8,919 over 1961, and 4,921 over 1959, when the previous attendance record was set, Miss Mary Hanley, curator, has announced.

Attendance since July 10, 1950, opening date of the museum, reached 509,098 on Jan. 1, 1963.

During 1962 the average daily attendance was 162. Attendance for December was 1,059.

Twenty five states, Washington, D. C., Canada and India were represented on the visitors' register during the final month of the year. The gifts and loans presented to the museum during December included a collection of 15 early Jackson county documents, dated 1855 to 1869. They were sent to Jacksonville by Mrs. Irene Seely, curator of the Klamath County museum, who said she felt that the records should more properly be preserved in Jackson county where they originated.

In the records are the annual report of L. L. Davis, county school superintendent in 1867, who reports 1,183 pupils in 19 districts for the year. He reports $2,514.58 in the school fund and apologetically adds that the average cost per pupil increased from $1.89 to $2.14.

Other donors to the museum during December were Mrs. Jack Henbest, Mrs. Una B. Inch, Mrs. Garland Lance, L. L. Clark, all of Medford; George Tucker, Jacksonville; Tom M. Riley, Eagle Point; Albert Stauffer, Butte Falls; Marion Bowen, Bend; and Lt. Col. Bruce Hammond, U. S. Marine Corps, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Colonel Hammond donated a letter of discharge, dated Nov. 6, 1854, for Private T. T. Walker, Company A, Mounted Volunteers, signed by Col. John E. Ross and Capt. Jesse Walker, for services in the Indian Wars.
