Voters' League Hears Talk On Urban Problems

The need for establishment of a state agency to aid cities and counties in solving urban problems was pointed out at the January meeting of the Medford League of Women Voters.

The speaker was Dr. Earl Campbell. He said that such a state agency should have no direct control over local government administrations.

Dr. Campbell stressed that there is no one ideal solution for urban problems, but that there are many different solutions, with each having definite limitations.

He urged citizens to show an interest in the problems at once, and said solutions should be sought now before they become even more complex.

Metropolitan problems will be discussed in both January unit meetings. The morning unit will meet at 9:45 a.m., January 22 at the home of Mrs. Hugh Collins, 245 Valley View drive. The evening unit will meet at the home of Mrs. Thomas Rutter, 1033 Queen Anne avenue, at 8 p.m.

Gregg Smith and the choral group which bears his name will give a program in Medford Sunday, January 20, for Jackson County Civic Music association. It is set for 8 p.m. at the Medford High school auditorium. The Gregg Smith Singers come recommended as one of the best choral groups of the nation.

Program Announced

The Gregg Smith Singers, who will appear in concert here Sunday, January 20, for Jackson County Civic Music association, open each program with the same selection. They will sing here at the Medford High school auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

The traditional opening number is "O Great Mystery," a Christmas motet written by the great Spanish Renaissance composer, Tomas Luis de Victoria. For the Medford program, the second number will be Gabrieli's "Be Joyful in the Lord."

These will be followed by Mozart's "Adoramus Te," a group of early American hymns by William Billings, "Psalm 67" by Ives and a motet written by Director Smith.

The second part of the program will be given over to "Stabat Mater" by Franz Schubert.

The concluding group will include works by John Dowland, four peasant songs by the contemporary composer, Igor Stravinsky, two Mozart drinking songs sung by the male chorus, and folk songs.

TOPS Club

A reorganizational meeting of the TOPS club has been announced for Monday, January 21 at 7 p.m., in Sacred Heart hospital's social room. All interested women are invited to join. Letters of the club name request "take off pounds sensibly."

Directors Plan Meeting Tonight

The board of directors of Civic Music association will meet at the home of Mrs. D. F. Huson, president, tonight at 8 o'clock.

Here for the meeting is J. Foster, representative of the parent organization from Evanston, Ill. He will pay his annual "service call" in preparation for the annual membership drive.

The local association is planning to hold the drive in the spring of 1963 rather than waiting until fall. There are many reasons for this move, according to Mrs. Huson. It has been noted in recent years that top flight artists are being booked far in advance and it is difficult to fill the season's needs if booking is delayed until fall.

Last fall the association's membership campaign was held in a month when other efforts of a similar nature were being undertaken, and community efforts were divided.

To take care of the needs of Southern Oregon college students, a block of tickets will be set aside for their purchase in the fall.

Gold Hill PTA Plans Fun Show Saturday Night

Gold Hill - A "fun show" for families is planned by Gold Hill Parent-Teacher association Saturday, January 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the Multi-Purpose room of Patrick school.

"Molloy's Broadway Follies" has been planned "for everyone's enjoyment" according to the committee in charge. The cost will be nominal, with a reduced rate for children and pre-schoolers to be admitted free.

The program will include a can-can dance by members of the Gold Hill Lions club, skits, instrumental numbers, songs by parents, teachers and students. Refreshments will be served.

Proceeds from the show will be used to improve outside lighting at the school and for the achievement award dinner program which was begun last year for all boys and girls who are on the honor roll. The dinner proved so successful as a way of rewarding the children for their efforts to achieve good grades that it was decided to make it an annual event.

Japanese Postal Items Theme for Stamp Group

Japan and its postal items were the theme of the Southern Oregon Philatelic society at the recent January meeting. Mrs. Edward Leach displayed and spoke about her collection of Japanese stamps, and other philatelic items from that country. One of the items on display was a hand-made album entitled "Imperial Japanese Stamps and Cards," each page contained four or five stamps, and was decorated with hand painted flowers.

Also on display was the calendar that the Japanese Ministry of Posts issue each year to advertise their services, with the inscriptions in both Japanese and English. One old item was a letter carrier, used by the elite of Japan many years ago to hold their mail while it was carried by the servant to the addressee. It was given Mrs. Leach in 1906 by a Japanese house boy.

Besides Japanese curios brought by club members, Mrs. Leach also showed a Japanese New Year card, a Japanese philatelic magazine, a ticket to a musical demonstration of the Imperial Household Music department, and a recent set of eleven Japanese flower stamps. She also had a letter written in Japanese from someone who had wanted to become a philatelic pen pal.

Siskiyou County's Famous People Listed by Speaker

Yreka - "Famous People Who Have Lived in Siskiyou County" was the topic of a talk given by Mrs. Ella Soule before the Siskiyou County Historical society at their recent meeting at the museum. Approximately 80 members and guests attended. Lewis M. Foulke, program chairman introduced Mrs. Soule, who is a native of Siskiyou county, born and reared in the Little Shasta area and who was and still is active in several organizations.

Lotta Crabtree was the first on Mrs. Soule's list of famous people. She was an entertainer who sang and danced and told jokes for the miners. There is a marker erected in front of Con Brown's place of business in Yreka where Lotta once entertained. She was born in New York, her mother was a seamstress, who worked for actresses in the theater, sewing their wardrobes and because she was the family breadwinner had to take her little girl Lotta along with her.

The father was a ne'er-do-well who was always trying to strike it rich, but never made the grade. The child was very appealing and the actresses taught her little dance routines and songs. The father came to California and sent for his family and they lived in Grass Valley next door to the famous actress, Lola Montez, who suggested the child be taken to mining camps to entertain miners who were very lonely for their own children.

Success She was a success and made a great deal of money; miners were known to have thrown gold nuggets on the stage after her performances. In later life she was very wealthy and extremely charitable.

Was Governor William Irving, who was at one time a resident of Yreka and lived on Lane street, was Governor of California in 1875. He was also a state senator, the first president of the county fair, editor of a paper, and worked on the sanitation commission, which was state wide.

Dr. Fleming G. Hens was one of the men of the party who discovered gold in Yreka at the Thompson Dry diggings and that started the gold rush to that area. He at one time was a city trustee, and was responsible for starting many lity on western history. All reside in the county.

Installations Before the program retiring president of the Siskiyou County Historical society, Wayne Ralston, installed the new president, James McNeill, vice president, James Hartley, and secretary, Josephine Kinney.

During the business session presided over by the new president the curator reported that 9,350 visitors had signed the register, but noted that at least two hundred had failed to sign while visiting. Visitors were asked to view the changed DAR show case which holds interesting items.

Fred Stratton, membership chairman said there were now 1038 members. The aim is for 1500 members by the end of this year. Each member of the heirloom group is asked to bring an heirloom to the next meeting, January 24 at the Kathryn Roush home in Mt. Shasta.

Hot Potato Salad Hearty Winter Dish

Though potato salads may be considered a summer dish, they're mainstays for potluck dinners and buffet meals throughout the year.

For the cooler months an even heartier version of this all-time favorite is Hot German Potato Salad. Made with a cooked dressing, it is served hot topped with crumbled crisp bacon. Thus it is both a salad and a hot dish as well.

HOT POTATO SALAD
Six medium-sized potatoes; six slices bacon; three-fourth cup chopped onion; one-third cup bacon fat; one tablespoon flour; one teaspoon sugar; one and one-half teaspoon salt; one half teaspoon celery seed; pepper to taste; three-fourth cup water; one-half cup vinegar; one-half cup chopped celery; two hard-cooked eggs, chopped.

Cook potatoes until tender; cool, peel and slice. Fry bacon until crisp; drain and reserve bacon fat. Cook onion in bacon fat until golden. Mix flour, sugar, salt, celery seed, pepper, water and vinegar. Stir into onions and cook until mixture boils.

Toss potatoes, chopped celery, chopped hard-cooked eggs with hot dressing. Heat until warmed through; sprinkle with crumbled bacon and serve. Makes six servings.
