Art Association Holds Election

Rogue Valley Art association members voted to enlarge the board, elected a new chairman and heard reports of accomplishments of the past year at the annual meeting last week. It was held January 29 at the Red Cross chapter house with the retiring chairman, James Ragland, presiding.

Mrs. B. Brandt Bartels was elected chairman by the new board. The nine new members of the 15-member board are Dunbar Carpenter, Richard Doi, Ashland, Mrs. Thomas Rutter, Mrs. Donald McGeary, Phoenix, Mrs. Curtis Barnes, Richard Courtright, Mrs. Alfred S. V. Carpenter, Walter Pappas and Mr. Ragland.

Hold-over board members are Mrs. John E. Reed, Ashland; Warren Holbrook, Central Point; Mrs. Bartels, Robert Bosworth, Eugene Bennett and Robertson Collins, both Jacksonville.

Benefit Today

Mrs. Bartels, who has been serving as chairman of the social committee, announced a benefit event to be held this afternoon at the studio of Mr. Bennett in Jacksonville. On display will be a collection of paintings of Jacksonville homes and buildings done several years ago and never before displayed together. They are being loaned by the owners for today's event. Sherry will be served, and admission will be charged, with proceeds to go to the association. Hours are 3 to 5 o'clock.

Ben J. Trowbridge Jr., chairman of the exhibition committee, announced the next show at Rogue gallery, maintained by the association, will be the private collection of valuable art objects loaned by Lloyd Halverson, valley resident. Most of the show will consist of paintings, some dating back to the Elizabethan period. Included will be a Van Dyke, a Pissaro, a Modigliani, an alleged Rembrandt and others by well-known artists. After completing school, Mr. Halverson for a number of years worked with galleries and antique firms and during this time began to build his collection.

Reception Planned

A reception is planned for Tuesday, February 5, to honor

Mr. Halverson and mark the opening of the exhibit. Association members are invited. The exhibit will be open to the public for the remainder of the month.

Mr. Ragland reported on activities of the past year mentioning the various shows, the craft show, art and foreign movies and a children's art class held last summer and planned again this summer.

He explained that $1500 had been raised to hire a paid director, that Ted Lindberg, Eugene, had been hired last July to fill the position. He added that unfortunately, additional funds had not been generated to continue the director's salary and the relationship was terminated in January. The association has reverted to a complete volunteer basis.

Mr. Lindberg is now serving as chairman of the movie committee and said that movies have been booked through June. Two French, two Italian and one W. D. Fields movie have been scheduled.

Executive board meetings will be held every third Monday; they are open to the membership.

Recreation Area Provides Theme For Bridge Party

Ashland—The new winter recreation area on the slopes of Mt. Ashland made its premiere in social circles recently when it appeared in miniature as the theme of a bridge luncheon at the Rogue Valley Country club.

Hostesses for the "Winter Wonderland" event were Mrs. Arthur M. Peters, Mrs. Foss G. Kramer and Mrs. Wayne W. Heard, all of Ashland, who entertained 64 Ashland women.

Centerpieces at each of the 16 tables were tiny replicas of the proposed ski run complete with slalom figures. Place cards and tallies glittered with snowflakes and even the dessert of snowballs carried out the theme.

Concealed in amusing snowman boxes were the bridge prizes won by Mrs. Carl Harris, Mrs. Harold Merrill, Mrs. Pierre Roberts and Mrs. Richard Morrow. Low prize at each table was a plastic rain bonnet hidden in a hollow snowball.

Club Plans Event

The College Women's Club of the Rogue River Valley plans a no host luncheon for Saturday, February 9 at 1 p. m., in the Colony restaurant.

The social committee members are Mesdames Victor Birdseye, C. O. Larison, H. L. Snodgrass and Alfred Castillo.

Navy Mothers

Navy Mothers club will conduct an all-day session Tuesday, February 5 in the home of Mrs. Dan Evans, 987 Niantic street. Mothers of sons or daughters who have been in the Navy, Marine corps or Coast Guard are eligible to join the club and are invited to meetings.

Coin Club Plans One-Day Exhibit

Plans for a coin show will be made at a meeting of Rogue Valley Coin club at the Girls Community club at 8 p.m. Monday, February 4. Anyone interested in coin collecting is invited.

The forthcoming one-day show will be held March 3, at the Jackson house. Anyone having a collection to exhibit at the show is invited to attend this meeting.
