

Higher College Dormitory Board, Room Charges Pondered

Russian Premier Inspects Front Line Troops in Communist East Germany

Berlin - (UPI) - Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev left East Berlin today to inspect "cold war" Russian front line troops stationed in Communist East Germany.

In a dispatch from Wuensdorf, East Germany, the official Soviet Tass news agency said Khrushchev was welcomed there by Russian garrison troops and their families.

Khrushchev made his trip after attending the sixth East German Communist party congress in East Berlin that appeared to have accomplished little in the way of gains for the Communist world.

Tass said the Soviet officers and men at Wuensdorf assured Khrushchev that Russian troops in East Germany "are prepared to fulfill their patriotic duty at any moment."

Stormy Ovation
Tass added that Khrushchev received a stormy ovation from the troops in Wuensdorf and wished them every success in their work.

The Soviet premier smiled his way through the wind up of East Germany's Communist party congress Monday but took no direct part in the proceedings.

He seemed content to let East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht be the star of the show. At the end, after Ulbricht and his entire slate had been reelected as expected, Khrushchev gave him a bear hug and kisses on both cheeks.

Except to show the world that he still supported Ulbricht, Khrushchev's visit seemed to have no great purpose.

The ideological joust with the delegation from Red China was completely one-sided. The delegates cheered Khrushchev and Ulbricht at proper intervals. They boomed and stamped their feet at Wu Hsiu-chuan from Peking.

Khrushchev was so confident he did not even bother to attend the session at which Wu spoke. So far as could be determined not a single delegation took Red China's side.

The six-day congress went completely according to the book. The long speeches contained the usual rocket rattling, anti-Western statements and boasts of eventual Communist domination of the world.

Even so, they were mild in comparison to some Communist speeches of past years and Khrushchev went out of his way to point out of the destructive power in Western hands.

The visit to East Germany did give Khrushchev a chance to see a few factories and perhaps determine for himself why Ulbricht's regime has been having economic difficulties.

Some of the money also would be used in the purchase of additional land and construction of new dormitories, Lieuallen said.

The proposal brought on a protest march and demonstration by 50 Oregon State University students at Corvallis last Thursday.

The increase would be about $40 a year per student. It would raise the average charges for a student in a dormitory to $720 a year.

A number of recommendations by its committees also came up for action.

The building committee Monday decided to allow Portland State College to expand from its present nine-block area in downtown Portland to 22 blocks. It approved a plan under which the college would buy key lots in nine blocks west of the school to prevent major apartment or business developments which would keep the campus from spreading as the college expanded.

"This is not a good policy for any public board to adopt, but in this case it seems the only thing to do," Board Chairman William Walsh said.

He said it could cause property owners to allow their property to be devaluated, knowing it eventually will be taken over by the school. The current appraisal price of the key lots is $184,000, according to W. T. Lemman, PSO's director of business affairs.

The board's finance committee approved the return of $351,000 from the higher education budget to the state. The return was ordered by the State Department of Finance and Administration in line with state policy of cutting appropriations to meet reduction in state income.

Two dormitories with total capacity of 750 students at Oregon State; a 170-women dorm for the University Medical and Dental Schools; and two dormitories, central food service, married student housing and land for future dormitories at the University of Oregon.

PULL HELPS
St. Louis, Mo. - (UPI) - James Kennedy, 13, attributed his success in the 11th round of the St. Louis spelling bee Monday to a tranquilizer. He said he milked two cows to relax before spelling.

Increased Food Costs, Need for More Land Cited

Portland - (UPI) - The State Board of Higher Education today considered a proposal that it raise dormitory board and room charges at the state's six colleges and universities.

The plan was advanced by Dr. Roy Lieuallen, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education. He said the additional money was needed to meet increased food and maintenance costs.

Some of the money also would be used in the purchase of additional land and construction of new dormitories, Lieuallen said.

The proposal brought on a protest march and demonstration by 50 Oregon State University students at Corvallis last Thursday.

The increase would be about $40 a year per student. It would raise the average charges for a student in a dormitory to $720 a year.

A number of recommendations by its committees also came up for action.

The building committee Monday decided to allow Portland State College to expand from its present nine-block area in downtown Portland to 22 blocks. It approved a plan under which the college would buy key lots in nine blocks west of the school to prevent major apartment or business developments which would keep the campus from spreading as the college expanded.

"This is not a good policy for any public board to adopt, but in this case it seems the only thing to do," Board Chairman William Walsh said.

He said it could cause property owners to allow their property to be devaluated, knowing it eventually will be taken over by the school. The current appraisal price of the key lots is $184,000, according to W. T. Lemman, PSO's director of business affairs.

The board's finance committee approved the return of $351,000 from the higher education budget to the state. The return was ordered by the State Department of Finance and Administration in line with state policy of cutting appropriations to meet reduction in state income.

Two dormitories with total capacity of 750 students at Oregon State; a 170-women dorm for the University Medical and Dental Schools; and two dormitories, central food service, married student housing and land for future dormitories at the University of Oregon.

PULL HELPS
St. Louis, Mo. - (UPI) - James Kennedy, 13, attributed his success in the 11th round of the St. Louis spelling bee Monday to a tranquilizer. He said he milked two cows to relax before spelling.

Stock List Extends Monday's Rally With Nearly All Groups Participating

New York - (UPI) - Stocks extended Monday's rally today. Nearly all groups participated in the advance. Electronics were a standout with IBM up nearly 4 and Beckman, Motorola, International Telephone and Texas Instruments up 1 or better.

Du Pont rose close to 1 in the chemicals and steels firm. American Motors tacked on roughly 3/4 in a generally higher auto section.

Norfolk & Western added nearly a point in the rails and Eastern Gas & Fuel rose nearly a point in the utilities. Many foods, oils, and finance shares also moved higher.

DOW JONES AVERAGES
New York - (UPI) - Dow Jones final stock averages: 30 industrials 675.24; up 2.72; 20 railroads 146.30, up 0.05; 15 utilities 134.16, up 0.31, and 65 stocks 237.69, up 0.69. Sales Monday were about 4.08 million shares compared with 4.76 million shares Friday.

Monday's prices on selected stocks:

Allied Chemical	43 1/2
Alum Co. Am.	39 1/4
American Air Lines	18 1/2
American Can	46
American Motors	64 1/2
A. T. & T.	119 3/4
American Tobacco	30 1/2
Anacosta Copper	43 3/4
Armco	53 1/2

Bethlehem Steel	57 1/2
Boeing Air	30 1/2
Brunswick	27 1/2
Caterpillar Corp	22 1/2
Chrysler Corp	88
Coca Cola	27 1/2
C. B. S.	27 1/2
Columbia Gas	45 1/2
Continental Can	49
Crown Zellerbach	17 1/2
Crucible Steel	19 1/2
Curtis Wright	60 1/2
Dow Chemical	238 1/2
Du Pont	114
Eastman Kodak	36 1/2
Firestone	44 1/2
Ford	78 1/2
General Electric	48 1/2
General Foods	41 1/2
General Motors	61
Georgia Pacific	43 1/2
Greyhound	40 1/2
Gulf Oil	40 1/2
Homestake	46 1/2

Idaho Power	33 1/2
I. B. M.	414
Int. Paper	28 1/2
Johns Manville	46 1/2
Kennecott Copper	40 1/2
Lockheed Aircraft	41 1/2
Martin	21 1/2
Merk	28 1/2
Montana Power	44 1/2
Montgomery Ward	34 1/2
Natl. Biscuit	44 1/2
New York Central	15 1/2
Northern Pacific	39 1/2
Pac Gas Elec	23 1/2
Penney J. C.	45 1/2
Penn RR	14 1/2
Perma Cement	15 1/2
Phillips	49 1/2
Procter & Gamble	75 1/2
Radio Corporation	63 1/2
Richfield Oil	41 1/2
Santa Fe	26 1/2
Texas Pacific Land Trust	19 1/2
Thiokol	27 1/2

Trans America	46 1/2
Trans World Air	10 1/2
Tri Continental	44 1/2
United Carbide	109
United Air Lines	35
U.S. Plywood	22 1/2
U.S. Rubber	44
U.S. Steel	37 1/2
West Bank Corp.	46
Westinghouse	32 1/2
Youngstown	28 1/2

Banks Propose Compromise in Tax Feud With State of Oregon

Salem - (UPI) - National banks offered to compromise with the state of Oregon Monday in a tax feud involving about $1 million a year.

R. R. Bullivant, an attorney speaking for the national banks, told the Senate Tax Committee the banks would accept a seven per cent corporate excise tax retroactive to 1957.

That is two per cent less than the state is trying to collect, but one per cent more than the banks have heretofore indicated they are willing to pay. The dispute is currently before the courts.

The controversy involves the six per cent corporate tax levied against other corporations. The banks say under a federal law they cannot be taxed at a higher rate.

The state says, however, the other corporations pay other taxes, such as the personal property tax, not levied against banks.

Bullivant said the national banks would be willing to settle for the seven per cent rate, letting the one per cent differential balance personal property taxes paid by other corporations.

Some members of the committee, however, appeared cool to the proposal. A bill already has been introduced in the House aimed at helping the state maintain the nine per cent rate.

Sen. Walter Pearson (D-Portland) suggested waiting to see how the courts rule on the nine per cent rate "instead of passing a law now forgiving it before it's decided."

He said he thinks if the state loses the legislature could then pass a retroactive law to remedy the situation.

Green announced that he has formed an executive board to assist him, made up of Mike Alesko, Carl Bismark, Richard Frey, and Ken Wright.

Green also revealed that the goal of his committee is to raise $100,000 to be added to the funds already raised by the other committees.

Persons wishing to assist Green are asked to contact him at 773-6611.

Projects for 1963 would include a swimming pool, dining hall and dormitory for Southern Oregon College; 150-student dormitory at Oregon College of Education; a 280 student dorm including student activity quarters at Oregon Technical Institute; a portion of the cost of a swimming pool at Portland State; an addition to College Center, air conditioning of the College Center building.

Two dormitories with total capacity of 750 students at Oregon State; a 170-women dorm for the University Medical and Dental Schools; and two dormitories, central food service, married student housing and land for future dormitories at the University of Oregon.

PULL HELPS
St. Louis, Mo. - (UPI) - James Kennedy, 13, attributed his success in the 11th round of the St. Louis spelling bee Monday to a tranquilizer. He said he milked two cows to relax before spelling.

State officials have said privately they feel there will be no disturbance of the type that marred the enrollment of Negro James Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy told a church group "the responsible leaders of South Carolina have made it clear that they're not going to put up with any violence or disorder."

Portland - (UPI) - A federal fugitive, wanted for eight years, was arrested Monday by the FBI and Multnomah county sheriff's deputies.

James Allen Ellis, 35, a native of Tennessee, was stopped by officers in northeast Portland. The FBI said Ellis was charged eight years ago Monday in Baton Rouge, La., with violation of the Dyer Act. He was similarly charged in Tallahassee, Fla., a year later.

Portland - (UPI) - The State Board of Higher Education today considered a proposal that it raise dormitory board and room charges at the state's six colleges and universities.

The plan was advanced by Dr. Roy Lieuallen, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education. He said the additional money was needed to meet increased food and maintenance costs.

Some of the money also would be used in the purchase of additional land and construction of new dormitories, Lieuallen said.

The proposal brought on a protest march and demonstration by 50 Oregon State University students at Corvallis last Thursday.

The increase would be about $40 a year per student. It would raise the average charges for a student in a dormitory to $720 a year.

A number of recommendations by its committees also came up for action.

The building committee Monday decided to allow Portland State College to expand from its present nine-block area in downtown Portland to 22 blocks. It approved a plan under which the college would buy key lots in nine blocks west of the school to prevent major apartment or business developments which would keep the campus from spreading as the college expanded.

"This is not a good policy for any public board to adopt, but in this case it seems the only thing to do," Board Chairman William Walsh said.

He said it could cause property owners to allow their property to be devaluated, knowing it eventually will be taken over by the school. The current appraisal price of the key lots is $184,000, according to W. T. Lemman, PSO's director of business affairs.

The board's finance committee approved the return of $351,000 from the higher education budget to the state. The return was ordered by the State Department of Finance and Administration in line with state policy of cutting appropriations to meet reduction in state income.

Two dormitories with total capacity of 750 students at Oregon State; a 170-women dorm for the University Medical and Dental Schools; and two dormitories, central food service, married student housing and land for future dormitories at the University of Oregon.

PULL HELPS
St. Louis, Mo. - (UPI) - James Kennedy, 13, attributed his success in the 11th round of the St. Louis spelling bee Monday to a tranquilizer. He said he milked two cows to relax before spelling.

State officials have said privately they feel there will be no disturbance of the type that marred the enrollment of Negro James Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy told a church group "the responsible leaders of South Carolina have made it clear that they're not going to put up with any violence or disorder."

Portland - (UPI) - A federal fugitive, wanted for eight years, was arrested Monday by the FBI and Multnomah county sheriff's deputies.

James Allen Ellis, 35, a native of Tennessee, was stopped by officers in northeast Portland. The FBI said Ellis was charged eight years ago Monday in Baton Rouge, La., with violation of the Dyer Act. He was similarly charged in Tallahassee, Fla., a year later.

Portland - (UPI) - The State Board of Higher Education today considered a proposal that it raise dormitory board and room charges at the state's six colleges and universities.

The plan was advanced by Dr. Roy Lieuallen, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education. He said the additional money was needed to meet increased food and maintenance costs.

Some of the money also would be used in the purchase of additional land and construction of new dormitories, Lieuallen said.

The proposal brought on a protest march and demonstration by 50 Oregon State University students at Corvallis last Thursday.

The increase would be about $40 a year per student. It would raise the average charges for a student in a dormitory to $720 a year.

Senator Predicts Tax Cut Passage

Portland - (UPI) - Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy (D-Minn.) said Monday night it wouldn't be easy but he felt that President Kennedy's proposed income tax cut would get approval.

McCarthy said the death of Sen. Robert Kerr (D-Okla.) would make passage of the tax program more difficult but that the argument was "so compelling" for a cut that it would be passed.

McCarthy, who was elected in 1958 on the combined Democratic-Farmer-Labor ticket, also spoke to Temple Beth Israel Forum here.

Portland - (UPI) - The State Board of Higher Education today considered a proposal that it raise dormitory board and room charges at the state's six colleges and universities.

The plan was advanced by Dr. Roy Lieuallen, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education. He said the additional money was needed to meet increased food and maintenance costs.

Some of the money also would be used in the purchase of additional land and construction of new dormitories, Lieuallen said.

The proposal brought on a protest march and demonstration by 50 Oregon State University students at Corvallis last Thursday.

The increase would be about $40 a year per student. It would raise the average charges for a student in a dormitory to $720 a year.

A number of recommendations by its committees also came up for action.

The building committee Monday decided to allow Portland State College to expand from its present nine-block area in downtown Portland to 22 blocks. It approved a plan under which the college would buy key lots in nine blocks west of the school to prevent major apartment or business developments which would keep the campus from spreading as the college expanded.

"This is not a good policy for any public board to adopt, but in this case it seems the only thing to do," Board Chairman William Walsh said.

He said it could cause property owners to allow their property to be devaluated, knowing it eventually will be taken over by the school. The current appraisal price of the key lots is $184,000, according to W. T. Lemman, PSO's director of business affairs.

The board's finance committee approved the return of $351,000 from the higher education budget to the state. The return was ordered by the State Department of Finance and Administration in line with state policy of cutting appropriations to meet reduction in state income.

Two dormitories with total capacity of 750 students at Oregon State; a 170-women dorm for the University Medical and Dental Schools; and two dormitories, central food service, married student housing and land for future dormitories at the University of Oregon.

PULL HELPS
St. Louis, Mo. - (UPI) - James Kennedy, 13, attributed his success in the 11th round of the St. Louis spelling bee Monday to a tranquilizer. He said he milked two cows to relax before spelling.

State officials have said privately they feel there will be no disturbance of the type that marred the enrollment of Negro James Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy told a church group "the responsible leaders of South Carolina have made it clear that they're not going to put up with any violence or disorder."

Portland - (UPI) - A federal fugitive, wanted for eight years, was arrested Monday by the FBI and Multnomah county sheriff's deputies.

James Allen Ellis, 35, a native of Tennessee, was stopped by officers in northeast Portland. The FBI said Ellis was charged eight years ago Monday in Baton Rouge, La., with violation of the Dyer Act. He was similarly charged in Tallahassee, Fla., a year later.

Portland - (UPI) - The State Board of Higher Education today considered a proposal that it raise dormitory board and room charges at the state's six colleges and universities.

The plan was advanced by Dr. Roy Lieuallen, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education. He said the additional money was needed to meet increased food and maintenance costs.

Some of the money also would be used in the purchase of additional land and construction of new dormitories, Lieuallen said.

The proposal brought on a protest march and demonstration by 50 Oregon State University students at Corvallis last Thursday.

The increase would be about $40 a year per student. It would raise the average charges for a student in a dormitory to $720 a year.

A number of recommendations by its committees also came up for action.

The building committee Monday decided to allow Portland State College to expand from its present nine-block area in downtown Portland to 22 blocks. It approved a plan under which the college would buy key lots in nine blocks west of the school to prevent major apartment or business developments which would keep the campus from spreading as the college expanded.

"This is not a good policy for any public board to adopt, but in this case it seems the only thing to do," Board Chairman William Walsh said.

He said it could cause property owners to allow their property to be devaluated, knowing it eventually will be taken over by the school. The current appraisal price of the key lots is $184,000, according to W. T. Lemman, PSO's director of business affairs.

Green Named Head Of Program Phase

Terry D. Green, local business man, has accepted the position of chairman of the Community Phase of the New Sacred Heart Hospital Development program.

Green announced that he has formed an executive board to assist him, made up of Mike Alesko, Carl Bismark, Richard Frey, and Ken Wright.

Green also revealed that the goal of his committee is to raise $100,000 to be added to the funds already raised by the other committees.

Persons wishing to assist Green are asked to contact him at 773-6611.

Projects for 1963 would include a swimming pool, dining hall and dormitory for Southern Oregon College; 150-student dormitory at Oregon College of Education; a 280 student dorm including student activity quarters at Oregon Technical Institute; a portion of the cost of a swimming pool at Portland State; an addition to College Center, air conditioning of the College Center building.

Two dormitories with total capacity of 750 students at Oregon State; a 170-women dorm for the University Medical and Dental Schools; and two dormitories, central food service, married student housing and land for future dormitories at the University of Oregon.

PULL HELPS
St. Louis, Mo. - (UPI) - James Kennedy, 13, attributed his success in the 11th round of the St. Louis spelling bee Monday to a tranquilizer. He said he milked two cows to relax before spelling.

State officials have said privately they feel there will be no disturbance of the type that marred the enrollment of Negro James Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy told a church group "the responsible leaders of South Carolina have made it clear that they're not going to put up with any violence or disorder."

Portland - (UPI) - A federal fugitive, wanted for eight years, was arrested Monday by the FBI and Multnomah county sheriff's deputies.

James Allen Ellis, 35, a native of Tennessee, was stopped by officers in northeast Portland. The FBI said Ellis was charged eight years ago Monday in Baton Rouge, La., with violation of the Dyer Act. He was similarly charged in Tallahassee, Fla., a year later.

Portland - (UPI) - The State Board of Higher Education today considered a proposal that it raise dormitory board and room charges at the state's six colleges and universities.

The plan was advanced by Dr. Roy Lieuallen, chancellor of the State System of Higher Education. He said the additional money was needed to meet increased food and maintenance costs.

Some of the money also would be used in the purchase of additional land and construction of new dormitories, Lieuallen said.

The proposal brought on a protest march and demonstration by 50 Oregon State University students at Corvallis last Thursday.

The increase would be about $40 a year per student. It would raise the average charges for a student in a dormitory to $720 a year.

A number of recommendations by its committees also came up for action.

The building committee Monday decided to allow Portland State College to expand from its present nine-block area in downtown Portland to 22 blocks. It approved a plan under which the college would buy key lots in nine blocks west of the school to prevent major apartment or business developments which would keep the campus from spreading as the college expanded.

"This is not a good policy for any public board to adopt, but in this case it seems the only thing to do," Board Chairman William Walsh said.

He said it could cause property owners to allow their property to be devaluated, knowing it eventually will be taken over by the school. The current appraisal price of the key lots is $184,000, according to W. T. Lemman, PSO's director of business affairs.

The board's finance committee approved the return of $351,000 from the higher education budget to the state. The return was ordered by the State Department of Finance and Administration in line with state policy of cutting appropriations to meet reduction in state income.

Two dormitories with total capacity of 750 students at Oregon State; a 170-women dorm for the University Medical and Dental Schools; and two dormitories, central food service, married student housing and land for future dormitories at the University of Oregon.

PULL HELPS
St. Louis, Mo. - (UPI) - James Kennedy, 13, attributed his success in the 11th round of the St. Louis spelling bee Monday to a tranquilizer. He said he milked two cows to relax before spelling.

State officials have said privately they feel there will be no disturbance of the type that marred the enrollment of Negro James Meredith at the University of Mississippi.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy told a church group "the responsible leaders of South Carolina have made it clear that they're not going to put up with any violence or disorder."

Portland - (UPI) -