Ashland Couple Feted On Golden Anniversary

Ashland—The same words used in describing the bridal couple married January 8, 1913, apply 50 years later as Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Engle marked their golden wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Engle's plans for celebrating the day quietly were altered by friends who sent congratulatory greetings, flowers and telegrams, and by members of Chapter AC, PEO sisterhood, who surprised Mrs. Engle with a party Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Jean Eberhart.

An anniversary cake decorated in gold was served, and a brief informal program honored Mrs. Engle.

Miss Florence Allen read a poem appropriate to the occasion and Mrs. Nancy Kaylor, accompanied by Mrs. Imogene McCoy, sang two numbers, "Love Came Calling" and "Alice Blue Gown."

Day Described In describing their wedding day, Mr. Engle recalled the fresh ten-inch snowfall that complicated the transportation from the bride's home on Manzanita street to the Southern Pacific depot where they entrained for a California honeymoon.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Engle are native Oregonians and both have lived in Ashland since their earliest childhood. Before her marriage Mrs. Engle was Grace Garrett, member of a pioneer Jackson county family.

Mr. Engle was assistant cashier of the First National bank at the time of their marriage and continued in executive position for 25 years. For the next 17 years he was in the fire insurance business, retiring in 1950.

Active in Methodist church life and in a wide variety of community affairs, Mr. Engle finds time for his favorite hobby, golf, a year-round sport that takes him onto the valley fairways at least twice a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brainard (Brainard photo)

Marriage Rites Held At Valley View Church

Miss Phyllis Scott, Coos Bay, became the bride of Charles Brainard, Medford, in a ceremony held at the Valley View Seventh-day Adventist church. Elder Arvin Winkle officiated at the candlelight wedding attended by 150 guests.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott, Coos Bay. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Brainard, 246 Winema Way, Medford.

Baskets of white chrysanthemums decorated the church for the December 23 wedding. Robert Nations sang and Mrs. Clifford Fellows played the organ wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white taffeta trimmed with Viennese lace at the neckline, sleeves, and edging the overskirt. Her elbow length veil was held by a single white satin rose and she carried a bouquet of roses and stephanotis.

Sister Is Attendant Mrs. Lawrence Bloom, La Sierra, Calif., was honor attendant for her sister. Other attendants were Mrs. Thomas Swenson, Madison, Wis., another sister, Miss Sharon Moore, Fresno, Calif., and Miss Donna Varner, Walla Walla, Wash. They wore red satin sheath dresses and carried bouquets of white feathered chrysanthemums.

Laura Winkle, Phoenix, was flower girl and Bible boy was Michael Eagle, nephew of the bridegroom. Rudy Yost served as best man. Seating the guests were Leonard Yost, Robert Nations, and Jerry Yost.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Girls Community club. Mrs. Cornell Sabo cut and served the wedding cake.

Following the reception the bride changed to a black suit with leopard jacket and black accessories. They are making their home in the Medford Plaza apartments. The bridegroom is employed by the Eugene Burrill Lumber company.

Jacksonville Lodge To Meet

Jacksonville—A meeting of Adarell chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, will be conducted Thursday, January 17, at 8 p.m., in the Jacksonville Masonic temple. Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Shores, worthy patron and matron will preside.

Refreshments will be provided by the five "star points," Mrs. W. C. Smith, Mrs. Gerald Note, Mrs. Clarence Williams, Mrs. Lewis Applebaker and Mrs. E. C. Wolgamott.

Newlyweds Make Home In Corvallis

Central Point—Mr. and Mrs. Delton G. Trautman, whose marriage was an event of the holiday season, are living at 830 North Twenty-third street, Corvallis. The bride is the former Miss Janet L. Hobbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Hobbs, 143 Bush street, Central Point.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil E. Trautman, is a student at Oregon State university.

The candlelight ceremony was read at 8 o'clock in the evening, December 28 in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sullivan, 1533 Whitman street. Performing the double ring rites was the Rev. W. A. Dawes, Ashland, retired Baptist minister.

Miss Virginia Wilson was the bride's only attendant and best man was John Ahorn. Mr. Hobbs gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride's street length frock was of white brocade and she wore a short veil. She carried a white orchid on a white Bible.

Her attendant wore a red silk dress and carried a nosegay bouquet of red and white carnations.

The Sullivan home was decorated with arrangements of red carnations, holly and greenery.

Mrs. Irvin Urie played the organ music and Miss Cheryl Ghelardi sang. The reception followed the ceremony and refreshments were served from a table decorated with holly.

The couple made their wedding trip to Portland. The bride attended Central Point schools and has been employed as a dental assistant by Dr. Bruce L. Turner in Central Point.

The bridegroom also attended Central Point schools.

Two servings of ice cream (1/6 quart) give about the same amount of calcium as one glass of milk.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Goodwin

Marriage Announced

Montague—A ceremony Saturday, December 22, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hurd, Montague, married their daughter Vera to Glen Goodwin, Yreka. The bridegroom is the son of Erwin Goodwin and the late Mrs. Goodwin.

The double-ring ceremony was read in the presence of relatives and a few close friends by the Rev. Leslie Owens of the Booneville Assembly of God Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a three-piece suit of blue with a printed bodice. Her corsage was white carnations.

Mrs. Leslie Owens, matron of honor, wore a blue suit and a pink carnation corsage. At the reception which followed the cake was cut and served by the matron of honor and punch was served by Miss Doris Wheeler.

The bride attended Montague Elementary school and is now a senior in Yreka High school. Her husband attended both Yreka Elementary and Yreka High school and following graduation he took training in office machinery maintenance in Hartford, Conn. He is employed with Ohlund's Office supply, Yreka, and the newlyweds are living there.

MANOR-ISMS

By ETHELYN EVANS

To my Manor and Valley friends:

HOW OLD ARE YOU? Age is a quality of mind—If you have left your dreams behind. If hope is lost, If you no longer look ahead, If your ambitions' fires are dead—Then you are OLD.

But if from life you take the best, And if in life you keep the best, If love you hold—No matter how the years go by, No matter how the birthdays fly—You are NOT old!

(Author unknown) This is from the Dartmouth college class letter sent to my husband, Bob Evans.

Yes, we must now admit that we rushed off for the southland just before Thanksgiving. From Yreka on, the atmosphere was uncannily clear and brilliant, and for 21 days we traveled or lingered in warm sun and clear air and loved it. The first of this week brought some cold and rain, but a considerate weatherman arranged for rain during the nights, leaving the days dry, but cloudy and cold. These benighted Arizona people actually were jubilant—needing the rain.

No doubt everyone enroute south has his own "pet" route. We, husband and I, like bouncing off that 4-lane speed way on to California State 138. Such an independent little road—sans traffic, noise and speed! It winds through the olive green and neutral brown velvet hills, and the canyon is wide enough for a field now and then. There are rocks and rocks, some weird that look like solidified chalk. They are scattered about like huge tombstones for a race of giants; and the soaring, jagged peaks seemed near enough to "pat."

Thanksgiving dinner at the Fresno Hacienda—a delicious buffet amid mobs of people—made us feel less guilty about leaving before a holiday. Flowers were blooming all over the place and both swimming pools were in constant use.

At Palm Springs, Calif., we visited and found a good place for lunch with Manor friend, Mrs. Graham Foote, who is spending the winter in her unusually spacious and convenient trailer home in Sahara Park. The Medford Hubbards came in to call—just back from Thanksgiving in Las Vegas and already planning other trips. Their trailer home is just a place to come back TO. We were shown the former trailer of our Manor member, Miss Hazel Calbick which was nearby.

At the time we again took up the trek south, the papers were reviewing the relatively recent development of the Coahella and Imperial Valleys. It is fabulous—almost unbelievable. There are miles and miles—not acres—of citrus groves, vineyards, cotton fields, sugar cane and mills, cattle, sheep, etc. There are streets, or rather lanes, through the big groves which are numbered or named. No wonder! One could be lost for hours if not days, trying to find a particular spot or even one's way out. Only along the so-called "table" crop fields did we see anything but mammoth modern machinery working or ready for work. Along these fields and the canals branching off from the huge "All-American" canal, we did see some gangs of Indian and Mexican workers, apparently all having a coffee break or what-have-you.

All of this development in about SIXTY years, since the introduction of water—the "liquid gold." But much of it remains just desert with scrubby growth and, near Arizona, just sand in large and small dunes and just flat. The road through it all is very good and, of course, expensive, so surely someone must be agitating for a "Danes Park," a la Oregon.

We stopped in Yuma—such a change from the little desert town of 14 years ago—and in Casa Grande where we stayed at the Francisco Grande, owned, built, and operated by the San Francisco Giants. A charming place with good food. We would like to be there in late February and March when the farm teams are working on the diamonds, with the big teams there for two weeks.

Milk is an essential part of a well balanced diet, because it supplies many of the necessary food essentials—protein, vitamins and minerals.

Rites Held At Church In Applegate

Applegate Community church was the setting recently for the wedding of Muriel Janice Allen, 417 Alice street, Medford, and Charley Herbert McCallister, 2040 South Stage road. The Rev. T. S. Gopen officiated at the double ring rites held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

The bride is a daughter of M. J. Swing, 892 Elkader street, Ashland. Mr. McCallister's mother is Mrs. Harriet A. McCallister, 920 West 11th street, Apartment 2, Medford. Some 50 relatives and friends attended the wedding held December 22. Greenery decorated the church and Mrs. John Moore played the piano wedding music. The bride wore a white net and lace frock over green satin. Her green veil was held by a pearl crown and she carried lily of the valley and yellow roses. Her garter gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Gordon D. Allard attended the bride. She wore a ballerina length frock of pink satin and a pink net hat. Her flowers were pink and white daisies and pink baby roses. Joseph J. McCallister, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Seating the guests were Mr. Allard and Clarence J. Swing, brother of the bride. For her stepdaughter's wedding, Mrs. Swing chose a blue wool print dress with black accessories. Mrs. McCallister wore a pink and black print wool knit dress with black accessories. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Applegate school cafeteria. The bride attended Crater High school. Mr. McCallister attended Jacksonville High school and is in the production department at Timber Products company.

Music, Slides On Program for Shady Cove PTA

Shady Cove—A program of music and colored slides is planned for the Shady Cove Parent Teacher meeting Monday, January 14 at 7:30 p.m., in the grade school gymnasium.

Ten music students who make up the Classic Tones will perform under the direction of Charles Martin, music instructor of Eagle Point High school. The colored slides will be shown by Rene Espourteille, the scenes from countries he and his family have visited.

A piano solo will be furnished by Miss Margy Lehman, Eagle Point High school student, whose instructor is Mrs. Georgia Powers, Medford; formerly of Eagle Point. A flag salute will be given by a Girl Scout troop and refreshments will be served by the mothers of first and second grade students.

Mrs. Chester Calloway will conduct the business meeting.

Past Noble Grand's Announcement Meeting

Gold Hill—Mrs. Lester Parker will be hostess for the next meeting of Past Noble Grand club of Amethyst Rebekeh lodge at her home on Lampman road, Thursday, January 24 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Earl Moore was hostess for the group in December. Mrs. Joe Lewis, president of the club presided.
