

Hollander's Art Exhibit Announced

Ashland — A newcomer in Rogue valley art circles is Alex Bos, impressionistic artist from Amsterdam, Holland, who now makes his home in Ashland. Today he is to be honored at a reception at the Ashland Art gallery, 31 Water street.

On display will be 25 sketches, drawings and paintings by Mr. Bos, ranging from portraits to landscapes and fantasies. It will be the first time this collection has been presented in the United States.

The artist studied at the Groning Art school and at the Art academy in Amsterdam before coming to this country less than a year ago. Last fall he married Johanna Knies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Knies, 600 Chestnut street. The Knies family came to Ashland from Amsterdam the previous year.

The Alex Bos show will run through February with gallery hours from 1 to 10 p.m. At today's reception from 2 to 4 p.m. coffee and tea will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Onstad have announced that gallery members may take advantage of the rental plan whereby pictures may be purchased through rental payments. The public is invited to attend the reception for Mr. Bos or to view the display any afternoon or evening.

Lloyd Halverson, Medford art dealer and collector, is shown here with one of the paintings now being displayed at Rogus gallery, 220 West Main street, for Rogus Valley Art association. Painted by the famous Francisco Jose de Goya (1746-1828) the work is a portrait of Madame Varlet, done in 1785. Goya was considered the most important Spanish painter of his time; he was director of the San Fernando Academy in Madrid, and was painter to the king. Some of his greater works are in the Metropolitan Museum, New York. Also in the collection now displayed at the gallery are works by Guardi, Poussin, Degas, Turner, Van Dyck and Modigliani.

Rogue Sis-Q Council Slates Annual Squareup

Southern Oregon square dancers, affiliated as the Rogue Sis-Q Council of the Oregon Federation of Square Dance clubs, will join forces to host the sixth annual Square up. It is set for March 16 and 17, and some 500 dancers are expected from the entire Northwest for the week end in the Rogue valley.

Activity will center at Britt Memorial hall on the Southern Oregon college campus in Ashland. Dance session will be scheduled during Saturday, and climaxed by dancing Saturday night to the calling of Dick Holton, outstanding guest caller from the Sacramento area.

Mr. Holton is known to his associates variously as "Mr. Five by Five" and "Mr. Pink Pants" and reportedly is noted for his winning personality and sharp, clear calling of challenging programs. Two "after parties" are planned for dancers that evening, one at Belleview Grange hall and the other at the Country Squares.

A Buckaroo Breakfast at Bellview Grange hall, Ashland, is scheduled for Sunday morning. The afternoon session is programmed for invited callers from the entire Northwest. A dozen guest callers are expected to take part. Alden Moyer, council president, states that Squareup plans, under the guidance of committee chairman a Don Johnson, are progressing well,

Soprano Will Sing In Ashland

Ashland — Marion Downs, nationally known lyric soprano, will present two recitals in Ashland on Sunday, February 17. The first will be at Southern Oregon college at 3 p.m., and the second at the First Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. The talented artist has the distinction of a Fulbright grant from the U.S. State department and was recipient of an Atkinson foundation award for opera and folk studies.

She has presented concerts in the Scandinavian countries, Europe, and Mexico.

Marion Downs received her master's degree in music from Columbia university and has studied at the Juillard Conservatory of Music in New York City and at the Verdi Conservatory in Milan, Italy. Mrs. Downs is the widow of the late Karl Downs, young Methodist minister, who was president of Sam Houston college, Huntsville, Texas, in his memory there is the Downs Memorial Methodist Church in Oakland, Calif. and the Downs high school in Weimar, Tex.

As a concert personality, the lyric soprano convinces the listener instantly of her versatility and talent. Her unusual accompaniment to her programs gives a uniqueness and individuality. Her singing of Negro spirituals has both warmth and depth.

There will be no charge for her concert at the college but a free offering will be accepted at the First Methodist church.

St. Patrick's Card Party Set

Hornbrook — Final plans for the annual St. Patrick's card party were made Thursday by members of St. John's Altar Society when they met at the home of Mrs. Edward Smith.

The date for this year's event will be March 23 at 8 p.m. at the Grange hall. A handmade afghan has been donated the group to be awarded during the evening. It will be on display in the window of the T. Jones company store.

This is the local society's only fund-raising event of the year. The president is Mrs. Robert Philips.

Party Honors Newlywed Pair

Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Donner, whose marriage was a recent event, were honored at a party February 2 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Milhoan, 629 Franquette street. The event also observed the birthday anniversary of Mr. Milhoan.

Mrs. Donner is the former Hazel Shopp. Gifts were presented to the newly married couple and to Mr. Milhoan.

Mrs. Beulah Croucher had decorated the Milhoan home and games were played and prizes awarded. Dancing also was a diversion of the evening.

A buffet supper was served by the hostess. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Thomas.

Out-of-Town Guests Attend Medford Rites

Guests from Portland, Klamath Falls, Eugene and California cities were in Medford this week end to attend the marriage of Miss Marsha O'Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. O'Sullivan, 518 North Barneburg road, and Robert J. Weber, Portland. The ceremony was held Saturday noon in Sacred Heart Catholic church.

Mr. and Mrs. O'Sullivan entertained at dinner in their home for about 20 guests preceding the wedding rehearsal Friday evening. Among the guests were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Andrew Weber, Portland, and the Rev. Andrew Weber, Air Force chaplain, and brother of the bridegroom, who celebrated the nuptial mass.

Buffingtons on Trip South

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Buffington, Campbell road, left Friday for Mexico City, Mexico and Puerto Vallarta on the coast between Acapulco and Mazatlan. They stopped at Fresno, Calif., to join Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Thorburn, known also in Medford, who are making the trip with the Buffingtons.

The group plans to stay three days in the Mexican capital and will be about two weeks in Puerto Vallarta. Among activities planned are deep sea fishing, skin diving, and wild boar and ocelot hunting in the jungle area near there.

Philip Hanson To Appear In Saudi Arabia

Philip Hanson, Ashland actor, has been booked for a series of performances in Saudi Arabia in October. They will include three performances of his one man show "Moby Dick" and one of his own choosing from his three other one-man shows.

His other shows include "The Rebels," which includes words of American patriots; "Kings and Clowns," William Shakespeare plays, and "My Name Is Aram" by William Saroyan.

The performances will be among those on a concert series for American families with American-Arabian Oil company.

Mr. Hanson left Ashland some time ago for a tour of numerous Canadian cities.

C. C. Hoovers To Be Honored

Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hoover, Eagle Point, are invited to a reception this afternoon in their honor in observance of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

The event will be held from 2 to 5 o'clock at the Eagle Point Grange hall. It is being given by their sons and daughters-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Claude W. Hoover and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin F. Hoover. They will be assisted by members of the Grange and Eagle Point Garden club.

The family has requested that there be no presents.

Miss Olson Heads House

Miss Joy Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Olson, 109 South Groveland avenue, Medford, recently was elected president of the Chi Omega chapter at the University of Oregon.

This was Miss Olson's first term at the University of Oregon as she was a transfer student from Stephens college where she was student body vice president.

Miss Olson is at the present time secretary for the Associated Students of the University of Oregon lobbying committee, which will be lobbying at the state legislature for higher education.

She also was selected to the Alpha Tau Omega Queen court last fall.
