Canned Corn, Olives In This Casserole

There's a super abundance of canned corn, both cream style and whole kernel. One of the most popular of all canned vegetables, it is often served simply well seasoned with butter, salt, pepper and any additional seasonings such as basil, celery seed, dill, fennel, garlic salt, paprika, finely chopped parsley, green pepper or pimiento.

Here is a fine vegetable dish with surprising piquancy of stuffed olives and unexpected texture of raisins added to whole kernel corn. Six servings.

1½ cup olive or salad oil
1½ cup finely chopped onions
1½ cups finely chopped green peppers
1 medium-sized tomato, chopped
1 1-pound can whole kernel corn, drained and chopped
1½ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon sugar
2 egg yolks
1½ cup chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
1½ cup seedless raisins
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1½ teaspoon thyme

Heat one-fourth cup olive or salad oil; add one-fourth cup onion and one cup green peppers. Cook until onion is tender. Add tomato and cook 10 minutes. Add corn, pepper, sugar and egg yolks and cook, stirring occasionally, 10 minutes. Meanwhile, heat remaining one-fourth cup olive oil and one-half cup green pepper. Cook until onion is tender. Add olives, raisins, eggs and thyme; mix well. Spread half of corn mixture in greased 1-quart baking dish. Top with olive mixture and remaining corn mixture. Garnish with additional olives as desired. Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, 20 minutes.

Enjoy Abundance of Canned Apple Sauce

Canned apple sauce is piled high in local super markets, at surprisingly small cost for so fine a product. Today's apple sauce is a blend of several varieties of apples to give superb flavor and fine texture. You'll want to pick up half a dozen cans when you read these reminders of ways with apple sauce.

Try a liberal sprinkling of marjoram through canned apple sauce for a relish to serve with lamb chops.

Top individual muffin-pan meat loaves with heated canned apple sauce mixed with richly buttered toast crumbs.

Canned apple sauce and canned sauerkraut are a tasty combination to serve with meat. So simple—just blend to taste and heat.

For quick, scintillating dessert: Add cubes of day-old pound cake to chilled canned apple sauce. Sprinkle with nutmeg and 4op with splash of whipped cream.

Cut-up fig bars blended through canned apple sauce are a delicious and simple dessert. For a special touch, add a maraschino cherry. Serve with light cream on the side.

A lusty meat relish is obtained with minor effort by simply blending chopped scalions, chives, pickles or prepared horseradish with canned apple sauce.

Trapeze Artist Slightly Improved

Madison, Wis.—(UPI)—Mary Lou Lawrence, 26-year-old "Hollywood Skyrocket" aerialist who fell 30 feet to a concrete floor, was in a semi-conscious state today.

The trapeze artist was able to talk for the first time since her fall on Friday, a spokesman at Madison General hospital said. Her condition remained critical, although she was showing "slight improvement."

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lawrence, the girl's parents, kept up their bedside vigil.

Mary Lou, billed as the "Hollywood Skyrocket" with the William Kay Circus, suffered a basal skull fracture, a fractured collarbone and possible internal injuries in her fall while trying to switch hands as she swung from a trapeze.

"I just hope she'll never go up again," said her mother. She said she tried to discourage Miss Lawrence from becoming a trapeze performer "but she insisted so I didn't stop her."

When it comes to so-called health foods, the U.S. Food and Drug administration and the American Medical association recently reported that Americans spend about $2 billion annually for health foods "which offer no more protection of health than do the foods readily available at any super market at regular prices." Food fads not only can be expensive but can prove down-right harmful, say the authorities on the subject.

All seem to agree however that people don't need to be fat and the majority subscribe to the old-fashioned notion that "people store fat and become overweight because they eat more than they need."

Calories, day after day, month after month. Monotony but often rewarding.

Many Good Buys
Canned food specials are many right now. Stock up on green beans, corn, tomatoes, pears, peaches, apple sauce, cranberry sauce, sardines, tuna. Watch store displays and the grocery ads in this newspaper.

Rockfish is in greatest abundance along our coast in February. Almost any cooking method is possible with this fish of fine flavor and texture that resembles crab. Now is time to also enjoy crab, oysters, sole filets and sea bass. Plenty of lemon wedges on side!

Best meat buys play no special favorites. Shopping reveals good buys in beef, lamb, pork, both fresh and cured. Vegetable bins feature broccoli, topped carrots, cauliflower, dry onions, celery, potatoes, sweet potatoes, winter squash in interesting variety. Rhubarb has been sighted.

Fruit displays suggest apples, bananas, grapefruit, grapes, navel oranges, winter pears.
