Siskiyou Shrine President Reports On Conference

Siskiyou County—Ben Bisagno, president of the Siskiyou County Shrine club, recently returned from a meeting in Sacramento called by Charles E. Desenfans, Potentate of the Ben All Temple. Officers of Shrine clubs in 21 California counties attended a series of briefing lectures, at which procedures regarding the operation of the clubs was discussed. Desenfans, under whose supervision the classes were conducted, was recently elected and installed as Potentate of Ben All. The Shrine Temple covers 23 counties and represents a membership of more than 9,000. The proposed new Shrine program for children's burn hospitals was discussed. Bisagno was informed that some medical authorities call burns the largest single hazard of childhood. He was advised that an expenditure of up to $10 million has been approved by the Imperial Council for the construction of three hospitals to treat burns. The new Shrine hospitals, according to Ben Bisagno, will be equipped and staffed to save children's lives and prevent deformities, disabilities and disfigurements that often result from severe burns. They would offer the highest type of preventative orthopedics. Bisagno declared that the new institution would not conflict with the present Shriners hospitals for crippled children which have been established since 1922 and have treated 125,000 children at an expenditure of more than $73 million.

Yreka Kiwanis Installs, Hosts Medford Visitors

Yreka—Yreka Kiwanis club officers for 1963 were installed and a new member was inducted in ceremonies held recently at dinner meeting in the Odd Fellows hall. A cocktail hour at the El Rancho Motel was held preceding the installation and the dinner served by the Taste-T Cafe to 75 persons. Officers seated were Bill Gerson, president; Harry McLean, vice president; Francis Silvestri, secretary; Leslie N. Taylor, treasurer, and the following members of the board of directors: Ron Lamson, Howard Cramer, Milton Kornstad, Robert Marvin, Harold Chaney, Patrick Hughes and Russ Smith. James Rea, also a member of the board, was unable to be present for the installation. Serving as installing officer was Dr. Merle Folland of Medford, lieutenant governor of Division 14A of the Northwest district. Mrs. Folland, too, was present at the meeting as a guest. Also special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rice of Medford, Rice is governor of the Kiwanis Northwest district. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Rice and Dr. and Mrs. Folland were eight other visitors from Medford, nine from Ashland, four from Redding and one from the Grenada club. The new member, Harry Taylor, was inducted by Northwest District Governor Rice. Harold Chaney was master of ceremonies for the evening. Chaney served as president of the local Kiwanis club the latter part of last year, succeeding Ralph James, who relinquished his duties as retiring officer when he moved to Redding last summer. Just before the family-style dinner, the group was entertained with three songs sung by a quartet including George Tyler, Martin Webb, Warren Behnke and Walter Garchow.

Regional Roundup

by Cleve Twitchell
Mail Tribune Regional Editor

Abominal snowman type creatures are still being spotted in California these days. We heard about the latest one in a rather roundabout manner. We received a clipping from a newspaper in New Jersey, which published a story datelined Sonora, Calif. Sonora is in central eastern California, only about 400 miles from Medford, but the story came to us via New Jersey.

Part of the story reads like this: "Reports of a screaming, 10-foot monster sent a sheriff's posse into the mountains yesterday looking for a burglar and a bear. The monster reports started Sunday when a man phoned the sheriff's office saying he'd seen the most horrible thing, a human-like creature standing 9 to 10 feet. Then followed reports of weird screaming. Three sheriff's officers heard the screeching yesterday when they went into the area 35 miles east of Sonora between Long Bars and Pine Crest."

The story goes on to say that one of the officers found a 14-inch footprint in light snow, but it was the print of a man's boot. A very unsporting undersheriff was quoted to the effect that he thought the 10-foot monster was probably a bear standing up and that the screaming was nothing more than a mountain lion screech. That's like those unsporting persons who claim that reported spaceship landings were misinterpretations of flocks of geese or 200-watt lightbulbs on the side of a nearby barn.

All of this reminds us that one of these days we want to get over to visit an acquaintance of ours in Talent who has some movie film he shot of a large footprint down in the Happy Camp area. Happy Camp is a nice trot from Sonora, but maybe there's a whole family of these fellows running around.

Those California License Plates
If all the new California license plates on cars in the Yreka area seem to look pretty much the same to you, don't worry about it. They are.

California issued brand new plates for all cars this year for the first time since the mid-fifties. Unlike Oregon's system of auto registration expiring in the same month as it was purchased the year before, registrations of all California vehicles expire on the same date. And so when the new plates were issued this year, the Yreka office of the motor vehicle department apparently received a batch all starting with "AV." If you drive around the streets of town you'll see virtually nothing but AVE, AVF, AVG, AVH, AVJ AVK and AVL.

Zanders Return From California Trip, View Flood Damage

Central Point—Police Chief Ed Zander and his wife Betty have recently returned from points south. In San Francisco, the couple visited with George Zander, Ed's brother, who is employed by the city of San Francisco fire department, although at that time he was recuperating in one of the local hospitals from back surgery. The couple returned via Squaw Valley and Donner lake, and according to Zander the road up Donner pass was completely impassable. Parts of the highway had been washed down the mountain. The Zanders, traveling in a small foreign car, said they too had some anxious moments because of the flood, and the height of the water found along the road.

RECEIVES BADGE
O'Brien—Dale Michaels received his Tenderfoot badge recently at the annual scout awards dinner of Troop 70 which was attended by 49 boys, leaders and parents.

Eagle Point Faculty Members Evaluate Texts

Eagle Point — Eagle Point school faculty members are now serving on evaluation committees to study and select textbooks for grades 1-12 which will be compatible with the school district philosophy and needs.

The subjects in which the new texts will be selected are language, reading, literature, spelling, penmanship, speech, dramatics and journalism.

New language arts textbooks have been adopted by the State Department of Education for the period of July 1, 1963 to June 30, 1969.

Every six years new language arts textbooks are carefully evaluated and selected by the state textbook commission. This program affords a multiple list of textbooks with current revised subject content for school district use. For each subject a multiple list of books ranging from 2 to 5 are authorized for local school selections.

Illinois Valley GOP Discusses Legislation

Illinois Valley — State legislation was discussed at a recent meeting of the Illinois Valley Republican club, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Webb. Mrs. George Kolher suggested some periodicals on government procedure that members of the club could read.

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs Invite Students To Enter UN Contest

By MARY KELL
Mail Tribune Correspondent

Information of the 1963 United Nations essay contest sponsored by Independent Order of Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges in the district of Jackson and Josephine counties has been presented to sophomore and junior students in southern Oregon high schools.

Representatives of the various lodges who are working on the United Nations committee have visited the following high schools: Prospect, Butte Falls, Eagle Point, Ashland, Phoenix, St. Mary's, Medford, Crater, Rogue River, Grants Pass, and Illinois Valley.

All sophomores and juniors in these high schools between 16 and 18 years of age, and whose 18th birthday is not later than August 1, 1963 have the opportunity of entering the contest, which started Jan. 7 and will close March 20, 1963.

Subject

The essay subject is: "What Is The Second Most Important Function of the United Nations?" Each essay must consist of at least 750 words and not more than 1,000 words. Winning essays from each school will be selected by a committee of judges. Those serving as judges will not be members of any Odd Fellow or Rebekah lodge. Winners from each high school will enter in the finals to be held in Medford.

Each contestant will be given a subject by telephone just 72 hours prior to the contest finals. The contestant will speak on subject given for five minutes. Essay scores and speech scores will determine the contest winner from high schools in the area of Jackson and Josephine counties.

The winner will be given an all expense paid trip for 31 days to New York and the United Nations. At the United Nations he will compete with other winners from districts throughout the United States. The United Nations Essay contest in southern Oregon is held in conjunction with others sponsored by Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges on a national basis. The winner here will leave July 1, 1963.

Funds are provided for the winner in this district by each Odd Fellow and Rebekah United Nations Essay contest lodge donation of $30 for the United Nations Essay contest and all expense paid trip.

The United Nations committee is made up of representatives from Odd Fellow and Rebekah lodges in Jackson and Josephine counties. The subject topic was selected by this group who have held meetings during the past months to make preparations for the 1963 contest.

President of the United Nations committee is Paul Blanchard, Grants Pass; Mrs. Cleona Appelgate, Central Point is vice-president; Mrs. Florence Robertson, Grants Pass is secretary; Riley Appelgate is treasurer.

Representatives from the different lodges are Mrs. Evert Jennings, Amethyst Rebekah lodge; and Martin Johnson, Odd Fellows lodge 129 of Gold Hill; F. E. Thompson, Odd Fellows lodge 45, Ashland; Arthur Hinkle, W. L. Couch, and J. J. McDaniel, Odd Fellows lodge Jackson-ville 10; Mrs. Ester Norman and Mrs. Hope Ramsey, Ruth Rebekah lodge, Jacksonville; Frank Logan, Odd Fellows lodge 83 of Medford and Mrs. Cleona Appelgate, Olive Rebekah lodge; Ellsworth Robinson, Odd Fellows lodge 193 Central Point and Mrs. Ellsworth Robinson, Mt. Here's what Mrs. Dean Mason of Klamath Falls says about electric living ...
"Electricity helped us build our home, and now it helps us live a wonderful, comfortable life"

"Electric power tools made building our new home easier and helped us do the job the way we wanted. Naturally, we included all the latest electric conveniences from a dishwasher to outdoor lighting. All-electric living is really a blessing when you have a growing family. I count on electric helpers for cooking, washing, water heating and nearly every household job there is. It's the hardest-working service I know of and is certainly our biggest value."

Thousands of other Pacific Power & Light customers, like Mrs. Mason and her family, live better because they make generous and effective use of modern electric service.

The Mason family certainly keeps me running full time!
