

Family Food Bill Cut by Specials

Stanford, Calif.—A housewife willing to spend the time and effort can cut her family food bill as much as 10 per cent by shopping the supermarket specials advertised in newspapers, reports a Stanford University study.

The advertised specials of an individual supermarket cover about one-third of a family's basic food budget, the report said. "The buyer who has room to store some items, and enough menu flexibility to accommodate the 'specials,' can make an important part of her food purchases from the advertised specials," the report said.

"It pays, not only to shop the specials, but also to keep posted on which items are being most widely and frequently featured." The report appears in the current issue of Food Research Institute studies, published by Stanford. The authors were Roger W. Gray, professor and economist at the Food Research Institute, and Polio Anderson, professor in the agricultural economics department at Utah State University and visiting scholar at the institute when the study was made.

Science Center at Seattle Now Open

Seattle-The Pacific Science Center, in 1962 the highlight exhibit of the Seattle World's Fair, is now open permanently as the finest display of science exhibits ever assembled.

As the United States Science Exhibit at the Fair, the $10 million Center attracted more than 6,500,000 persons in six months. After the Fair, Century 21 Exposition, operation was turned over to the non-profit Pacific Science Center Foundation.

Edward E. Carlson, Foundation president, said "More than 96 per cent of the exhibits remain, and it is our plan to add improvements constantly."

Three new exhibits - a Musser planetarium, an optical light meter and a NASA satellite - tracking display - were added in December. Three other main Fair attractions, the moonwalk, space needle and the Seattle Civic Center complex, also are continuing operations.

The Pacific Science Center is presently open on week ends only, but plans to go into full time operations this spring.

Tomorrow Sunday
Result of Zones

McMurdo Station, Antarctica—The two chaplains assigned to U.S. Naval support forces in the Antarctica have a unique advantage over other Navy chaplains—they conduct services two Sundays a week.

Father Paul Antos of New York City, a Roman Catholic priest, and the Rev. David Windle, Pittsburgh, Pa., a Lutheran minister, normally conduct services at McMurdo Station, main U.S. base on the Antarctic continent.

But after conducting rites—Protestant and Catholic—at McMurdo, they frequently fly 120 miles eastward to Byrd Station, America's newest, under-the-ice science post in the heart of Marie Byrd land.

McMurdo operates on New Zealand time, the five time zone west of the International Dateline. Byrd is on Pacific Standard Time.

As a result of the peculiarities of the clock and calendar, the chaplains can complete their services in the McMurdo area during the zone's Sunday, take a plane to Byrd, and arrive there late Saturday—Pacific Time. That gives them ample opportunity to prepare for Byrd's morning Sunday.

"Keep us busy," Father Antos admitted with a smile. "But in view of the miles we have to cover here, we really welcome the double Sunday opportunity."

NICE WARM BED

Marysville, Calif.—Mrs. Margaret Swindell, 67, drier at her neighborhood laundry and out popped a pair of legs. A 17-year-old Don Cardwell, owner of the legs, told sheriff's deputies he arrested him that he curled up in the dryer thinking it was his barracks at Beale Air Force Base.

Grange News

It was announced at a recent Eagle Point Grange meeting that the HEC ladies of the Grange would serve the annual Ground Hog dinner Sunday, Feb. 3, from noon until 4 p.m. The sausage dinner will be served family style.

Lecturer James Wilson on showed a movie of the riots at Congressional House Un-American Activities hearing in San Francisco.

Master Cliff Moore said the committee will remain the same as those during the previous year.

HEC Chairman Ann Davies reported on the last meeting of the HEC at which time the new officers were installed. The next meeting of the HEC will be at Mrs. Ed Hayes Jan. 30.

Serving refreshments following the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bitterling, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bitterling and Mrs. Ed Hayes.

Central Point Grange

During a recent meeting of Central Point Grange, retiring Master Charles Moore was presented the past masters pin. An original poem written by Mrs. O. T. Wilson honoring Moore was read by Mrs. Marshall Weidman.

Building committee chairman Fred Kuest reported on recent repairs made in the hall, and thanked Walter Ricks for materials furnished. Dee Hendrickson thanked the ladies of the first and second degree team for cooperating in putting on the degrees at Upper Applegate Grange Jan. 11, when a class of 28 candidates from several Granges received degrees. The third and fourth degrees will be given by Rocky Ann Grange at Upper Applegate Friday, Jan. 25.

HEC Chairman Mrs. Morris Frink announced she had appointed Mrs. Mada Madsen and Mrs. Lester Granger in charge of rummage sales and Mrs. Gaston Floux will arrange the lists of serving committees.

The county conference for all officers and members of Jackson county will be held in the Central Point Grange hall Jan. 30. Members are asked to take cookies or sandwiches.

Following the business session, Grange members played cards and games. Mrs. Charles Jantner had made the necessary arrangements.

UPPER APPLAGATE

State Grange Master Allen P. Wheeler will attend the Upper Applegate Grange meeting Friday, Jan. 25, when the drill team from Rocky Ann Grange will confer the third and fourth degrees.

Master of Upper Applegate Grange, Edmund Ramsey, reminded all Grangers that they are invited to attend the annual county conference for the Grange to take cake and sandwiches for the refreshments which will follow the meeting.
