Oran Street Urchins Placed in Schools

Oran, Algeria — (UPI) — Some 200 Oran street urchins who earn their living by shining shoes were rounded up Thursday, put out of business and into school. The move followed last Sunday's herding of shoe shine boys in Algiers into an auditorium on order of Premier Ahmed Ben Bella. The youngsters learned they would be sent to government-paid vocational schools. Ben Bella has said that the parents of the youngsters will receive a subsidy equal to what the children brought home to the families for their work.
