Happy Camp — Classes have been set up in three private homes of Indian creek residents to provide school for the 75 or more stranded students on the other side of the landslide that blocked the road two weeks ago.

Principal of the Happy Camp Union Elementary school, John Sugden, first started holding school in a school bus that had been taken through the slide area, and again crossing the creek with the supplies in a borrowed jeep across a forest service bridge near the slide area.

According to Sugden, the bus-school created problems, so when Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kuehl offered a spare room for the school, Sugden agreed that this would be a better solution. Since that time, two more classrooms have been set up, one at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dempsey Willis and the third at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Attebery.

Books, assignments, folding tables and chairs for these classrooms were taken to the temporary schools by Sugden and any help that he could find, across Indian creek on a foot-log around the slide area, and again crossing the creek with the supplies in a borrowed jeep across a forest service bridge near the slide area.

According to one parent of an Indian creek student, anyone who had had to use the footlog knows what a terrific job that was done by the principal in getting supplies up there to the students.

Classes are being taught there by Mr. and Mrs. Dave Maxon, members of the elementary school faculty, and Mrs. Victor Duesenberry, a substitute teacher, all living on the other side of the slide.

Construction is progressing slowly at the slide site and guesses range from one week to two weeks before the road will be declared safe for the passage of the school bus. Work on the slide is being done by V and K Logging company of Happy Camp and the Siskiyou County Road department crews.

The county crews have been drilling the bluff during the night for blasting to move the rock faster during the day. Only small blasts can be set off due to the homes nearby.

New Road Planned
A very fine piece of roadway is predicted to replace the narrow one-lane section that was completely closed due to the slide. In order to remove the slide to make the road safe, the equipment had to go to the top of the slide and work toward the bottom.

Since the work involves the moving of a huge piece of solid overhanging bluff the work was slowed down more than was expected at the first report. The road is closed from 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. for all traffic including pedestrians, due to the falling rocks. The slide is about three miles north of Happy Camp.

Grants Pass School District Tax Levy Will Go Up 12 Mills

Grants Pass — The budget committee for Grants Pass City School District No. 7 this week approved a proposed budget of $2,330,570 for the 1963-64 school year, with an estimated millage levy of 66.1, approximately 12 mills above last year's assessment.

City School Superintendent Ralph E. Jones said that about 4 mills of the tax jump is due to the fact that the country's contribution has been cut to the $10 minimum per census child. In recent years more than $30 per child was received from this source.

Other factors responsible for the tax boost include loss of tuition fees from the county school district, which opened its own junior high schools this year; the addition of seven teachers to provide for next year's expected enrollment increase of 200 to 250 students; and the cost of maintaining added classrooms and buildings constructed during the past year.

Teachers salaries would be set 5 1/2 per cent above the 1962-63 schedule, for a total increase of about $73,000. Salaries on the new schedule range from $4,800 for a beginning teacher with a bachelor's degree to $7,500 for a 14-year teacher with a master's degree.

The committee trimmed approximately $25,000 from the amount originally requested for operation of district schools next year, and set a salary schedule $20,000 below that originally submitted by the Teachers Welfare committee at its first appearance before the budget group in December.

STURDY OLD BRIDGE—One of the Highway 62 bottlenecks that will be avoided when the 6.5 miles bypass of Prospect, now under construction by the Bureau of Public Roads, is completed is this bridge just south of the community of Prospect. Built around 1918, the bridge has withstood both high water and numerous accidents. Logging trucks, autos and trailer houses have been involved in collisions on it, apparently because the bridge is narrow and is situated between two curves, making it difficult for drivers to see approaching traffic. The bridge will still be in use after the new road is completed, but through traffic using the bypass will no longer have to go over it.

APPLAGATE VALLEYITES PLAN MUSICAL COMEDY TO RAISE FUNDS FOR GRANGE FLOOR
Applegate Valley — People of Applegate valley and other areas are cooperating in presenting a musical comedy on March 30, proceeds to go for a new floor in the Upper Applegate grange hall.

The floor is to replace the present cement flooring which is said to be unsatisfactory where warmth and ease of dancing are concerned. Approximate cost of flooring is $400.

The comedy is written and produced by Mrs. Edna Sawyer, and is titled, "Mother Goose Lives Again." Mrs. Lora Scott and Mrs. Clifton Childers are assisting Mrs. Sawyer in the production. R.J. Richey of Medford will act as master of ceremonies, and Boyd Gibson, principal of Ruch school, will be the narrator.

The comedy will be presented at Ruch school auditorium.

APPLAGATE VALLEY — Harley Hall of Little Applegate is a successful archery hunter, having recently killed an elk dressing 380 pounds in the Coquille unit on the Coos river.

Hall says this is his first big game with bow and arrow, although he has been practicing for some time and has killed rabbits and a cougar. He was accompanied on the trip by Dan Patch of Medford.

WORK UNDER WAY—Work has started on construction of the new annex to the Siskiyou County Hospital, which is to be finished one year from the starting date. The contract was awarded to the A. J. McMurray Construction Company at a cost of $708,539. This new unit will hold rooms for surgery, x-ray, lab, maternity and delivery, morgue, autopsy and a new central supply system. The present recreation room will be taken into this unit. When the move into the new quarters is made, then the remodeling of the present hospital will begin, so that it can hold more beds. The money for this project was raised by subscription and by grants.

Shady Cove Grange Members Hear Talk On Oregon Statistics

Shady Cove — The Shady Cove Grange held its regular bi-monthly meeting Saturday, Feb. 16 at the Shady Cove School gym with Master Johnie Minor presiding.

Several members volunteered to build a backdrop for the Shady Cove school.

A committee report was given by Cecil Kee on the new Shady Cove Planning commission. Other reports included the agricultural report by Mrs. Frank Linden, community service report by Mrs. Marguerite Pote and legislative report by Johnie Minor.

Mrs. Chester Calloway, lecturer, gave a resume of Oregon statistics.

Visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Fulton of the Butte Falls Grange. Fulton sang a solo during the entertainment period accompanied by Mrs. Charles Wells at the piano.

Shady Cove — Newcomers to Shady Cove are Mr. and Mrs. Max Carpenter who have purchased the Abernathy residence and are living there now. They also have property in Eagle Point where they are planning to build in the future. The Carpenters came to the area from Aptos, Calif. Their son, Don Carpenter and wife also came up to the area from California and are living in Medford.

Other newcomers to the area are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis and two small daughters from Grants Pass. Davis is employed by the Bureau of Public Roads and expects to be working in the area for about six months. They are renting the old Paul Davis home next to the Dresser's at Trail.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Phillips of Central Point are renting the Peterson house while they are building a new home in Sams Valley. They expect to be able to move into it shortly.
