Congregational Accepts Plans for New Building

The members of the Congregational church approved and accepted the preliminary plans for their new sanctuary and educational unit at a congregational meeting last Sunday.

The meeting was held at Hoover Grade school where the church is presently meeting for worship and church school while plans are being made for the construction on new facilities.

The meeting was presided over by T. R. McLean, moderator of the church. Gatewood G. Smith, building committee chairman, presented drawings of the preliminary plans that have been drafted by the church's architect, Warren Weber, AIA, of Portland.

The plans call for the building of a new church of contemporary design at the corner of East Jackson st. and Berkeley way, two blocks east of Hedrick Junior High school. The proposed sanctuary would seat more than 250 persons. The frame structure will feature arches that rise 55 feet above the floor. The educational unit would provide classroom and meeting space for more than 150 children and young people, and could be used in part as fellowship hall. 'What Is Lent, How Celebrated?' To Be Subject

"What is Lent and how is it celebrated in the liturgical churches of Christendom?" Medford clergymen will be discussing this question on Ministers' Roundtable this week end.

The Rev. John Ilg of Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, the Rev. George R. V. Bolster of St. Mark's Episcopal church, and the Rev. John Simon of St. Peter's Lutheran church will join the Rev. Charles R. McDonald of St. Luke's Methodist church in the discussion.

Mr. Bolster will be responsible for presenting the historical background of Lent and its festival days including Ash Wednesday and Father Ig will serve as the resource leader for the discussion of Lenten observance in both the church and the home.

Pastor Simon will lead a discussion of the spiritual significance of Lent and the benefits the individual worshipper might expect to experience in keeping Lent. He will give attention to Passion Sunday, which is one of the lesser known and sometimes misunderstood days in Lent. Pastor McDonald will serve as moderator.

Better Understanding This week's program was planned with the non-liturgically oriented audience in mind. Since Time magazine discussed the "Liturgical Renaissance" in America's churches over a year ago, the public has become more aware of the deep spiritual experience that may come to the worshipper through participation in a liturgical service.

This week's Roundtable is being produced to provide the Medford audience with a better understanding of Lent as it is celebrated in the liturgical churches that the people of Medford might better share with one another the rich heritage the various churches of our community contribute to the Easter season.

Roundtable may be viewed on Saturday, Feb. 23, over station KMGD-TV, Channel 10, at 11:05 a.m. and broadcast over radio station KMGD Sunday at 8:05 a.m.

The public is invited to send questions or make suggestions for future programs. All questions and suggestions should be addressed to Ministers' Roundtable, Station KMGD, Medford.
