

Cincinnati Still Tops Ratings; Oregon State Slips To Tenth

New York (UPI)—Cincinnati, Loyola of Chicago, Duke and Illinois dominated the United Press International major college basketball ratings today, with the unbeaten Bearcats unanimous first-place choices for the seventh straight week.

Cincinnati, which has won 18 games this season and 36 in a row over the last two campaigns, was the No. 1 pick of all 35 coaches who comprise the UPI rating board. Loyola, unbeaten in 20 games, held the second spot for the seventh straight week.

Duke, which has lost two of 17 games, and Illinois, beaten twice in 15 starts, remained third and fourth, respectively, while Arizona State U. held on to fifth place, and Georgia Tech remained sixth.

Colorado moved from eighth into seventh place, swapping positions with Stanford, while Mississippi State advanced from 11th to ninth and Oregon State slipped from ninth to 10th.

The ratings are based on games played through Saturday, Feb. 2, and do not take into account Monday night action involving Cincinnati, Illinois, Arizona State U., Georgia Tech, Colorado and Mississippi State.

The fight for the national title now appears to be strictly a case of who can stay unbeaten between Cincinnati, the pre-season choice, and Loyola. The Bearcats have six games left to play starting with Bradley on Saturday. In all, five of their remaining games are against Missouri Valley rivals.

Loyola, on the other hand, has only one tough assignment in its six remaining games — and that comes on March 2 against 11th-ranked Wichita. Duke also has six games left on its regular schedule before competing in the Atlantic Coast conference tournament.

Completing the second 10 behind Wichita were Utah State, UCLA, Ohio State, Colorado State U., Notre Dame, Texas, DePaul, Auburn and West Virginia.

SOC Basketball, Wrestling Teams To Face OT Owls

Asland - Wednesday afternoon will see Southern Oregon college athletes traveling to Klamath Falls for a full slate of wrestling and basketball.

Starting the afternoon will be the wrestlers of Oregon Tech squaring off with SOC at 4:00. The Raiders met OTI last week on the Asland mats. In this meeting, Oregon Tech edged by the SOC grapplers in a thrilling 15-11 match. Since this, the Raiders have gone on to blank the Far West champs 32-0, tallying a 5 win, 3 loss record.

Basketball will be on tap at 8:30 the same night with the Owls and Raiders tangle in the third of four Oregon Collegiate meetings of the season. In the last two meetings with the Owls SOC has had trouble rebounding and finding the basket, losing both games in cliff hangers.

Last week end the Owls met Portland State in Portland losing their first OCC game in 10 starts. The SOC men had some bad luck in La Grande last week end suffering two losses in a row. The Raiders are sporting a 4 win, 6 loss record for Conference play with the Owls holding first place in the OCC after tallying a 10 win and 1 loss score.

After reading of OTI's loss to Portland last week end, Coach Ted Schoph felt, "We have a good chance of downing the OTI squad if we can keep them from rebounding with their all men."

In wrestling Coach Bob Bennett had praise for his mat men after their unprecedented

NY Anti-Fight Bill Running Into Opposition

Albany, N.Y.—(UPI)—Opposition to a proposal aimed at banning prize fighting in New York state was expected to mount today at a public hearing by a joint legislative committee.

The hearing was scheduled to resume at 9:30 a.m., EST. At least five persons were to address the committee, headed by Assemblyman Hayward H. Plumadore, R-Saranac Lake. The fate of professional boxing in the Empire State could rest on the recommendation of the committee to the state legislature. Monday the proposal to outlaw the sport ran into heavy opposition.

Among those who testified were the No. 2 heavyweight contender, Cassius Clay; former New York Yankee infielder Gil McDougald; Carman Basilio, one-time welterweight champion; and Melvin L. Krulwich, chairman of the state Boxing Commission.
