

Pre-Lenten Pancakes Make Hearty, Versatile Meals

The days just prior to Lent, particularly Shrove Tuesday, traditionally mean pancakes—a time when the versatile little cake goes beyond the breakfast table and appears at both luncheon and dinner. Delicately browned, fluffy, tender pancakes adapt easily to a scrumptious variety of sauces.

Almost as traditional as the pancake itself is Tabasco, the spicy liquid red pepper seasoning from Louisiana. This piquant sauce adds just the right amount of zest to a chicken-celery-wine sauce, a combination mushroom-cheese sauce, and a ginger-flavored pineapple sauce to be poured over pancake-ham rolls.

Many cooks prefer making their pancakes "from scratch" but of course, there are many fine pancake and mixes which give excellent results.

MARDI GRAS CHICKEN PANCAKES

Two tablespoons butter; two tablespoons flour; one and one-half teaspoon salt; two cups milk; three-fourth teaspoon Tabasco; one egg yolk; one-half cup celery, diced; one cup cooked chicken; one-fourth cup white wine; 12 pancakes.

In top of double boiler, melt butter; blend in flour and salt. Slowly add milk and Tabasco a little at a time, stirring until smooth. Cook until sauce is thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Blend small amount of sauce into egg yolk and return mixture to double boiler. Stir in celery and chicken; add wine, if desired. Prepare 12 pancakes using your favorite recipe. Keep warm in low oven until ready to serve. Serve chicken sauce over stacks of 6 pancakes. Slice stacks to serve.

Yield, four to six servings. (Approximately three cups sauce).

MARDI GRAS HAM PANCAKE ROLLS

One tablespoon cornstarch; one teaspoon sugar; one-half teaspoon salt; one-eighth teaspoon ginger; one can (one pound, four ounces) pineapple
