Attention Called To Pacific Intercollegiate Mat Tourney Slated for SOC on March 1-2

Southern Oregon college's athletic program in general and its basketball and wrestling activities in particular were discussed Friday at the Medford Linebackers club.

Dr. Ted Schopf, basketball and baseball coach and athletic director, and Bob Bennett, wrestling coach, of the college were speakers at the luncheon at North's Chuck Wagon.

They called particular attention to the fact that their school will be host on March 1 and 2 at Ashland to the Pacific Coast Inter-collegiate wrestling tournament.

Bennett described the tourney as "by far the biggest event we've had in the valley." He said that Southern Oregon is trying to do an outstanding job as host.

The mat coach discussed the progress made in wrestling in his three years at SOC, stating that "we're trying to build a tradition," and adding that the program already is paying dividends in building morale.

"We have the best wrestling in the state in the southern Oregon area," Bennett said. His school draws from this talent.

In inviting Linebackers to watch SO matches, Bennett reported that the school does not charge for them. He thought a person could get on to the idea of how wrestling is scored by watching two or three matches.

Schopf, of his basketball team, said, "We finally have them going." He said this is the first of this kind reported taken from the Siletz drainage.

The commission surmised that the brown trout undoubtedly came from Meadow lake at the head of the Nestucca river following the heavy rains in November which took out the Meadow lake dam allowing water from the entire impoundment to pour down the Nestucca river.

Since the flood several brown trout have been reported taken from the Nestucca river and bay. If this is the origin of Sherman's brown trout, the fish would have gone to sea following the flood, cruised down the Oregon coastline 25 or 30 miles, into Siletz bay, and thence into Schoner creek.

It might just be that some of these impounded brown trout could develop the sea-going characteristic, a phenomena not uncommon in the British Isles.

Final Trout Regulations Established

Portland - UPI - The state game commission Friday adopted final trout fishing regulations for the 1962 season with only minor changes in tentative rules announced two weeks ago.

The general trout season will extend from April 20 to Oct. 31 in all zones except streams in zones 1, 3 and 4. Coastal streams, as well as lakes reservoirs and their tributaries in the Cascades open May 25 and close Oct. 31.

The Rogue and Umpqua river trout season opening in general is the same as the high lakes, the commission said.

Extends Season: The commission extended the winter angling season for steelhead and salmon on Eagle creek in Clackamas County through the month of May. It also decided to open the Klaskanine river north fork to salmon angling Oct. 1 and extend it through the winter season to Feb. 28.

The commission approved lifting of the November closure of salmon angling on the Columbia river and tributaries. It also approved the opening of a number of lakes for year-round angling. These include Garrison and Saunders in Zone 1; Loon in Zone 3; Emigrant Reservoir and Selmac Lake in Zone 4; Ana and Friday reservoirs in Zone 6; all lakes and impoundments in Zone 7, and all lakes and impoundments except Malheur, Krumbo and Baca lakes in Zone 8.

(Regulations are to go into effect on Feb. 9).

Utah Hires Bob Watson

Salt Lake City - UPI - The first assistant to Oregon State university football coach Tommy Prothro was hired Friday as an assistant at the university of Utah.

Bob Watson, 34, (ex-Medford, Ore., High school) who played on the same UCLA football team as Ute head coach Ray Nagel, replaces John Nikcevic. Watson coached at OSU for eight years and became first assistant five years ago. Nikcevic resigned to take a job at the University of California.

Watson played wingback, end and fullback and was captain of the UCLA team in 1950. He played in one Rose Bowl game.

Nagel said he was pleased with the hiring of Watson because "he is a well established football coach and one of the finest in the nation."
