

IT HURTS! - Delphine Fuqua, 3, lets out a yowl as she gets inoculated (where it hurts the worst) against a virus infection at Cook County Hospital in Chicago. Nurse Lina Barga does the inoculating while Delphine's mother, Clara, does the holding. Nearly 15,000 children, most of them suffering from upper respiratory infections, have come to the hospital in the past four weeks, keeping doctors and nurses busy around the clock. (UPI)

Morse Defends Mediation Role

Washington - (UPI) - Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) declared Wednesday Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio) had made an "insulting speech" about his mediation role in the recent dock strike settlement. Morse took the Senate floor on a point of personal privilege to cleanse what he called "this slur in the record" on the work of the special three-member presidential mediation board. Morse was named chairman of the board by President Kennedy. The Oregon Democrat charged that Lausche had "shown a gross ignorance of the whole dispute." The verbal exchange started Tuesday when Lausche said that because of Morse's "predispositions and ideologies" it was "impossible for him to be what you might call an impartial arbitrator." Morse fired back: "Obviously, the senator from Ohio doesn't know the difference between arbitration and mediation." Morse said if compulsory arbitration had been used, it would have cost the ship lines twice as much as the settlement worked out by his more "informal" mediation board.

Inter-Community Council Discusses Role of Guidance

The Jackson County Inter-Community Council this week discussed the role of the Family and Child Guidance Clinic in the community and the services and functions of the Commission for the Blind at a meeting at the District Office of the Commission for the Blind.

Dr. E. A. Merkel, administrator of the health department, and Miss Donna Gilkey and Miss Ethel Shumway, psychiatric social workers, represented the Family and Child Guidance Clinic, and discussed the background of that organization and its growth and expansion of services throughout the years. It was pointed out that the clinic offers psychiatric diagnosis and treatment to individuals, families and children who are experiencing emotional problems, which affect their personal and social adjustment.

Community clinics in the state served 2,700 patients at a total cost of only $240,000. Clyde Richardson, rehabilitation counselor for the Commission for the Blind, explained the programs available to the blind. The center deals with blind adults 16 years old or older and 50 per cent of those served are beyond the age of 60.

This percentage mounts annually as longevity increases and represents a real challenge to the community. Most of the people served by the center have lost their vision late in life and only between 5 to 20 per cent are employable. Rehabilitation and retraining are the main problems to be dealt with. The Inter-Community Council will meet again March 19 at the Red Cross building.

Heart Sunday is Sunday, Feb. 24, and neighborhood volunteers will make door-to-door calls from 1 to 5 p.m. seeking contributions and distributing literature on heart disease. A plea has been issued for more Heart Sunday volunteers from Bill Brooks, vice chairman of the Medford campaign, and Mrs. Robin Heide-man, Heart Sunday chairman.

Scientists Ready To Launch Balloon

San Diego, Calif. - (UPI) - Scientists made final preparations today for launching a balloon they hope will give the highest infrared radiation measurements ever recorded by such a method. The balloon will be launched Friday, weather permitting, by General Dynamics Astronautics scientists to study the amount of infrared radiation absorption by the atmosphere up to altitudes of 22 miles or more. Dr. Fred G. Casei of Astronautics said he hoped the test would provide information to assist in designing military space detection systems. The flight also is expected to furnish astronomical and meteorological data.

The atmosphere 22 miles up is almost like the environment that is reached by a satellite at a much higher altitude, Casei said, yet a balloon launch costs from 100 to 1,000 times less than a satellite launch. The polyethylene balloon, which will have a diameter of 128 feet when fully inflated, will be sent aloft from an Army test site near Yuma, Ariz., and is expected to land near Tucson, Ariz., six to ten hours later.

Legislator Testifies At Labor Hearing

Portland - (UPI) - A National Labor Relations Board hearing in which Western Wirebound Box Co. charged a local of the International Woodworkers of America with unfair labor practices wound up Wednesday with a state legislator as a witness. Rep. Robert S. Packwood (R-Portland) was called by attorney William F. Lubersky, representing the company. Packwood, an attorney, was asked to identify affidavits he took from plant employees last October after alleged incidents. The firm charged the union with harassment at the picket line. The dispute came out of a June strike. The plant reopened Sept. 24 with non-union help.

NLRB Examiner Martin Bennett gave both sides until March 20 to submit briefs.

Quotes From the News

By UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL
Green Bay, Wis. - Harry Hebard, the 16-year-old youth who killed his father, his stepmother and her three children because he felt left out of the family circle: "I guess I expect to go to reform school until I am 18. After that I don't know what'll happen. I don't care any more."

Washington - Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.), defending his visits to expensive night clubs during his well-publicized tour of Europe: "When you go to Paris you can't spend all your time in Notre Dame (Cathedral)."

Chicago - Dr. W. W. Bauer, commenting on influenza which is on the attack throughout the nation: "Once you're invaded by a flu virus, there isn't anything you can do but get sick. . . . Nobody is inherently immune from influenza. A weak, sickly looking person can withstand an invasion as well as a conditioned athlete."

Cambridge, Mass. - Mrs. Mary I. Bunting, the president of Radcliffe College, offering her views on pre-marital sex relation problems: "Tucking promiscuity away is no longer a sensible solution. . . . college officials have not faced the problem of pre-marital sexual relations as squarely as they should."

4-H NEWS

Antelope Club - Jennifer Nevin discussed muffin baking at a meeting of the Antelope 4-H Clothing and Cooking club recently in the home of Mrs. Morton Pritchard.

Karen Greb was a visitor at the meeting. Jennifer explained to the second year members that some girls get good results with thin muffin batter, while others get satisfactory results with thicker batter.

Mrs. John Bohner, cooking club leader, quizzed older girls on meat cookery. The members discussed plans for a buffet supper late in March.

A tour of Fluhner's Bakery, planned Feb. 16, was postponed because the bakery is being remodeled. The date of the next meeting is Feb. 23, at the home of Mrs. Don Anderson. It is to be a sewing workshop for the third-year girls.

Hornbrook Club - A Hornbrook, Calif., 4-H club was organized in January and held its first meeting recently at the Grange hall.

A number of suggestions were made as to the adoption of an official name for the club, and it was finally voted to call it the Hornbrook 4-H club. The following officers were elected: president, Bob Hutchins; vice president, John Suetta; secretary, Bev Hutchins; treasurer, Susan Peters; song leader, Kathy Slavens; reception leader, Duane Grieb; reporter, John Snyder, and official photographer, Tommy Watt.

The beef project will be led by Frank Suetta and Marion Grieb; light horse management by Jack Wayne and John Snyder. Chuck Webb will head the dairying group, and Frank Bear the garden project. Food preparation will be conducted by Mrs. Alberta Hutchins, and the clothing project leader will be Mrs. Marion Grieb, temporarily, until a permanent leader can be found. The next meeting date for the club is Monday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the Grange hall.

Fish, Game Demand Said Increasing

Salem - (UPI) - The public demand for fish and game services is mounting rapidly, the State Game Commission said Wednesday, but funds to meet the demand are not. Director Phil Schneider and public information officer Robert Holloway testified before the House Committee on Fish and Game.

A bill has been introduced to raise hunting and fishing license fees, which provide most of the money for the commission's program - $8 million for the current biennium.

Schneider and Holloway said the public demand is growing for new hunting and fishing areas, more fish and game stocks, boating facilities, conservation, safety programs, and better enforcement.

They said the demand cannot be met without additional revenues to expand current programs.

NEW OBERTI RIPE OLIVES

Ascolano RIPE OLIVES

Ascolano variety olives are famous for their size, tenderness and rich, nut-like flavor. They have more olive meat in relation to pit than any other canned ripe olive variety. Remember Oberti - It's the Big Olive!
