

Reception Honors Couple On Fiftieth Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Anderson, 218 Winema Way, observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary February 5 with a reception at First Methodist church.

Hosts for the event were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Beatty, Medford, son-in-law and daughter of the couple; the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, Vancouver, British Columbia, son and daughter-in-law, and Mrs. Edward Anderson, Phoenix, another daughter-in-law. For the reception Mrs. O. C. Anderson wore a gold locket that she had worn on her wedding date February 5, 1913, and her corsage was of white roses, the same as her wedding bouquet.

White carnations, white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums decorated the social rooms at the church for the event. On the serving table were gold candles and a gold and white musical centerpiece.

Family photographs, including the couple's wedding picture were displayed. At the hour of the couple's wedding, Dr. and Mrs. Milton Snow sang two selections.

Mrs. Clifford Smith, Central Point, a granddaughter, cut and served the anniversary cake she had baked and decorated. Mrs. Margaret Lamb and Mrs. Frances Taylor, members of the Gold Star Mothers club, poured coffee and tea, and Mrs. Ray Harris, Myrtle Point, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Robert Porter was at the gift table.

More than 100 friends attended the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were married in Cass county, Illinois where they made their home until 1942 when they moved to Klamath Falls. They moved to Medford in 1948. The couple are members of the Fifty Plus club of Medford and Mrs. Anderson is a member of the Gold Star Mothers club and the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church.

The couple had five children, eleven grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Children unable to attend the reception were Edward Anderson, Phoenix, and Mrs. Walter Dorsett, Ashland, Ill. Another son, Leland, was killed in World War II.

Thompsons on Trip South

Hornbrook — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson left Wednesday for a two weeks' visit in the southern part of the state.

Visiting them the past few days has been a grandson, Don Suetta, of the U. S. Navy, stationed at the naval base at San Diego. His parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Suetta and Mike and John, are making their home temporarily with the Thompsons. Mrs. Suetta's parents, since the Suetta home was burned January 24.

For a real breakfast treat roll cooked sausages in pancakes and serve hot apple sauce over the tops.

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Anderson, 218 Winema Way, was celebrated at a reception held February 5 at First Methodist church. The Andersons came to Medford in 1948.

This gay and carefree "jockey cap" coiffure is designed in the new "Belle" hair fashion trend by the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists association for the young and very young at heart. The saucy bang suggests the bill of the cap, and can be worn turned upwards in a jaunty flip, or rolled under like the lip of a bell for a highly sophisticated topper to Etou and Chanel jackets. The new coiffure is being featured throughout the country during National Beauty Salon week which opened February 10.

Prospect Club

Richard Lowery. Mrs. Albert Estlin and Mrs. Everett Shaffer will be the speakers. All women interested in joining the club are invited.

MANOR-ISMS . . . .

By ETHELYN EVANS

Two recent elections have furnished excitement for Rogue Manor members, the school consolidation voting on February 11, when, I am happy to report, our members demonstrated real valley citizenship and turned out in crowds to vote — and the Manor election when four of our members, Mrs. Jessie Minear, Mrs. C. W. Woodcock, Mrs. Lawrence McDaniel and Dr. George Breece, were elected to the Manor council.

And, this reminds me that I have never written about the Manor Members' council which was organized several months after the Manor opened and was among the first of such organizations in retirement residences.

Nine Members

There are nine members on this council, elected by the full membership for staggered periods, so there are always some experienced people serving. The present chairman is Col. Ralph Powell. Each council member is responsible for leadership in one specific department of Manor activities, such as services, gardens, religion, hobbies, health center, culture, recreation and programs.

Part of the important work done by the council is collecting and disbursing the recreation and improvement fund. In the very beginning, they had only the generous contributions of individual members, but almost immediately our shops on the ground floor moved in and began making monthly contributions to this fund. Some surplus sales and garden group auctions added money to the fund from time to time. The council has the task of apportioning and allotting this fund on the basis of which department needs what first.

Purchase Items

They have purchased items from the health center; weaving looms, full-length mirror for sewing, woodworking machines, an enameling kiln and articles for mosaic and ceramic work for our hobby devotees; a great deal of equipment for recreation rooms and outdoor recreation activities and many necessary supplies for our gardens. They allocate money to our tables and interior decorating committee, our religious program committee, our library and to the cultural and program committee.

They have recently purchased a portable microphone; they rent our movies for us and have bought a large screen for cinemascope. Heretofore, our ingenious projectors (members all) discovered an unbroken space on one wall of our auditorium and showed these large pictures on that. It worked, but this new screen is surely an improvement.

Council Box

In a council box in the lobby, members deposit any suggestions, recommendations, requests and — yes — complaints. In a membership of more than 325, complaints are sure to pop up. Seemingly, these epistles range from the sublime through the reasonable, useful, amusing to the ridiculous. In this phase of the work, the council is of inestimable assistance to the administrator.

They function as liaison, as a filter. Knowing the policy and desires of the administration, they can often act on minor matters, with the council member responsible for that department putting the idea into operation, referring only the pertinent or more important problems to the Administrator for decisions.

The council serves the members in many respects, such as recommending a change or an alteration in plans, rules or services. A number of former residents have served on the Members' council.

Miss Florence Morris and Mr. Neal McGrady have reported what seems to be the first "brunch" party given in the Manor. They invited friends to the club room for a 10:30 a.m. feast, evidently no so much "brunch" as a breakfast PLUS lunch, both from A-to-Z and both irrefragable.

Seeds Topic for Shady Cove Club

Shady Cove — Growing seeds in and out-of-doors, their care and suitability to the area were the topics of a talk given by Mrs. Carolyn Kelsey during the February meeting of the Shady Cove Garden club. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Chester Galloway.

Flower chairman, Mrs. Floyd Kelley, spoke on wildflowers, their beauty and adaptability to home grounds with landscaping.

The conservation chairman, Mrs. M. Molnar is supervising a poster and essay contest for Shady Cove elementary school children in connection with a state contest. Mrs. Delbert Spain, president, conducted the meeting.

The hostesses were Mrs. Molnar and Mrs. Galloway. A discussion was held concerning a flower show for which no definite date has been set.

The March meeting will be in the home of Mrs. William Cote on Meadow lane. The topic will pertain to birds. Hostesses are to be Mrs. Charles McCann and Mrs. Calloway.

Returns

Hornbrook — Mrs. Ione Graham returned recently from a months' visit with children and grandchildren in Ely and Las Vegas, Nev. While in Ely, Mrs. Graham visited the Kennecott Copper mine, and the old mining town of Ruth nearby, which has now been moved to another location to allow for further mining on the old townsite.

99 Million Consumers Read a Daily Newspaper Each Weekday

These readers make up the largest audience available to any advertiser in any medium. A recent study* of this national newspaper audience shows that it includes 80 per cent of all men and women over 21 . . . and 72 per cent of all teenagers, age 15 and over. This huge and consistent readership can be depended upon by advertisers because the daily newspaper is a habit with most people . . . an established part of their everyday lives. For the national advertiser, this amounts to almost the total market for any product. For the local advertiser, this massive readership symbolizes the local reach of his own local newspaper — into almost 9 out of 10 homes every day. No matter what the product or service an advertiser wants to sell, more people can read about it in the pages of the daily newspaper.
